Independence Overnight Camp For Wagon Train

Independence Rock, Wyo.—Historic Independence Rock, located some 60 miles west of Casper, Wednesday became the site for an overnight camp of the Oregon covered wagon train.

For the past three days the train of seven wagons has been crossing the Sanford Cattle Company ranch, a holding of nearly 500,000 acres on which 5,000 head of cattle are grazed.

Ivan Hoyer, news director for the Cavalcade, found that modern reporting became a problem in central Wyoming when he discovered the nearest telephone was 17 miles from the overnight camp ground of the wagon train. That phone was reached by a back country dirt road.

Dinner and Dance
The Centennial wagon train personnel were treated to a chuck wagon style chicken dinner Wednesday evening by the Sweetwater Homemakers club. The club consists of a group of ranch wives living in an area some 100 square miles around the famous rock. The dinner was followed by a dance.

Today the cavalcade headed into the remote Three Forks area of the state.

A telegram was sent to wagon train members Wednesday by the Oregon Centennial Exposition and Trade Fair. "We await your arrival with great pleasure and assure you of a welcome worthy of your contribution to our 100th birthday," the message read. The train is due in Independence, Ore., Aug. 15.

Three Bodies Found In Old Incinerator

Ray, N.D.—UPI—A father searching for three missing children, one of them his own, found their cremated bodies Wednesday afternoon in a make-shift garbage incinerator.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Atol said the youngsters apparently crawled into the incinerator, an old locomotive boiler set on end, and set fire to garbage while playing with matches.

The victims were Larry Dean Slater, 5, whose father uncovered the tragedy; Rodney Brenden, 5, and his sister, Debra, 4.

Atol said a stiff prairie wind probably blew shut a heavy metal door after the children entered the incinerator. He said the children from a nearby trailer camp had been warned to keep away from the 12-foot high boiler.

The project is a unit in the Corps of Engineers' comprehensive plan for development of the Willamette River Basin. The dam's powerhouse will have two generating units with a total installed capacity of 25,000 kilowatts. They are expected to be in operation by November, 1962.
