

Art Centers Opened in Two Cities

Two centers for the display and sale of art have been opened in Jackson county cities recently.

In Rogue River a combination art center and tourist information office has been opened at 211 Main street, and in Ashland an artists' center is being opened at 45 East Main street.

The Rogue River center is being operated by Mrs. Elizabeth Sheffield and Mrs. Vera Backstrom, the latter of Medford. Both women are artists and their work has been displayed during various exhibits in the county. Much of the tourist information will be supplied by the Oregon Centennial commission.

An artists' center at 45 East Main street, Ashland, is reported ready to open its doors for the summer tourist season. The civic project, sponsored by the Ashland Business and Professional Women's club, is a non-profit undertaking where artists may exhibit their work and where locally made crafts may be displayed.

The downtown art center has the endorsement and active support of other Ashland organizations. Individual townspeople and business firms have given time and material and the center is now ready for the final arrangement of displays.

A feature of the art center is its music corner, where an electric organ, furnished by Purucker's Piano company of Medford, will form the nucleus of other instruments and give musicians a place to gather for informal entertainment.

Medford WCTU To Hear Attorney

Paul Haviland will speak for a meeting of Medford Women's Christian Temperance union to be held Thursday, June 18, at 2 p.m. at Girls Community club.

Mr. Haviland, Medford attorney, will speak of the literature on the newsstands and the effect of some of this on the youth of the nation.

Mrs. Howard Bush will sing. A group of children attending the vacation school of the Free Methodist church will dramatize some events in the lives of Paul and Stephen and present Bible memory work.

June is flower and mission month for the WCTU and members are asked to take flowers to the meeting; later these will be distributed to shut-in persons.

Children Eat Best When Free From Pressures

by Martha Morgan

This noon 5-year-old Mark Lytle was my luncheon guest and we had a lovely time. He's outgoing and talkative, so the conversation was lively. But most pleasing was his attitude about the food served him. He enjoyed every bite.

No problem seems to plague mothers so much as one of getting children to eat. Authorities counsel constantly against over-pressing the problem. They claim if food is treated matter-of-factly, children will accept it the same way. At Mark's house they approach mealtime on the basis of good sportsmanship. Dad works to fix the food; mother takes time to fix it; any good sport would at least give it a try!

As a matter of fact, gentle guidance at the table can teach children many good traits: appreciation, thoughtfulness, courtesy, as well as good sportsmanship. And statistics show that children who eat all three meals with their families are better integrated socially than those who eat by themselves.

When Carma picked up Mark, she told her about the good dessert we had that used chocolate cookies. It's a good thing children like this kind of dessert, for its use of Morning Milk makes it valuable in supplying part of the daily food needs.

I told Carma she'd find the recipe in Morning Milk's new little cook book "Morning Milk's Family Treats." Any one can get the book simply by sending a post card to me, Martha Morgan, P.O. Box 176-Z, Salt Lake City, Utah. But so Carma would not have to wait, I copied the recipe for her on the spot!

David W. Pearson, Portland, is the new grand master of Masons in Oregon. He was installed at the 109th annual communication of the grand lodge held recently in Portland, with 600 attending.

Visitors Leave After Stay Here; Parties Given

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert I. Markham and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Markham, all of Chicago, left Medford last week end after spending several days here as guests of the Herbert Markham's daughter, Mrs. Florence Graff, 133 White Oak drive.

The visitors were feted at many parties during their stay. Mrs. Graff gave a cocktail party at her home in their honor. Mrs. Gain Robinson and Mrs. Martin Luther were hostesses for a bridge-luncheon at the Colony club which honored Mrs. Herbert Markham, with Mrs. John Markham and Mrs. Graff among the guests.

The Raymond Miksches invited the visitors to their home, 164 Greenway circle, for cocktails and another cocktail party was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Scott, neighbors of Mrs. Graff at 129 White Oak drive.

The visitors were also guests in the home of Mrs. Lillian Salade, North Pacific highway, for dinner, and were entertained at luncheon by Mrs. J. H. Enders, 1 Acorn way. Dr. and Mrs. Dwight Findley and Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Lageson were hosts for a dinner which honored the Markhams.

Mrs. Graff and her daughter, Miss Susan Graff, who was graduated from Medford High school earlier this month, plan to leave soon to spend some time in Chicago with the Markhams. Later they will continue to Port Gervais, N.Y., where they will be guests of a second brother of Mrs. Graff, James Markham, and Mrs. Markham.

