

Oregon Schools Highly Rated Speaker States

Dr. Leonard Mayfield, superintendent of school district 549C, was guest speaker Thursday night for the Altrusa club of Medford. Speaking at a dinner meeting at the Rogue Valley Country club, Dr. Mayfield compared Medford and Oregon school systems' ratings with the national norm, showing on a series of charts how students of our local schools average very high among those from over 250 school systems throughout the country. He mentioned the recent Look Magazine survey, in which Oregon schools were rated number one in the nation, and said that among drafters during World War II there were fewer illiterates from Oregon than from any other state.

A short resume of the Altrusa program was given for Dr. Mayfield and other guests, who were Mrs. Mayfield, Miss Mayme Barrett, Dr. Virgil Mohr, Wallace Haskins, Victor Peterson, Martin C. Wood and Walter Young.

Mrs. Haskins told the vocational grants for older women which the club has given. Mrs. Maude Coddling outlined the international relations program, and Mrs. Valton Finley, speaking for the Altrusa information committee, explained the club's place mat project. Mrs. Mohr noted several of the community projects in which the group participates.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Mrs. End Rankin and Mrs. Richard Schuchard, hostesses.

The next meeting will be on Thursday, June 25, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Mohr. Installation of officers will be done at that time.

North Carolina's per capita income rose from $61 in 1932 to $584 in 1950.

West Coast People Skinny 'Waistline Map' Indicates

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor New York—UPI—Today's column concerns the girth of a nation.

A new and unusual study of our waistlines maps geographically where they bulge the most. And I'm sure glad I hail originally from near Charleston, W. Va. We Charlestonians, along with residents of Worcester, Mass., are the skinniest of the nation. Oklahoma

City and Denver residents are the fatter.

Texas also appears to be about as big in the paunch as it is in everything else. And the so-called backbone of the nation—the Middle and Southwest—is well cushioned. Fatsos abound in Columbus, Ohio, Indianapolis, Chicago, Houston and Cincinnati.

These are some of the findings in a drug store "sampling" done by the regimen division of the Reg Research corporation. The regimen, a reducing aid, wanted to find where it should concentrate its sales campaigns, explained the president, John Andre. Compiled by Questionnaire

Copco Employee Is Speaker for Mineral Group

Jay J. Elliott of The California-Oregon Power company presented a motion picture, "Conquest Of The Klamath," at last Friday's meeting of the Roxy Ann Gem and Mineral club. The program pointed out how geological knowledge is utilized in the construction of Copco's installations on the Klamath River.

One of the guests, Don Cline, gave an interesting demonstration of factoring. This is one of the techniques used in producing finished gem stones.

Mrs. John S. Dodge announced that the material now in the club's showcase at the U. S. National bank, Main and Central streets, was provided by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harrison. It is a display of specimens from the quartz family of minerals, all found within a radius of 75 miles from Medford.

Participation in the Southern Oregon Gem and Mineral show was discussed and a number of members announced that they intend to exhibit. This event takes place June 27 and 28 at the fairgrounds in Grants Pass.

An "early bird" field trip for June was announced by Delmar Smith. The meeting point will be the junction of Highways 66 and 99 just south of Ashland at 6 A.M. on Sunday, June 21. The destination is Agate Flat, where specimens of dendritic agate can be found. Persons attending should be sure to bring digging tools such as picks and shovels, as well as water for washing mud from the specimens.

Visitors are welcome to participate in this trip, and to attend the club's meetings which are held at 7:30 p.m. in the Girls Community club, 229 North Bartlett street, Medford, on the second Friday of every month.

Townsend Club Notes Meeting Hour Change
Beginning Wednesday, June 17, Townsend club announces that the weekly potluck luncheon hour will be changed to 12:30 p.m.

On last week's program, entertainment was provided by Jack and Ronnie Webster. Three new members were reported.

The meeting closed with readings, and dancing. Members are reminded that Centennial clothing will be in order for a picnic to be held July 1 in Hawthorne park. Men are asked to wear derby hats, and whiskers will be permissible.

Business Session Held by Zontians

Medford Zonta club met in the Pioneer Room of the Jackson hotel Thursday for their monthly business meeting. Mrs. Eloise Winklebleck presided.

