

BIG 4 TALKS COLLAPSE

Price 10 Cents
MEDFORD TRIBUNE
 54th Year
 MEDFORD, OREGON, FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 1959
 No. 78

DERBY QUEEN—Miss Karen Simcox, right, queen of the annual Catfish Derby Sunday, June 21, is shown with part of her court who will reign over the day's activities. Princesses are (left to right) Susan Yoder, Virginia Larson, and Dee Reed. Not shown is Princess Betsy Beck. The Derby will be held at TouVelle State park sponsored by Medford 20-30 club. Qualifications for the queen and her court included personality, popularity and scholastic standing. Concessions will open Sunday at 11:30 a.m. and there will be no registration or admission charged. The public is invited to attend. (Lands photo)

Strauss Rejected; President Bitter

Washington—(UPI)—President Eisenhower bitterly criticized the Senate today for rejecting Lewis L. Strauss' nomination as Secretary of Commerce. He said "the American people are the losers."

The President, who met for 20 minutes with Strauss, summoned newsmen to his office and read his handwritten comment on the Senate vote early this morning.

Strauss was refused confirmation by a 49 to 46 vote. The action automatically removed him from the cabinet post he has held since last November by a recess appointment.

When he finished reading the statement, the President said a "thank you" to reporters and handed his notes to Press Secretary James C. Haggerty.

The statement said: "Last night the senate refused to confirm the nomination of Lewis Strauss, a man who in war and in peace has served his nation loyally, honorably and effectively under four different presidents. 'I am losing a truly valuable associate in the business of government. More than this, if the nation is to be denied the right to have as public servants in responsible positions men of his proven character, ability and integrity, then indeed it is the American people who are the losers through this sad episode.'

Only two Republicans deserted their party ranks to oppose Strauss but they were enough to swing the decision. They joined 47 Democrats in opposition to the nomination. Fifteen Democrats and 31 Republicans voted to confirm Strauss.

It was the first time in 34 years that the Senate had rejected a presidential appointee to the cabinet. Charles Beecher Warren, nominated by President Coolidge in 1925 to be attorney general, was the last previous nominee rejected.

Strauss took the Senate verdict calmly in his office at the Commerce Department. An aide said he accepted the defeat "with not a whimper." In a statement issued before he retired to his hotel, Strauss said: "I leave with confidence that history will be just."

Informed sources said Commerce Undersecretary Frederick H. Mueller was considered a strong possibility as a successor to Strauss. Mueller, a furniture manufacturer from Grand Rapids, Mich., recently won Senate confirmation as undersecretary without difficulty.

Washington—(UPI)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference collapsed today. East and West agreed only to recess until mid-July and then try again for a peace settlement.

Western sources reported that a final plenary session will be held Saturday, at which both sides probably will place their positions formally on the record. Then the four foreign ministers will return to their homes for a three week "cooling off period."

U.S. Secretary of State Christian Herter and his western partners, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, told Russia's foreign minister Andrei Gromyko there was no point in continuing the present talks.

Deadline on Berlin
 But, with a deadline still hanging over Berlin, the West was unwilling to see the talks completely broken off. Gromyko agreed to come back to a new round of bargaining July 13.

After two sessions with Gromyko today, the western ministers retired to French delegation headquarters to chart an announcement to the world.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev plunger the cold war thermometer to a new low for the year with a Moscow speech rejecting the West's final compromise offer on Berlin's future.

Khrushchev offered to lift his time limit for allied occupation of West Berlin from a year to 18 months in exchange for peace treaty negotiations which would place East and West Germany on equal footing.

Plan Unacceptable
 The West immediately turned down the plan as unacceptable.

Simultaneously, the Soviet Union rejected the West's final compromise plan for Berlin.

It was another Soviet move to keep the talks going, while refusing to meet allied demands for Russian guarantees of allied occupation rights in West Berlin.

Washington—(UPI)—Robert F. Buck was sworn in today as a deputy Small Business Administrator. His salary is $18,500 a year.

House Speaker to Be Honored June 27

Attorney Robert Duncan, speaker of the state house of representatives at the 1959 legislature, will be honored June 27 at a dinner sponsored by the social club and central committee of the Democratic party of Jackson county.

The event will begin with a reception at 6:30 p.m. at the Rogue Valley Country club followed by the dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Mark Norton, Phoenix, will be master of ceremonies. Duncan will speak on "The probable Democratic future in the state of Oregon." Pat Redmond, president of the social club, said Duncan also will speak of the broader aspects of the Democratic party.