Table decorations of white Ester Reed daisies with dark blue delphinium and the miniature corsages as table favors were under the direction of Mrs. C. T. Bascom.

Guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. H. E. Connor, Mrs. Harry Bryden, Mrs. Ivor Uman, Mrs. Hugh Shellabarger and Mrs. Ed Lyon.

U. S. Is Becoming Nation of Savers

New York—UPI—We are becoming a nation of savers and restorers, collecting relics as squarrels gather nuts in autumn. So says C. J. Nuttall, president of the annual New York Antiques Fair.

"Twenty, fifteen, even ten years ago," he said, "it would have been hard to find in antique shops such items as old-time kitchen utensils, paperweights, Civil War belt buckles, Samurai swords, dolls. It is safe to say that no matter what it is, someone collects it."

Hillsboro Woman Heads Rainbow Girls

La Grande—UPI—Christine Pasley of Hillsboro Monday was named Grand Worthy Advisor of the Order of Rainbow Girls for Oregon at the 33rd Grand Assembly here which attracted 1500 persons. She will succeed Caroline Parsons, La Grande. Installation of officers ends the three-day assembly here tonight.

CHEERFUL COMPANIONS—Two color-coordinated prints in soft blue and white with red accents create a charming, relaxed atmosphere in this pretty bedroom. Floral-printed cottons by Waverly are used for the dust ruffle, bed canopy, draperies, and wall covering. The coverlet is made of white quilted Glosheen cotton piped in lacquer red, and the same fabric is repeated in abbreviated cafe curtains.

Women Elected To State Offices

Two valley women were advanced to new state offices during the annual meeting of the Oregon State chapter of the PEO sisterhood, held in Portland last week.

Mrs. E. L. Bartholomew, Chapter CG, Medford, was advanced from the office of recording secretary to that of state organizer; Mrs. Fletcher Fish, Phoenix, a member of Chapter BE, completed a year as state treasurer and was elected corresponding secretary.

Delegates from the four Medford chapters were Mrs. W. E. Hercher, Chapter BE; Mrs. Fred Loris, Chapter AA, Mrs. Wayne Welty, CG; Mrs. George Polski, CP.

The new state president is Mrs. Emerson B. Hough, Milton-Freewater. Charters were presented to five new chapters. They are Chapter DA, Lebanon; DB, Portland; DC, Grants Pass; DD, Sweet Home; DE, Bend. This brings the total of state membership to about 3,000 women.

The 1960 convention will be in Pendleton.

Bethel Announces Coming Events

Bethel 55, International Order of Job's Daughters, planned coming events at the last meeting.

Miss Barbara Gordon, queen of the Bethel, plans to attend the supreme session to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, later this summer. Miss Gordon also reported on a trip to Portland.

The Bethel plans a rummage sale August 25, and a candy sale in October. Fun projects for the summer include a watermelon feed, a slumber party, a hayride and the annual picnic in late summer.

A number of officials and visitors were introduced, including Mrs. W. K. Sult, Medford, grand Bethel guide and L. R. Manning, Medford, grand associate guardian.

The Bethel will resume regular meetings in the fall.

Increased Emphasis On Driver Education

Chicago—UPI—A safety education specialist has advised high schools to use the accelerator instead of the brakes on driver training programs.

Dr. Forest R. Noffsinger of Northwestern University's Traffic Institute deplored "the Sputnik-impelled demand for some quarters for almost exclusive emphasis on science and mathematics education."

"We don't dare squeeze out driver education from our school program," he said. "For what will it profit our nation to provide such scientific excellence only to have it snuffed out because of incompetence in the necessary task of driving to and from work?"

"We must provide increased emphasis on driver education to protect our 'brains,' and this is particularly true in light of our rapidly increasing driving population," he added.

Noffsinger said boys and girls will reach legal driving age at the rate of nearly eight per minute, 11,110 a day, or more than four million a year by 1970.

DAR Announces District Session

Daughters of the American Revolution will hold the annual meeting of District 3, at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 17, in the Swedish Dining room, Roseburg.

The Oregon state regent, Mrs. Claude G. Stotts, Coos Bay, will be present at the meeting.

Meeting Planned By Republicans

Jackson County Republican Women's Club will meet on Monday, June 22, at 12 noon, at the Red Cross building. Guests are asked to furnish their own sack lunch, and coffee and cake will be available. There will be a baby sitter for the children.