Miss Hazel Swayne, Mrs. Ethel Tennent and Mrs. Eleanor Bolt were appointed as civil defense information committee members.

Mrs. Ilean Grigsby reported on the awards presented at the school safety patrol dinner, May 22nd. She provided the floral arrangement and the covered wagon favors for the dinner.

The July and August meetings will be picnics. Serving on the July committee are Mrs. Violet Anders, Mrs. Elsie Eutler and Mrs. Edith Gifford. Mrs. Grigsby, Mrs. Helen Tweedy, Mrs. Grace Holmes and Mrs. Florence Bolton will plan the August event.

Bethel 36 Conducts Ceremony

Cave Junction—Miss Linda Prather was installed honored queen of International Order of Job's Daughters, Bethel 36, in ceremonies held at Emmanuel Methodist church in Cave Junction. Retiring Queen Carmel White was installing officer.

Assisting Queen Carmel were Guide Arlene Rians, Marshall Phyllis Saffer, Senior Custodian Marge Brown, Junior Custodian Ruth Boucher, Recorder Norma Spencer, Chaplain Peggy Fulk, Musician Alice Beem, and three-year-old Diane Durham as Bible escort. Candlelighters were Jennie Carothers and Diane Sowell.

Installed with Queen Linda were: Sandra Piper, senior princess; Beverly Sowell, junior princess; Linda Larson, guide; Diane Blue, marshal; Kathy Breckenridge, senior custodian; Cheri Hadley, junior custodian; Donna Farmer, Betty Carter, Gloria Hare, Kathy Basham and Linda Hunter, as the five messengers; Sharon Prather, chaplain; Lou Ella Alcorn, treasurer; Pam Cherry, librarian; Toni Vahrenwald, musician; Lor Whiteley, recorder; Linda raine Steimer, inner guard; Kathy Kuil, outer guard; Rae Thrasher, lady of the lights and Glenda Stava, page.

Queen-elect Linda was escorted by Wendell Seat, marshal of Redwood De Molay chapter. After installation, Master Councilor Gary escorted the new queen to her station in the East through an arch of steel. Robert Shawhan sang two numbers.

During the procession, each officer-elect carried a small white open Bible with showers of purple and white ribbons. On either side of the station in the East stood tall baskets of white peonies and purple iris backed by candleabra bearing purple and white tapers. The white carnation corsages worn by all the installing officers were gifts from the new queen.

The first official act of the new queen was to present retiring Queen Carmel with a past queen's pin, who in turn presented Queen Linda with the queen's pin and the traveling tiara.

The new queen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Prather, were introduced and she presented them flowers. Past associate Guardian Homer Snider presented the queen an inscribed gavel which had been made for her by her brother, Robert. Queen Linda presented a gift to Master Councilor Gary Bell of the DeMole.

Mrs. W. K. Sult, Medford, Oregon grand guide of the International Order of Job's Daughters; Grand Page Sandra Sanner of Bethel 55, Medford; Grand Bethel Junior Princess Suzanne Rogers, Bethel 56, Shady Cove; Mrs. C. Elhart, Medford, past grand guardian and a large group of visitors from several southern Oregon Bethels were introduced.

Before the closing ceremony, Miss Sandra Piper and Miss Beverly Sowell presented the retiring queen with the traditional Jobie doll. On the buffet table was the queen's cake, fashioned as an open Bible. On each side of the cake were small white Bibles before tall purple tapers.

Dancing followed the refreshment hour. Reception committee were Mesdames J. V. Cubertson, James Racknor, William Weingart and Lester Basham. Miss Judy Work was in charge of the guest book.

Corps Makes Plans For Silent Auction

Central Point—Central Point Woman's Relief corps will conduct a silent auction at a meeting set for Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith. Members are asked to take articles for the sale to the meeting.

The meeting will begin with a potluck luncheon at noon. Members have been informed that Mrs. Elizabeth Jacks who was seriously injured in an automobile accident, will soon be able to come home.

Furnishings Market Shows Invisible, Portrait Chairs

By MARGUERITE DAVIS United Press International Chicago—UPI—The annual June international home furnishings market opened today with such eye-openers as invisible chairs and portrait chairs, but the dominant style note is the trend to non-matching furniture.

