Argentina Bank Clerks in Riot

Buenos Aires—UPI—Seven thousand striking bank clerks facing loss of their jobs, wrecked large sections of downtown Buenos Aires Thursday night in a battle with police that raged up and down the city's streets.

More than 100 persons were injured, some of them badly enough to be carried away by ambulance. Police arrested 128. One person was killed.

The strikers, threatened with mass dismissal from their jobs today, smashed store windows, ripped down trolley wires and hurled bricks and heavy wooden clubs at police.

The clerks went on strike five weeks ago today to support demands for a raise of 1,500 pesos ($18.75) a month. The counter offer was 800 pesos ($10).

The government delivered an ultimatum saying that any clerk who did not return to work today would be dismissed and replaced by newly-hired permanent help.

All 27 were charged with conspiring to obstruct justice and defraud the United States in an indictment handed down by a New York federal grand jury. Three faced additional charges of perjury. Thirty-six other Apalachin delegates were named as co-conspirators but not defendants.

The six men being sought are John T. Scallish, Cleveland, Ohio; Frank Cucchiarra, Watertown, Mass.; Salvatore Falcone, Utica, N.Y.; Joseph Ida, Highland Park, N.J.; James C. Laduca, Buffalo, N.Y.; and Antonio Magaddino, Niagara Falls, N.Y.
