

14 Teachers Are Guests at Kiwanis Club Meeting

Fourteen teachers of the Medford school district and of St. Mary's school were special guests of Medford Kiwanis club Wednesday at an "appreciation day" luncheon meeting at Rogue Valley Country club.

Roy Gilbertson, principal at Hoover Grade school, speaking for teachers who have been for some time in the Medford system, praised the solid, conservative approach to education here.

He pointed out that the school system here does not take on new things until they are proven to be good. He mentioned the flexibility of the program here and to the individualizing of education. Superior education is being given to our children here, Gilbertson declared.

Mrs. Carol Kelly, Hedrick Junior High school, spoke for new teachers in Medford.

Other Teachers
Other teachers attending were Robert Semon, the senior high school; Dale Bates McLoughlin Junior high; Jerold Martin, Hoover; Mrs. Lucille Stroh, Jackson; Miss Mary Lou Hanke, Jefferson; Mrs. Donna Witter, Lincoln; Mrs. Mary Carlon, Oak Grove; Mrs. Betty Pruett, Oak Grove; Mrs. Ella Elle, Washington; Mrs. Joanne Wickman, West Side; Mrs. Virginia Ferguson, Wilson, and Donald Sweeney, St. Mary's.

It was pointed out that three members of the Kiwanis club are teachers, Lindsey Vinsel and Irv Miric, senior high school, and E. Ron Rice, Howard.

W. H. Simpkins, known as "Buttons" in the circus world, was on the program, and Mrs. Ed Barnett, president of Medford Kiwanian Dames, presented a $140 check to the club. The funds will go to the Kiwanis-sponsored dental clinic.

Dwight Crozier, Iron Rite sales manager, was introduced as a new Kiwanian.

Assembly Held at Cave Junction

Cave Junction — Mike Whitley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Whitley and valedictorian of the 1939 graduating class of the Illinois Valley High school, was presented the University of Oregon Dad's scholarship certificate, the University of Oregon Youth Leadership scholarship and a scholarship certificate to the Willamette university as well as the American Chemical Society Award, at the annual honor awards Tuesday.

The University of San Francisco scholarship was awarded to Mike McDermott, salutatorian, as well as the Bausch and Lomb science award.

An Oregon State scholarship was awarded to Bob Wright and the high school PTA scholarship certificate was awarded to Carmel White.

The Stem Citizenship Awards, given to the graduating boy and girl who were judged to be the outstanding students in civic achievements for the school, were given to Myrna Gibbons and Fred Davis.

Frontier Mining Town Established

A frontier mining town, "Oregon Gold Gulch," is being built in the area as part of the Oregon Centennial celebration in the county, according to Ernie Hood, Jackson County Centennial association coordinator.

The mining town is being built by LaRue Morris on his Hidden Valley ranch property near Highway 99, north of Central Point. The town will be complete with wooden sidewalks and all details as might have been found in a 19th century mining town.

Gold digging will be under way on Mine st. at the edge of town and buildings will include a general store, blacksmith shop, stage coach station and a miner's supply store.

Hood reported that the town is nearly completed and is scheduled to be opened within several weeks. It was explained that there is space available for old mining equipment displays. Persons who might have such equipment available are asked to contact Morris at Normandy 4-2847.

Omaha, Neb. —(UP)—A panel of three federal judges has turned down mass slayer Charles Starkweather's appeal for further court hearings and refused to extend his stay of execution.
