LYLE F. HALEY

Funeral services for Lyle Frederic Haley, 57, of 155 Reager st., who died in a Portland hospital Thursday, will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Chapel Mortuary. The Rev. John S. Power, assistant rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, will officiate. Interment will be in Memory Gardens Memorial park.

Casket bearers will be fellow workers in the Medford Corporation.

The body will lie in state at the mortuary tomorrow.

Mr. Haley, the son of Fred and Ida May Courtwright Haley, was born in Arcata, Calif., on Jan. 10, 1902. He came to Medford in 1937, and for the past 21 years has been a millworker at the Medford Corporation. He was a member of the Lumber and Sawmill Worker's union, local number 2715.

On May 10, 1947, in Medford, he was married to Marjorie Anderson, who survives.

Other survivors include his mother, Mrs. Ida Haley, of Crescent City, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Lorena Cordell, Crescent City; and a nephew, Vern L. Still, North Highland, California.

ADDRESSES SAFETY BANQUET—Clyde Fichtner, Medford police captain and treasurer of the Medford Safety Council, addressed the annual banquet given members of the city's school patrol Friday night. To the far left is Gregg Orr, a council director. Next is the Rev. John Ilg, of Sacred Heart Catholic church in Medford. Partially hidden by Father Ilg is Rudy Tetreault, another director. Partly hidden by Fichtner is C. D. Larson, safety council president. A total of 158 patrolmen, a record number, received pins, certificates and pen and pencil sets at the banquet. Packets containing the items were presented patrol captains from each school. Approximately 300 persons filled the lunchroom at Medford high school.

Charles R. Cooley Mill Workers Grants Pass, Dies

Grants Pass - Charles R. Cooley, 66, prominent Southern Oregon resident, died suddenly at his home here Friday afternoon apparently from a heart attack.

Cooley was born Feb. 10, 1893 at Kenesaw, Neb., the son of J. H. and Alice Cooley. He moved to Medford in 1909 and was graduated from Medford High school in 1911.

He was currently chairman of the insurance trust of Western Retail Lumbermen's association and a member of the Rogue Valley Manor board of directors. He was active in the American Legion, masonic organizations, the Rotary club and other fraternal groups.

Cooley owned a half interest in the Craterian theatre building in Medford, and owned the Lithia hotel in Ashland as well as other properties in this area.

He entered the lumber business at the age of 18, and became president of the Three Cs Lumber company and a partner in Southern Oregon Yard Supply company.

He is survived by his widow, Emma Lou Cooley; a sister, Mrs. Grace Collins, Medford; and two nephews, Neil and John Collins, Medford.

Funeral services are to be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Bethany Presbyterian church here. L. B. Hall Funeral home is in charge of arrangements. Graveside services at Hillcrest Memorial park are also scheduled.

Dunlap Held For Removal

Charles Palmer Dunlap, 53, of Chehalis, Wash., was lodged in Jackson county jail with bail set at $2,500 by U.S. Commissioner Frank J. Van Dyke following a hearing in federal court here for his removal to Washington state on a federal complaint.

Dunlap, who was arrested by Medford police May 6 on a check charge, is also charged with violation of the federal statute of interstate transportation of a forged check. During his arraignment Tuesday on the federal charge he requested the removal hearing.

Following the hearing testimony it was ruled by the court that the government had shown probable cause for Dunlap's detention. He will be taken to Tacoma, Wash., early this week by the U.S. marshal.

Dunlap is charged with the forging of a $1,000 check drawn on the Union bank, Panorama City, Calif., and given to the Oaks Motor company, Chehalis, where he purchased an automobile.

Two witnesses testified for the government during the Friday hearing. No witnesses were called by the defense counsel, Warren Lesseg, Medford attorney. Assistant U.S. Attorney George Juba, Portland, presented the government's case.

YANKEE REBELS

Tallahassee, Fla. - UPI - The Florida House passed a bill Friday providing fines of up to $100 or 30 days in jail for defiling "by word or act" the Confederate flag. The only dissenter was Rep. W. C. Herrell, a former resident of Battle Creek, Mich.

Alaska Courts' Control Disputed

San Francisco - UPI - The U.S. Court of Appeals has set June 12 for a hearing on whether U.S. district courts in Alaska still have jurisdiction in criminal cases now that the territory has become a state.

The court has three appeals pending which contend the district courts no longer have jurisdiction because they are not constitutional.

The judges have not been given lifetime appointments as required by the constitution for federal courts in the United States.

While still a territory, Alaska's district courts had general jurisdiction as created by Congress. The courts have continued to operate on an interim basis since Jan. 3, when Alaska became the 49th state.

The appeals were filed by Curtis Kay Koster, of Fairbanks, convicted forger; Audie W. Deere, Fairbanks, convicted drunk driver; and Leonard W. Parker, Anchorage, who is accused of stealing $300 worth of copper wire.

Falling Logs Fatal to Driver

Eugene - UPI - Vincent Sherman, 54, of Blue River, died at Eugene Hospital and Clinic yesterday from injuries suffered when his car was smashed by logs falling from a log truck.

The accident occurred near Blue McKenzie lodge, about 43 miles east of Eugene, Friday morning.

State police said Sherman was traveling east on Highway 126. The loaded west-bound log truck, driven by Billy Lee Lowry, 26, of Leaburg, started to shift its load and the logs fell from the left side of the truck just as Sherman's car reached the spot.

Sherman veered his car in an attempt to avoid the cascade of logs, state police reported, and his car was almost on the shoulder when it was struck.
