

Title Bout Fifth Round Dangerous

Sale of tickets for the Craterian theater's closed circuit television showing of the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson world heavyweight title boxing bout on June 25 is "going good," it was reported today.

There are still lots of tickets left, however, it was said. No home television of the bout will be shown and the Craterian is the only theater in this area where video of the bout will be available to fans.

Tickets are on sale at the Craterian from 9 a.m. to noon, 1 to 3 p.m. and 8:30 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 4 p.m. and evenings on Saturdays and Sundays.

New York - Beware the fifth round!

That's the danger point, statistics say, for both champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Ingemar Johansson when they meet for the heavyweight title June 25 at Yankee Stadium.

Fans who see the bout at the stadium and in theaters and arenas throughout the land, where it will be telecast via closed-circuit by TeleProm-Ter corporation, will watch two men who, between them, have scored 39 knockouts in 57 bouts.

Five of Johansson's 13 kayoes have come in the fifth round. Patterson has flattened seven adversaries, including Archie Moore to win the title, in the fifth round.

The Swedish Socker's knockout average is .619 as against .722 for the world champion. However, Patterson's kayo victims have traveled an average of 5.3 rounds, Johansson's 4.9—again pointing to the fifth round or the early moments of the sixth.

Naturally, such statistics can be knocked as cold as either fighter when two such dangerous hitters collide. Johansson is the better bet for a quick finish because of the heavy artillery he carries, particularly in his right.

Nat Fleischer, veteran boxing authority and editor of Ring Magazine, who has seen all of the heavyweights since John L. Sullivan, compares Johansson's punch to that of Max Schmeling.

Woods, Water, Wildlife

By Hank DeVoss

Those of you who have a spirit of adventure that can carry you beyond trying out a new lure or finding out how the other guy is catching them might be interested in trying out a new fish available to fishermen of the Rogue river basin. This fish isn't exactly new to the river, but it hasn't been given much publicity and its presence is unknown to many sportsmen.

IT'S A SHAD THING
During the months of April, May and June, the Rogue river is host to a spawning run of American shad. These fish are related to the herring and are classified as Alosa sapidissima. They average two feet in length and four pounds in weight with the heaviest running up to 13 or 14 pounds. A mature female lays 150,000 eggs which are non-adhesive and float free in the water. The fry hatch in seven to ten days and go to sea. The fish mature in three years and return to fresh water to repeat the spawning cycle.

SAFARI TO RAINEY FALLS
The shad travel up the Rogue to Rainey falls where most of them are stopped and here is where they are available to those of us who might like to try them out. A few anglers fish for them down by Agness, but beyond that point they are ignored. I've talked to several fishermen who have experience with shad fishing and they rate them as the next best thing to steelhead in fighting qualities. They jump freely and have a tender mouth, necessitating a light hand on the rod. These should be qualifications enough to gain the interest of quite a few fishermen in the area. I'm going down to have another try this week end and I don't expect a crowd. Leastways, there hasn't been one so far.

HOW TO
According to those who claim to know, these fish will take a bright fly in fast water in the same manner as the steelhead. The fly should be orange, yellow or white. A touch of red on the fly sometimes helps. Shad will also take lures: small spinners or wobblers of gold or brass seem to be the preferred type. A small spot of red on the lures has a special attraction at times. These fish can be identified by the deep vee in the tail, something not found in our trout and salmon to such a marked degree.

WHAT TO
The gourmets of the shad fishing fraternity feel that the fish is at its tastiest best when it has been smoked and then cooked under pressure for a few minutes in order to soften the bones, of which there are many. Of course, shad roe is quite a delicacy and hard to beat when fried in butter. But fish eggs aren't appealing to some palates and there are even those who don't like fish; and they have my sympathy because I think it's the best. ALL IN A RUSH
The salmon seem to have come in a rush the last week or two. The count last Saturday, 7,592, was 2,000 ahead of the count at the same time last year. Reports from the mouth of the river indicate a revised estimate of 15,000 fish over Gold Ray dam as the total run.