The public is invited and tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling Pat Redmond, SPring 3-1371, or Gerald Scannell, SPring 3-3582.

Redmond stressed the advisability of making early reservations as a number of guests from the northern part of the state are expected and seating capacity of the dining room is limited.

Membership Drive Starts by Chamber

A "Keep Pace with Tomorrow" program designed to enroll 200 new members and raise at least $13,000 has been announced by the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, Manager Don McNeil said today.

Eugene D. Emunson of San Francisco, a chamber of commerce campaign specialist, has been retained by the chamber as a consultant, in the program. Campaign headquarters have been set up in the Jackson hotel. Bob Taylor has been named general chairman of the program.

Emunson said that the "Keep Pace with Tomorrow" program is designed to "plan and organize the future of the Medford area in an orderly, logical manner."

The chamber of commerce now has 436 members and operates on a budget of $27,000. This budget is considered inadequate to meet the growing needs of the Medford area, McNeil said. Klamath Falls, by way of comparison, has a budget of about $41,000.

In a public statement issued yesterday, the officers and directors of the chamber asked for the "cooperation of all persons, agencies and groups in the Medford area in this carefully planned program."

Emunson said the main problem facing the chamber is a financial one. He considered $40,000 to be a minimum budget and expressed hopes of exceeding that amount in the drive.

"We are also going to develop a new plan of work," Emunson said. "The chamber of commerce doesn't just represent a few people; it represents everyone in Jackson County. This is an all-out effort to re-organize and revitalize our program."

Taylor is expected to announce the appointment of division leaders soon.

Washington—(UPI)—Robert F. Buck was sworn in today as a deputy Small Business Administrator. His salary is $18,500 a year.

South African Women Protest Police Crackdown

Demonstrators Threaten Riots

Durban, South Africa—(UPI)—Angry native women demonstrated here and at suburban Lamontville today threatening to touch off a new wave of mass rioting in this port city.

The police had just gotten the situation under control after a night of sporadic battling with native groups when the women started again.

It was the women who first touched off the violence Wednesday night by marching on government owned beer halls to protest a police crackdown on their illegal breweries.

Two hundred women demonstrated at Lamontville but police believed they had the situation under control. Another 100 advanced on a beer hall in Victoria st. where the riot first began.

Fire Hoses Used
 Police used tear gas and fire hoses to scatter Africans and Indians who had gathered outside the Victoria st. beer hall.

An estimated 30,000 to 40,000 Zulu men and women stormed across a 10 mile area of the city Thursday, burning shops and battling police with bare hands, home made pistols and knobkerries, the traditional Zulu weapons.

Police said latest casualty figures showed three natives shot to death and more than 100 natives and police injured.

Group Plans for Human Rights Council in City

First steps towards organization of a human rights council for Medford, were taken at a meeting at First Methodist church last night.

A group from the Ashland Human Rights Council, which has been in operation for some time, and Mark A. Smith, Portland, administrator of the Civil Rights division of the Oregon bureau of labor, attended to assist the Medford group.

The group met at the call of Mrs. W. D. Pearson, Applegate, member of Medford Council of Church Women.

Smith spoke of "changes in the whole broad area of human relations" which have made necessary formation of such community groups. He said the question of whether "people of different ethnic origins can live together in Oregon in peace" must be faced and said when this question is answered around the world, we will "have the answer to war and peace."

Progress Made
 The speaker said great progress in human relations had been made in Oregon and the United States since World War II and listed influencing factors. These include integration of the armed forces and the National Guard, integration in national sports, repeal of the prohibition of interracial marriages and other.

Smith said that housing constitutes "one of the sharpest problems to be solved." In summing up he declared "the real answer lies in social concern and action in the community. The die is cast—the rest is up to us."

Group Appointed to Study Parking Plan

The Medford city council "drove round and round the block" last night in discussing a municipal off-street parking program.

Councilmen settled for Mayor John W. Snider's recommendation that a three-man committee be appointed to seek development of a constructive approach.

Mayor Snider named Councilmen Al Bradford, Ward II, Ed Hall, Ward I, and Stan Stark, Ward IV to the committee.

At stake in last night's discussion was some $15,000 in the 1959-60 city budget.

Raises Issue
 Councilman Hall, who raised the issue, asked first for reductions in the hours and rates of city parking meters. He pointed out that two years ago it was agreed to increase meter hours from 9 to 5 to 8 to 6, and raise rates on corner meters from a penny for 12 minutes to five cents for 30 minutes, as part of a program to raise funds for a municipal off-street parking program.

The increased annual revenue from the shifts has been estimated at $15,000.