Traditional suites are being replaced, at least partially, by the non-matching—tall, thin furniture counterbalanced by long, low pieces.

Many of the new collections contain harmonizing pieces rather than those which repeat the same design with twin-like monotony.

In a large contemporary group shown at the merchandise mart, a walnut cabinet is equipped with cane doors while its companion table is

Talk Given On Dollar

"The Story Behind the Dollar" was the title of a speech given by Miss Irene Barclay at the Medford Toastmistress club June 10. Miss Barclay traced the history of the dollar from its origin and told interesting facts concerning it. Mrs. Bernice Kunzman was toastmistress for the evening.

The topicmistress, Mrs. Thomas Ball, used the "pro and con" of two current topics, "The Teenage Question" and "Unions." "Pro" speaker on the teenage topic were Mrs. Kunzman and Mrs. Ellen Lynner. Miss Anna Streed spoke on the opposite side. Mrs. J. A. VanderSteen spoke for unions and Mrs. Effie Kurtz against.

Discussion and planning for the forthcoming Council Four meeting on July 12 took place during the business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Clarence Rolfs. This meeting will be held at the Jackson hotel and toastmistress club members from Grants Pass and Klamath Falls will be present. Mrs. VanderSteen, Medford, will be installed as the council president for the coming year. Also, Mrs. C. H. Redmond will be installed. The meeting theme will be "Vacations and Words."

The education talk for the meeting was given by Miss Streed on words and their synonyms. Mrs. Jack Cummings was lexicologist; invocation was given by Mrs. Kurtz. All members participated in the general evaluation period at the close of the program.

Carmel Couple To Leave Tonight

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Carpenter plan to leave by plane this evening for their home in Carmel, Calif., after spending the past week here with relatives. They visited Mrs. Carpenter's sister, Mrs. H. Chandler Egan, Foothills road, Mr. Carpenter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. V. Carpenter, Top-sides, Old Stage road, and his nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter, Foothills road.

The visitors lived in Medford for many years before leaving to live in Carmel.

Girl Scouts Visit Portland

Thirteen Senior Girl Scouts from Troop 151 of Medford left this morning to visit the International Trades Fair and Oregon Centennial exposition in Portland for four days.

Girls making the trip are the Misses Diane Lewis, Carolyn Finch, Casse Thompson, Ann Barker, Sherrie Pritchard, Jud Sims, Karen Christensen, JoDee McDuffie, Janice Nelson, Julianne Yoakley, Pat Parlier, Martha Sanborn and Betty Kyker.

They are accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Richard Finch and Mrs. Kenneth Edwards, and Mrs. C. A. Parlier. Christine Finch, an Intermediate scout, is also with the group.

The girls will visit the fair, the Portland zoo and Science building, Doernbecher Children's hospital and Lambert Gardens. They will also see the famous Ice Capades show, and visit Jantzen park.

The girls and their leaders have been planning the trip for a year. They financed the project with money saved in troop funds since they were Brownie Scouts. The savings have come from cookie sales, calendar sales, float prize money and mistletoe sales. The girls are now juniors at Medford High school.

Russians Like Dior Clothing

By ALINE MOSBY Moscow—UPI—Russian women decided today they loved Dior clothes but think the high fashion French models are something from another planet.

"I loved the clothes but hated her," was a typical comment after Friday's opening of the precedent breaking five day Parisian fashion show.

Two thousand Moscow women watched the 12 Christian Dior models display more than a hundred outfits. But the prices, starting at $100, hardly fit Russian pocket-books any better than the clothes fit husky Soviet figures.

Dior obviously picked the most conservative clothes in his salon for the Moscow show, but even then, many cocktail and evening gowns and dressy suits are too fancy for this conservative city, where neckties are scarce even in the finest restaurants.

Yet the women obviously were pleased with such outfits as suits with widely stand-away collars, widely pleated skirts, and filmy, flowing, chiffon short summer party dresses.

They applauded every outfit and smiled and leaned over the railing in the auditorium of the downtown labor club to murmur about evening gowns sparkling with jewels.

The models, however, brought many "nyets." "They're strange looking—just bones," a portly Russian matron declared.