HANDS OUT!
The latest word is that if you want to catch a salmon, keep your cotton picking hands out of the water. Research indicates that human hands contain a chemical compound called serine, and that this compound, when added to a stream, causes an alarm reaction among salmon in that stream. Its effect is the same for all five species of salmon. The alarm reaction is more pronounced when human hands are actually rinsed in the stream. The salmon scoot downstream and don't come back for several minutes.

THE ANGLER'S LOG
It's too bad about the slide on the highway going to Diamond lake, but I guess it may be for the best, seeing as how the best fishermen are from this area and are catching all the fish out of the lake. I suppose we ought to consider it as a kind of handicap.

Willow Creek
Has been very good. Lots of limits. Evening trolling with a woolly worm or fly produces best.

Fish Lake
Lots of limits of seven to nine-inches. Triple teaser is the best bet for trolling and single eggs work best for still fishing.

Lake of the Woods
Fishing is still improving. Anglers are catching six or seven fish per hour. Bright orange or gold lures are doing the business. I'll bet the water skiers are taking over most of the day.

Klamath Lake
Still good. Average catch is just under 4 pounds per fish. John Gritsch of Medford made the big fish here at Harriman's with an 8 1/2-pounder. Caught on an Andy Reeker in Pelican bay. Russell lures are picking up a few.

Diamond Lake
Fishing is spotty. Still fishing with single eggs is the best bet.

Howard Prairie
Good catches averaging about 12 inches per fish. FF&W are picking up most of them. These fish are fat and very tasty. Deep water by the dam seems to be the best area. Go slow on the road.

THE OPTIMIST'S CORNER
If some of you are having trouble convincing the better half of the need for that fishing trip, I may have a solution for you. Next time, you clean the fish instead of letting her do it!
GOOD LUCK!

Lee, Spoon In Cinema Handicap

Inglewood, Calif.—UPI—Kentucky Derby winner Tom Lee's belated summer racing debut takes place Saturday when he leads a field of three-year-olds into the $50,000 Cinema Handicap at Hollywood park.

The mile and an eighth Cinema, final major prep for the $100,000 Hollywood Derby by June 27, also is scheduled to bring out the filly star of winter racing Silver Spoon to test Tom Lee. Both have not started since the Kentucky Derby.

Tommy Lee was assigned 126 pounds for the Cinema, the same weight he carried in the Kentucky Derby. Silver Spoon carries 120 pounds. As a filly she is entitled to a five-pound sex allowance, making her scale impost just one pound less than Tom Lee's.

Silky Thud
Ole Fols, carrying 119 pounds, was considered the major threat to the two big stars of the race.

A crowd of 28,420 turned out Thursday to see Silky Sullivan try a stakes race for the first time in more than a year. They saw the stretch-running chestnut finish third to Gold Color and Twenty-One Guns in the $26,750 Golden State Breeders Handicap.

Silky Sullivan stayed closer than usual to the pace, being about 15 lengths back instead of 30 or 40. He started a drive around the final turn of the mile and a sixteenth race but seemed to hang in the stretch as he just barely beat Ying and Yang for third and was three and a half lengths back of the second horse.

Track Fray At Ashland

Ashland—Followers of track and field can watch that sport this evening in the first of four meets under auspices of the summer recreation program here.

Field events start at 7 p.m. at the Southern Oregon college track. Running events are set for 7:30 p.m.

The meet is open to all amateurs. There are open, senior, junior and grade school divisions.

A full program of events is planned in senior and open classes if entries are sufficient.

NICKELSON VICTOR
Portland—UPI—Ed Nickelson of Fossil won a shootoff from Axel Ludt of Kamlah, Idaho, Thursday after both had broken 94 of 100 birds to tie for the Rose City Handicap in the first day of the Oregon State trapshoot.

William Lebold of Salem won the class C-D division of the Portland 100 event with 97.