Hall asserted that since the revenue had not been used for such a program, and would not be so used in 1959-60, the meters should revert to their former status.

John Moffat of Mann's Department store and Joe Materie of Montgomery Ward, representing downtown merchants, told the council the extra meter hours were an aggravation to customers. "Our complaints are really quite numerous," Moffat said.

Positive Approach
 Councilman Robert Baccus, Ward III, suggested a more positive approach. Instead of reducing the meter hours and rates, Baccus said, he would like to see a sinking fund established to assure use of the extra $15,000 for a city off-street parking program.

In either case, the $15,000 would have to be subtracted from proposed 1959-60 city budget general fund outlays.

Mayor John W. Snider suggested that if Hall's reduction request was to be considered, City Manager Robert A. Duff should submit a report showing the effect of the revenue loss on the budget.

A sinking fund should be established only if the city had a definite program for its use, Mayor Snider added.

When Materie, John Pletsch of Jackson County Federal Savings and Loan association and others expressed interest in the sinking fund proposal, Hall moved that it be established. He was seconded by Fred Robinson, Ward I.

Warns of Veto
 Mayor Snider warned he would veto the proposal. The tally against it was 4-3, with "Yes" votes from Councilmen Hall, Robinson and Baccus and "Nos" cast by Councilmen Robert Van Sickle, Ward III, Al Bradford, Ward II, and Stan Dunlevy, Ward IV and James Stark, Ward IV. Councilman Don Hansen, Ward II, was absent.

Hall declined after that to initiate a vote on his proposal to reduce meter rates and hours. But as a matter of conscience, he asserted, "Money shouldn't be collected for one purpose and used for another."

Mayor Snider then appointed Hall and two others to the three-man committee to meet with downtown merchants and try anew to develop a municipal parking program.

Medford Girl Elected To Supreme Court Post; Hood River Student Named Girls State Governor

Salem—(UPI)—Joan Yasui, Hood River, is the new governor of Girls State which is in progress here today.

The 17-year-old senior took over from Joy Rubenstein.

The inauguration was held in the chambers of the house of representatives.

The oath of office was administered by Janet Johnson, Salem, who was elected chief justice.

Gov. Yasui, of Japanese ancestry, will be the first girl to be student body president of her high school this coming year. She has been head majorette for two years.

Elected secretary of state was Linda Berry, Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis R. Berry.

State treasurer is Tamara Tweed, Monitor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Tweed.

Attorney general is Judy Rich, Albany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Rich.

Labor commissioner is Lynn Johnson, Grants Pass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Johnson.

Marilyn Smith, Coos Bay, was elected superintendent of public instruction. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Smith.

Aside from Chief Justice Johnson, girls elected to the Supreme Court were: Genevieve Browning, Oswego; Donna Krausnick, Hillsboro; Janet Larsen, Silverton; Ruth Danielson, Coos Bay; Linda Lowry, Medford; and Kathleen Donaldson, Coos Bay.

After the inauguration of the new governor, greetings were extended by Mrs. Vernon D. Reynolds, Prairie City, director of Girl State.

Gov. Mark Hatfield also spoke.

The girls—257 of them—visited the Supreme Court today. Chief Justice William McAllister explained the functions of the court and he was particularly interested because his own girl was a Girls State citizen eight years ago.

Saturday, the Girls State senate and house of representatives will hold a session in the capitol building. They will debate and pass laws.

Fund-Raising Plan For $15,000 for Pool Is Approved

Council Postpones Action on Project

A $15,000 fund-raising effort to bolster financing for the West Jackson st. swimming pool project was approved last night by the Medford city council.

Approval of preliminary plans for the project was postponed at the same time to the council's July 2 meeting.

The $15,000 would permit construction of a separate diving tank adjacent to the proposed pool.

"I don't think this $15,000 represents much of a challenge at all," Mayor John W. Snider said in proposing the drive for private funds. "I think it could be done."

Individual residents and service clubs would be among likely donors, Mayor Snider said.

The council generally agreed that constructing the pool alone, with the estimated $75,000 now available, would be unsatisfactory.

Calling a special election for a bond issue to raise extra funds was also discussed. "I don't know if I could support a bond issue," Mayor Snider commented.

He explained that while constructing the pool was an immediate concern it did not necessarily hold top priority in the city's parks and recreation program. Other projects might come first if funds were to be sought through bonding, he said.

Postpone Action
 The fund-raising drive was not voted upon as such last night. Nor was a committee appointed to take charge of it. But the council's approval of a motion by Councilman Al Bradford, Ward II, to postpone action on the preliminary plans to July 2 carried the understanding that funds would be sought.

