Commander of Navy Plane In Seclusion; Probe Pushed

Tokyo—(UPI)—The U.S. Navy spirited Lt. Cmdr. Donald R. Mayer out of sight today while it conducted a secret investigation of the communist MIG attack on his patrol plane Tuesday. Identity of the attacking plane was not known but the Japanese newspaper Asahi Evening News reported that one of the crew members photographed a MIG while it was attacking. U. S. Navy headquarters at Yokosuka said "officially" it knew nothing about any pictures. A spokesman said if there were pictures they would have been sent direct to Washington for evaluation. Asahi quoted Mayer as saying one photograph was snapped but that it had not been developed and it was not known whether the nationality of the attacking jets could be determined. There still was no official explanation about the discrepancy between Navy statements here on the useless guns aboard the plane and the Pentagon's explanation they were deliberately removed. Rear Adm. Frederic S. Withington, commander of U. S. Naval forces in Japan, told a news conference Wednesday the forward guns could not fire because they lacked some hard-to-obtain parts. The Pentagon said the top gun turret had been removed from the plane, a four-engine Mercator, and the forward guns dismantled to make room for reconnaissance equipment. A Navy announcement in Yokosuka hours later said the forward turret has been "partially replaced by special detection equipment."

Gov. Long Seen Ready To Lead State From Bed

New Orleans — (UPI) — Gov. Earl Long was back in Louisiana today after 18 stormy days in a Texas mental ward. State officials appeared ready to let him run the state from his hospital bed. Long was settled in the fifth-floor room at Ochsner Fountain hospital overlooking a bridge his brother Huey built. He returned to Louisiana Wednesday night in an Air National Guard plane from John Sealy hospital in Galveston. Glad To Be Back Long was wan and halting when he stepped off the plane. All he said before an elevator whisked him and his entourage up to his hospital room was: "I'm glad to be back." He apparently has taken over again as governor. Lt. Gov. Lether Frazer, who was acting governor under the law while Long was out of the state, said Wednesday that as soon as Long crossed the state line "he is the governor." Frazer said he would talk with Long today. Responsibility Not Placed The constitution provides that when the governor is unable to perform his duties for any reason, the lieutenant governor shall become acting governor. But the constitution doesn't say who is responsible for declaring the governor incapable. It appeared doubtful that any members of Long's administration would care to assume that responsibility. Long told a reporter at Galveston before the plane left that he would be governor "the minute I hit the state line."

Foreign Aid Bill Untouched; Heads For House Vote

Washington — (UPI) — A $3,642,000,000 foreign aid bill headed for House passage today untouched by repeated attempts to inflict deeper cuts in President Eisenhower's program. Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) of the House Foreign Affairs committee said he was determined to win approval without losing another dime. Morgan said the bill already had met and won its toughest tests. The House beat down attempts to slash military aid Wednesday but one amendment which would have sliced off another $140 million lost by only a slim two votes. The tally was 103-101. The unsuccessful amendment was introduced by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.). Bentley argued that more countries should be buying arms from America instead of getting them free. Earlier, the House defeated an amendment by Rep. George S. McGovern (D-S.C.) to chop an additional $200 million from the program. Proposal Trimmed Eisenhower requested a $3,909,400,000 aid program for the fiscal year starting July 1, but the Foreign Affairs committee trimmed his proposal by $287 million, including $160 millions in military aid. Morgan mustered his supporters today to fight an attempt to cut 100 million dollars from the development loan fund. Rep. Armistead Seldon (D-Ala.) proposed to limit the fund to 700 million dollars, the amount requested by the President. The Foreign Affairs Committee voted an extra 100 millions. Also on tap today was action on an amendment by Rep. Leonard G. Wolf (D-Iowa) to include a 10-year "food for peace" program to send farm surpluses overseas to hungry people.

San Jose Papers Settle Strike

San Jose, Calif. — (UPI) — The San Jose Mercury and News, idled by labor troubles for 123 days, made plans today to resume operation. A management spokesman said it was impossible to say exactly when the 108-year-old newspaper would begin publishing again, but he expressed hope that it would be next week. The lengthy labor dispute ended Wednesday night when stereotypes reached agreement with the company. The group was one of three involved in strikes against the newspaper since it was closed down on Feb. 14. The stereotypes were earning $113.05 a week when the strike began. Under the new agreement, they will receive $4 weekly retroactive to March, 1958; another $3 weekly retroactive to December, 1958; and an additional $4.05 weekly in December, 1959. That would bring their weekly salary to $124.10. PENNY SAVED Woonsocket, R. I. — (UPI) — For eight years, Antonio Valois, an electrical contractor, saved zinc-colored pennies. The other day he took his hoard down to the bank for deposit. There were 102,000 pennies.