MAY RESUME FOOTBALL
Chicago—UPI—The possibility of a return to college football is under study at the University of Chicago. John P. Netherton, dean of students, told a "C" banquet for letter winners Thursday night that his office is making studies of "specific and practical questions" connected with resuming the sport.

Pullman, Wash.—UPI—Don Knight, football and baseball star at Roosevelt high school in Portland, has decided to enter Washington State college this fall, grid mentor Jim Sutherland said today. Knight is a quarterback in football and will play in the Oregon Shrine all-star game in August.

Two Kinds of Power Failures Up Solon's Lead in Coast Loop

By DON BECKER
United Press International
Two large scale power failures moved the Sacramento Solons three games in front in the Pacific Coast league race Thursday night.

The first, an electrical type which blackened the Sacramento ball park after the first inning, caused postponement of the Solon game with the Portland Beavers.

The second power failure struck the San Diego hitting order. It blackened the hopes of Padre fans who saw their team come up with only eight hits while dropping a doubleheader to last place Seattle, 2-1 and 6-2.

In other action, Vancouver beat Phoenix in a home derby, 7-6, and Salt Lake won its sixth straight with a 5-4 victory over Spokane.

Combined Three Hitter
Max Surkont and Bill Kennedy teamed to hold the Padres to three hits in the first game of their twin bill. Kennedy, who came on in the sixth, got the win when Paul Pettit singled home Eric Rodin in the tenth inning. Surkont gave up the only two Padre runs when Padre catcher Al Jones homered with a mate aboard.

Mark Freeman, with the help of lefty John McCall, scored the triumph in the second game. Hal Bevan hit a homer for the Rainiers, one of 13 Seattle hits off loser Dick Stigman, who was charged with his ninth defeat.

Summer Recreation Program For Central Point Outlined

Central Point—Flag football activity on Monday, June 15, will launch the summer recreation program for boys at Central Point, director Don Miller has announced.

The main program, with a full slate of activities over seven weeks, for boys and girls, will begin on Monday, June 22.

Baseball program for boys, which will be four days per week through Aug. 7, will start with registration at 8 a.m. on June 22 at the Crater high field. Boys will vie in intramural play and some of them will play on the city's four teams in the Southern Oregon Junior Baseball leagues. Flag football is planned one day per week.

Girls' activities, to start, will be at 1 p.m. at the little gymnasium on the junior high school grounds. There will be a variety of free play events, tournaments, tumbling and arts and crafts.

Free play games also are planned for boys who would otherwise be inactive when baseball games are in progress and for those not interested in baseball.

Fridays will be special events days with both boys and girls taking part. Among activities contemplated are a "bike hike on June 26, a fish derby, a pet parade, "wheels" competition and social swimming. There also may be a mass attendance at a drive-in movie.

Investigation of Pressure Urged In Strauss Case

Washington—UPI—Sen. Howard W. Cannon (D-Nev.) said today the Senate should investigate "lobbying tactics" used to push the nomination of Commerce Secretary Lewis L. Strauss.

Cannon said he had information that "severe and coarse pressures" have been applied to individual senators. He said he thought the people who had lobbied did so under pressure from the executive branch of the government.

Rejection Urged
An investigation, Cannon said in a prepared speech, might show "why the confirmation of Mr. Strauss is so important to certain special interests."

Contending that Strauss had been a "miserable, total and utter failure" in developing atomic electric power, Cannon urged that the nomination be rejected.

"I had expected that the facts would be presented in a reasonable and dispassionate manner. Instead, I have heard of the most severe and coarse pressure being applied on individual senators," Cannon said.

Names Not Revealed
"I myself have been lobbied by respected eminent citizens in my state who normally would have no direct interest in this case. But my inquiries have led me to believe that pressures have been placed on these men from the executive branch."

Cannon did not disclose the names of the men. He said he did not want to embarrass them needlessly since they are "honorable men who did only what they were compelled to do because of outside interference from the executive."
