Man Injured in Thursday Accident

One man suffered shoulder and upper arm injuries and was taken to the Camp White infirmary and another man was jailed following a single car accident about 10:20 a.m. Thursday, state police said.

Officers reported that the auto registered to James Arlin Amsberry, 45, Fairview, Ore., slid, hit the ditch and rolled upside down at the intersection of Table Rock rd. and Modoc rd.

Amsberry apparently was only slightly injured but another occupant of the vehicle, Russell Lowell Stanton, 64, section 1, Veterans Administration domiciliary, suffered the shoulder injury and was taken to the infirmary by Medford Ambulance service.

Police said they had not determined definitely who was driving the vehicle. They reported that Amsberry was placed in the county jail on a drunk on a public highway citation.

Central Point rural firemen were called because of the gasoline spilled from the car and stood by with two trucks.

London - (UPI) - A court turned down the plea Thursday of spiritualist Frank Webb, 47, for a divorce because "the vibrations are all wrong" in his wife's house and he was not getting good spirit reception.
