

APPEARING tired, Louisiana's ailing Gov. Earl Long arrives in Galveston for hearing on petition to return him to Louisiana.

1,900 to Attend
4-H Sessions at
OSC Next Week

Corvallis—How 4-H clubs help develop the state's number one resource—its youth—will be dramatized in a special pageant at the 1959 4-H Summer School, June 20 to 27, at Oregon State college.

A total of 1,900 youngsters, 607 boys and 1,293 girls, from all parts of the state will be enrolled. While most of them travel in buses or cars, Jackson, Douglas and Curry county delegates are coming in six covered wagons. The wagon train left Jacksonville June 8 and will have traveled 225 miles in 13 days on arrival at OSC.

Highlight of this year's summer school will be a Centennial Pageant Friday night, June 26, at the OSC coliseum. Nearly 450 boys and girls have parts in the two-hour program.

Settlement of West
Jesalee Mallalieu, OSC extension recreation specialist and pageant author, said it covers settlement of the West, including life in the pioneer home, early school days, and boys and girls club work. The first Oregon 4-H summer school was held in 1913 with 33 youngsters. Today, attendance is limited to 1,900.

During the week, youths attend four to seven classes each day, take part in afternoon assemblies and special evening programs, elect house officers, and conduct 4-H church services. Dancing, outdoor sports, swimming, band, and chorus are special activities.

Evening programs include the boys traditional "smokeless" smoker, girls pajama parties, Oregon Bankers night entertainment, parties and dances, 4-H talent show, and the 4-H pageant.

While on campus, the club members will live in dormitories, cooperative houses, fraternities and sororities.

85 Counselors
A staff of 85 counselors, mostly college students, serve the 38 living units during the week. Club members elect their own house officers.

This year's 4-H faculty comes from OSC staff members, state board of health, state police and a number of commercial firms. New classes for both boys and girls will include a series of film forums on "How We Live" conducted by Marion Thomas, OSC economist, and a team of state extension agents, Jackson Ross, W. G. Nibler, and Evelyn Funk. Gene Lear, another state agent, will conduct classes in group leadership.

All boys at the 4-H school will take a class in nearly every department of the school of agriculture in addition to classes in forestry, science and physical education. Lessons in foods, clothing, home furnishings, buymanship and other home economics subjects will be offered girls. All youngsters take some health and safety classes, Cal Monroe, state 4-H agent, reported.

Swimming instruction will be offered to all non-swimmers, in addition to boys classes in gymnastics, self defense and wrestling. A boys chorus will be organized for the first time in many years. Mrs. Odella Wilson of the college music department is conductor.