The campaign at the outset is expected to be informal, and conducted for the most part through private contacts. July 2 would not necessarily be an absolute deadline.

Plans for the pool were discussed before the council by Loren Thompson, consulting engineer for the project from Portland.

Thompson, quizzed at length by the councilmen, said a larger pool and the diving pool facility would be desirable if funds were available. He stated that if the $15,000 diving tank were built at the same time as the pool, a 15 per cent saving could be expected.

(Continued on Page 10)

Ashland Man Burned At Keene Creek Dam

William Berry Thompson, 41, of 1800 East Main st., Ashland, was reported in critical condition today following a tractor accident on Keene Creek dam construction in the Talent project yesterday afternoon.

Thompson was burned on 80 per cent of his body, state police said. He was taken to the Ashland General hospital by Litwiller Ambulance Service. Thompson removed the gas cap from a tractor which was still running. Gas fumes were ignited by the tractor exhaust and the flames went an estimated 20 feet in the air, setting Thompson's clothing on fire, state police were told.

'BANDITS' CRUSHED—A huge hydraulic press that is used to compact scrap iron into bales at Huffman Brothers Auto Parts, Medford, was used yesterday to smash 40 "one-armed bandits" and one pinball machine confiscated recently by area law enforcement bodies. Above Sheriff Joe Walsh inspects the remains of four of the machines after they had gone through the press. Looking on are Chief Criminal Deputy Paul Bettel with the sheriff's office and State Police Sergeant Fay Holley. The press did a thorough job and was much easier than breaking them up with a sledge hammer. The gambling devices were picked up at various locations in the valley by state police, Medford city police, and the sheriff's department.

Group Appointed to Study Parking Plan

The Medford city council "drove round and round the block" last night in discussing a municipal off-street parking program.

Councilmen settled for Mayor John W. Snider's recommendation that a three-man committee be appointed to seek development of a constructive approach.

Mayor Snider named Councilmen Al Bradford, Ward II, Ed Hall, Ward I, and Stan Stark, Ward IV to the committee.

At stake in last night's discussion was some $15,000 in the 1959-60 city budget.

Raises Issue
 Councilman Hall, who raised the issue, asked first for reductions in the hours and rates of city parking meters. He pointed out that two years ago it was agreed to increase meter hours from 9 to 5 to 8 to 6, and raise rates on corner meters from a penny for 12 minutes to five cents for 30 minutes, as part of a program to raise funds for a municipal off-street parking program.

The increased annual revenue from the shifts has been estimated at $15,000.

Hall asserted that since the revenue had not been used for such a program, and would not be so used in 1959-60, the meters should revert to their former status.

John Moffat of Mann's Department store and Joe Materie of Montgomery Ward, representing downtown merchants, told the council the extra meter hours were an aggravation to customers. "Our complaints are really quite numerous," Moffat said.

Positive Approach
 Councilman Robert Baccus, Ward III, suggested a more positive approach. Instead of reducing the meter hours and rates, Baccus said, he would like to see a sinking fund established to assure use of the extra $15,000 for a city off-street parking program.

In either case, the $15,000 would have to be subtracted from proposed 1959-60 city budget general fund outlays.

Mayor John W. Snider suggested that if Hall's reduction request was to be considered, City Manager Robert A. Duff should submit a report showing the effect of the revenue loss on the budget.

A sinking fund should be established only if the city had a definite program for its use, Mayor Snider added.

When Materie, John Pletsch of Jackson County Federal Savings and Loan association and others expressed interest in the sinking fund proposal, Hall moved that it be established. He was seconded by Fred Robinson, Ward I.

Warns of Veto
 Mayor Snider warned he would veto the proposal. The tally against it was 4-3, with "Yes" votes from Councilmen Hall, Robinson and Baccus and "Nos" cast by Councilmen Robert Van Sickle, Ward III, Al Bradford, Ward II, and Stan Dunlevy, Ward IV and James Stark, Ward IV. Councilman Don Hansen, Ward II, was absent.

Hall declined after that to initiate a vote on his proposal to reduce meter rates and hours. But as a matter of conscience, he asserted, "Money shouldn't be collected for one purpose and used for another."

Mayor Snider then appointed Hall and two others to the three-man committee to meet with downtown merchants and try anew to develop a municipal parking program.

Medford Girl Elected To Supreme Court Post; Hood River Student Named Girls State Governor

Salem—(UPI)—Joan Yasui, Hood River, is the new governor of Girls State which is in progress here today.

