Father of Year Is Parkdale Orchardist

Hood River — Lewis Merz, Parkdale orchardist, this noon was named Oregon's father of the year.

The announcement was made at a civic club luncheon by Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, Bend, a member of the Oregon Cow Belles' selection committee.

Oregon's Father of the Year owns and operates an apple and pear orchard. He is the father of seven children, Judith, 18, Patricia, 16, Mari-lou, 15, Ruth, 14, Susan, 12, Lewis, 9 and Bette Anne, 7.

Merz was one of 17 statewide entries. He is nominated by the Hood River Empire Builders, a 4-H youth organization $100 beef certificate, a leather-crafted custom-made kit and the sponsoring group will receive a traveling trophy.

Bethpage, N. Y. — (UP) — Douglas Kitchen, 8, found a dandy place to hide during a game of hide-and-seek Tuesday. "It" never found him. Neither did the next "it," nor the next. Douglas finally gave up and yelled when he heard the other boys starting home. It took the Nassau county police emergency squad, with an electric saw, to cut Douglas out of his hiding place in a 25-gallon oil drum.
