

Johnson Named to Oregon State Post

Corvallis—Don R. Johnson of Central Point has been appointed parliamentarian of the Oregon State college student senate for 1959-60. The senate is composed of representatives from the various schools and is the campus student governing body.

Johnson will be a senior next year in the school of agriculture. His home address is 983 Hazel st.

The Rio Grande river is said to be diminishing in volume and width.

HASTE, BUT NO WASTE

Milwaukee—Dr. Jack B. Greene, a physics teacher at Marquette University, gave an hour long examination, and on grading the papers found that a Chinese student, rushed for time at the end, had dashed off the answer to his final question in Chinese. Dr. Kuick Lee, also on the physics department staff, reads Chinese. He translated. The Chinese student had given a perfect answer.

Fort Chipewyan on Lake Athabaska in Alberta was built by Alexander Mackenzie in 1788.

OSC Summer Session Will Be Active One

Corvallis—Summer session at Oregon State college this year will include the broadest offering of courses and special workshops and seminars in campus history, according to Dr. F. R. Zeran, dean of education and summer school director.

Drawing special emphasis will be science teacher training, summer study for high school graduates working to qualify for college, and graduate work for elementary and high school teachers.

Dates for the annual eight-week session are June 22 to Aug. 14.

Forty-one workshops and seminars will be given in education, science, home economics, agriculture, industrial arts and business. They will be concentrated courses in various fields for periods ranging from two to eight weeks.

Regular Courses

The workshops are in addition to regular course offerings in the various schools. Twenty-seven visiting staff members who are specialists in various fields of study will supplement the regular OSC staff for summer session.

The possibility for some high school graduates to use the summer session as a "testing or proving ground" for their interest and capacity for college has been suggested by Zeran. Selective admission requirements adopted by Oregon colleges have
