

Dairy Maids Split With Seattle Nine

Portland (UPI) - American Linen Whirlwinds defeated Eugene 4-0 in a Northwest Women's Major Softball league game Sunday night as Marge Grant pitched her second no-hit, no-run game in two nights.

Eugene was blanked 11-0 Saturday night.

In another game Sunday, Vancouver defeated Salem at Vancouver 15-4.

Memorial Stadium, Camp White - Rogue Valley Dairy Maids romped for nine runs in the second inning here yesterday and went on to a 10 to 4 win for a series split with the Seattle Ramblers in the Northwest Women's Major Softball league.

Seattle won Saturday night 5 to 0.

Sunday's triumph was the third against a like number of losses for the Dairy Maids in the loop and Seattle, which made its 1959 debut over the week end, is 1-1.

Janet Pfaff and Bernice Bigham swatted singles off Rambler twirler Alice Jorgensen in the big second frame. The veteran chucker gave up five bases on balls in the frame and hit a batter with a pitch. Four errors contributed to the scoring along with a fielder's option, a passed ball, a couple of wild pitches and a swiped base.

Pitches Two-Hitter

The other Maid marker was in the fifth inning when Jean Main got on base on an error, advanced to third on Pat Barron's hit and tallied on another miscue.

Rogue Valley tosser Ellen Callaghan held the Washingtonians to two hits but issued eight bases on balls, four of them in innings in which the Ramblers scored. Seattle gained two runs on the second panel on a walk, Jorgensen's three-base slap and a wild pitch. The other two were in the sixth inning on three bases on balls, a fielder's option and a single, which drove in both counters, by Becky Sisley.

The Maids collected three hits off Jorgensen who handed out seven bases on balls and struck out one in two innings on the hill. Marie Hoidal yielded two hits and fanned four in her four innings of relief. Callaghan struck out seven.

On Saturday night Hoidal shut out the Dairy Maids with one hit over the seven inning route. She whiffed seven and walked just one. Only three Dairy Maids got on base. Callaghan singled in the first inning for the only Rogue Valley hit.

Jorgensen Triples

Seattle in the Saturday mix tagged Pitcher Pat Barron for nine hits. A triple by Jorgensen, double by Darlene Peterson and an error got the Ramblers two runs in the second inning. Three runners crossed home in the sixth on a double by Monty Parshall and singles by Sisley, June Johnson and Diane Darnell.

Barron walked only one during the fracas.

Good fielding helped the winners each night. Only one error was charged to Seattle on Saturday and only one to the Maids yesterday. Second Baseman Shirley Hansen on Saturday caught a fly ball and then tagged her base for an unassisted double play for the Maids.

Darnell of the Ramblers suffered a leg injury on Saturday and it was a question for a while yesterday as to whether the Seattle team would play short handed or forfeit and play a game by filling out with a Rogue Valley player. They brought only nine softballers. Outfielder Parshall was shaken up in a collision at second base yesterday and the Ramblers played their last inning in the field with only eight players.

Friday night at Madison Square Garden, heavyweight contender Nino Valdes-ranked sixth-engaged unranked Alonzo Johnson. Their 10-rounder will be televised and broadcast by NBC.

For Wednesday's fight, Anthony of New York is favored at 13-5 to beat Bowdry of St. Louis because of his speed, punch and greater experience. In his last bout, Anthony outpointed Sonny Ray, who handed Bowdry his only three defeats.

Gearhart hotel and Pepsi Cola of Medford took over team leads in the annual Southern Oregon Handicap tourney which opened over the week end at Medford Bowling lanes.

The Gearhart men topped men's teams with a 297 and Pepsi Cola the ladies with 2801.

The tournament continues mostly on week ends through June 28 and indications are that it will be the biggest ever.

Men's leaders in other categories of action are Lyle Donnelly, Drain, 692, in singles; Darrell Love and Jim McKinnon, Crescent City, Calif., 1282, in doubles; Barney Hibbard, Eureka, Calif., 1914, in all-events and Cliff Proctor, Medford, 259, in high game.

Giants, Dodgers Change Scene

Los Angeles (UPI) - The Giants and Dodgers continued their "home-and-home" series today, but switched the location from Los Angeles to San Francisco where lefthanders Johnny Podres and Mike McCormick were the opposing hurlers.

The Giants not only captured two of three games here in the current series, winning the Sunday game, 6-1, but broke a three-day home run drought in the Coliseum as Orlando Cepeda, Bob Schmidt and Willie Mays all hit for four baggers.

With homers accounting for five runs, Giant Hurler Jack Sanford had an easy time disposing of the Dodgers. He gave up but five hits and might have had a shutout but for Duke Snider's punch single in the fifth that drove in a run.

Sanford's teammates won the game for him in the first inning when Cepeda homered with Mays on base. It was the eighth straight game in which the Giant first baseman has hit safely and it was his eighth homer of the season.
