

Gold Hill Groups, School Hold Year-End Programs

Gold Hill—Several Gold Hill groups, which will vacation during the summer months, held recent end-of-the-year activities.

Officers for the ensuing year were installed at the final meeting of the Gold Hill Parent-Teacher association in the Hanby school gymnasium. H. D. Force, retiring president of the unit, opened the business session that evening. He expressed his appreciation to all members of the association for the cooperation given during his term of office, and especially to all of committee chairmen who gave their time and cooperation during the year.

Mrs. Cecil Johnson, a past president of the local group, was installing officer. New officers are Mrs. Ogden Kellogg, president; Mrs. Leonard McMahan, vice-president; Mrs. Bryan Brown, secretary, and Mrs. Vernon Czumowski, treasurer.

A past president's pin was presented to the outgoing president by the new president officer on behalf of the unit.

"Why do we come to PTA?" was the topic of Mrs. Kellogg's message to the parents and teachers. She stressed that everyone's help is needed and that constructive ideas are welcomed. Members of the unit and teachers participated in an opinion poll, so that the incoming officers could obtain suggestions and criticisms from all present.

Ogden Kellogg reported that the auditing committee had audited the treasurer's books and commended Mrs. Jerry Herrington for the efficient work she had done as treasurer the past year. Mrs. Kellogg named her committee chairmen for the ensuing year. They include Mrs. George Allen, program; Mrs. Herrington and Mrs. Hamilton Ecker, ways and means; Mrs. Kenneth Fluck, hospitality; Mrs. Harold Hocker, room representative; Gilbert Mack, parliamentarian; Mrs. Lester Wakeman, membership, and Mrs. Clyde Kell, publicity.

Mrs. Marie Brannock, Patrick school teacher, played the piano as Mrs. Ida von Buskirk, Hanby teacher, recited the poem, "Home."

A talk given by Warren Holbrook, art coordinator for the schools in district 6-C, was a feature of the meeting. He pointed out to the group that art correlates with the other school subjects. Youngsters of Hanby and Patrick schools exhibited art work of their various class activities during the past school year.

Mr. Holbrook said that a student communicates through pictures and that his emotions, the way he feels and the way he expresses himself are reflected in his art work.

Students of the two schools and their teachers arranged displays of class projects in Hanby school gymnasium. Science exhibits included work of the fourth through the eighth grades. Art exhibits consisted of charcoal, crayon, water-color, chalk, poster and finger paints, cut paper work, and paper sculpture.

About 60 boys and 20 girls from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades exhibited various craft projects.

Dean Roberts' seventh and eighth grade boys displayed leather, plastic, soft wood and metal articles. Eighth grade boys exhibited several model kits.

Allen Hill's sixth grade exhibited copper pictures, leather items and foot stools.

Gold Hill Home Extension unit held its last meeting until fall, Wednesday, May 20.

Mrs. Jack Cline was hostess. Officers installed included Mrs. Rex Allison, president; Mrs. Dorothy Beck, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Hocker, secretary; Mrs. Ivan Governor, treasurer and cheer-up chairman. Mrs. Leonard McMahan, luncheon chairman; Mrs. Jerry Jerolaman, retiring president, program planning, and Mrs. Bob Gray, publicity.
