

Centennial Group Plans Picnic, Events in Phoenix

Phoenix - The Phoenix Centennial committee last night voted to hold a Centennial picnic for all Phoenix residents and guests, a local church, erect a covered wagon welcome booth at the south entrance to town, and ask all area residents to dress in Centennial costume on Saturday.

Sunday, July 12, was set for a town-wide Centennial picnic to be held on the Phoenix Community club grounds. The Phoenix Lions club and Lady Lions are to be in charge of games and the other clubs will be in charge of providing coffee and lemonade. Games would include such events as sack race, egg-on-spoon race, and horseshoes.

Church officials are to be contacted to ask that their congregations appear in Centennial dress on a Sunday to be agreed upon by the church.

Phoenix women are asked to appear in Centennial dress every Saturday during the summer while shopping. Many men already wear Centennial hats, ties and other clothing articles depicting the Centennial, it was pointed out.

A covered wagon is to be stationed by June 22 at the Flying A service station across the highway from the Old Stage House. The wagon will be donated by the antique shop and museum. Volunteers will be asked to distribute Centennial literature every afternoon.

More Centennial community activities may be announced later, the committee said.

Search Conducted For Rainier Man

Rainier, Ore. - (UPI) - Search was under way today for William Linden Thompson, 54, reported missing from his home since Monday.

Sheriff Spencer Younce of Columbia county said a search would be made of Columbia river sloughs near Thompson's home. A hunt in the heavily wooded area back of West Rainier Wednesday failed to turn up a trace of Thompson, a dairy farmer.

The sheriff said it was possible Thompson suffered a heart attack while walking through the wooded area or that he may have fallen in one of several sloughs in the area.
