

Washington Phone Rate Boost Sought

Olympia—UPB—Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. announced it will ask the State Public Service Commission today for a $9,327,000-a-year increase in basic monthly rental rates for 630,000 Washington customers.

The company sought monthly boosts ranging from 10 cents to $1.50 for residence service and from 50 cents to $5 a month per line for business phones. There also would be adjustments in other classifications of business service.

Ben Dowling, vice president and general manager of Washington operations, said the "repricing" of company service is necessary to "counteract the effect of five years of continually rising costs while adding more and more phones and improving services throughout the state."
