

Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
Tallahassee, Fla.—The Rev. A. J. Reddick, past Florida president of the NAACP, on the conviction with a recommendation of mercy of four white youths for the rape of a Negro coed:

"Florida has maintained its excellent record of not veering from the precedent that no white man has ever been executed for the rape of a Negro. Had it been the other way around, Negroes would have been given the death penalty."

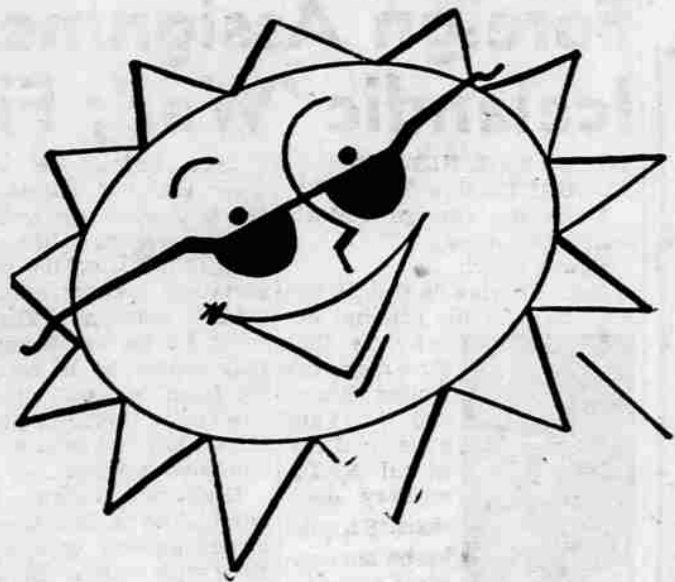

Washington—Gov. C. Mennen Williams of Michigan, conceding that New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller might be more liberal than some Democratic hopefuls:

"If the Democrats should nominate Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) for example, and the Republicans nominate Rockefeller, where do you think the liberal Democrats will turn? Whom could they vote for in all good conscience?"

La Jolla, Calif.—Gerald Lehrer, on the fatal shark attack on his friend, Robert L. Pamperin, 50 yards off shore:
"He went under the water and I swam over. I looked down into the water and saw him and the shark. There was blood in the water."

Mamaroneck, N.Y.—Billy Casper, on winning the U.S. Open golf championship:

"The worst thing was sitting in a window overlooking the 18th green watching first Mike Souchak and then Bob Rosburg coming down the last hole needing a birdie to tie me. It was a terrible wait and I sure regretted a bad chip shot I made on the 17th that cost me a bogey five. If I'd just got a par there the wait would have been easy."