The 17-year-old senior took over from Joy Rubenstein.

The inauguration was held in the chambers of the house of representatives.

The oath of office was administered by Janet Johnson, Salem, who was elected chief justice.

Gov. Yasui, of Japanese ancestry, will be the first girl to be student body president of her high school this coming year. She has been head majorette for two years.

Elected secretary of state was Linda Berry, Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis R. Berry.

State treasurer is Tamara Tweed, Monitor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Tweed.

Attorney general is Judy Rich, Albany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Rich.

Labor commissioner is Lynn Johnson, Grants Pass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Johnson.

Marilyn Smith, Coos Bay, was elected superintendent of public instruction. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Smith.

Aside from Chief Justice Johnson, girls elected to the Supreme Court were: Genevieve Browning, Oswego; Donna Krausnick, Hillsboro; Janet Larsen, Silverton; Ruth Danielson, Coos Bay; Linda Lowry, Medford; and Kathleen Donaldson, Coos Bay.

After the inauguration of the new governor, greetings were extended by Mrs. Vernon D. Reynolds, Prairie City, director of Girl State.

Gov. Mark Hatfield also spoke.

The girls—257 of them—visited the Supreme Court today. Chief Justice William McAllister explained the functions of the court and he was particularly interested because his own girl was a Girls State citizen eight years ago.

Saturday, the Girls State senate and house of representatives will hold a session in the capitol building. They will debate and pass laws.

Ministers Agree To Recess Until Middle of July

Compromise Offer On Berlin Rejected

Geneva—(UPI)—The Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference collapsed today. East and West agreed only to recess until mid-July and then try again for a peace settlement.

Western sources reported that a final plenary session will be held Saturday, at which both sides probably will place their positions formally on the record. Then the four foreign ministers will return to their homes for a three week "cooling off period."

U.S. Secretary of State Christian Herter and his western partners, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, told Russia's foreign minister Andrei Gromyko there was no point in continuing the present talks.

Deadline on Berlin
 But, with a deadline still hanging over Berlin, the West was unwilling to see the talks completely broken off. Gromyko agreed to come back to a new round of bargaining July 13.

After two sessions with Gromyko today, the western ministers retired to French delegation headquarters to chart an announcement to the world.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev plunger the cold war thermometer to a new low for the year with a Moscow speech rejecting the West's final compromise offer on Berlin's future.

Khrushchev offered to lift his time limit for allied occupation of West Berlin from a year to 18 months in exchange for peace treaty negotiations which would place East and West Germany on equal footing.

Plan Unacceptable
 The West immediately turned down the plan as unacceptable.

Simultaneously, the Soviet Union rejected the West's final compromise plan for Berlin.

It was another Soviet move to keep the talks going, while refusing to meet allied demands for Russian guarantees of allied occupation rights in West Berlin.

Group Appointed to Study Parking Plan

The Medford city council "drove round and round the block" last night in discussing a municipal off-street parking program.

Councilmen settled for Mayor John W. Snider's recommendation that a three-man committee be appointed to seek development of a constructive approach.

Mayor Snider named Councilmen Al Bradford, Ward II, Ed Hall, Ward I, and Stan Stark, Ward IV to the committee.

At stake in last night's discussion was some $15,000 in the 1959-60 city budget.

Raises Issue
 Councilman Hall, who raised the issue, asked first for reductions in the hours and rates of city parking meters. He pointed out that two years ago it was agreed to increase meter hours from 9 to 5 to 8 to 6, and raise rates on corner meters from a penny for 12 minutes to five cents for 30 minutes, as part of a program to raise funds for a municipal off-street parking program.

The increased annual revenue from the shifts has been estimated at $15,000.

Hall asserted that since the revenue had not been used for such a program, and would not be so used in 1959-60, the meters should revert to their former status.

John Moffat of Mann's Department store and Joe Materie of Montgomery Ward, representing downtown merchants, told the council the extra meter hours were an aggravation to customers. "Our complaints are really quite numerous," Moffat said.

Positive Approach
 Councilman Robert Baccus, Ward III, suggested a more positive approach. Instead of reducing the meter hours and rates, Baccus said, he would like to see a sinking fund established to assure use of the extra $15,000 for a city off-street parking program.

In either case, the $15,000 would have to be subtracted from proposed 1959-60 city budget general fund outlays.

Mayor John W. Snider suggested that if Hall's reduction request was to be considered, City Manager Robert A. Duff should submit a report showing the effect of the revenue loss on the budget.

A sinking fund should be established only if the city had a definite program for its use, Mayor Snider added.

When Materie, John Pletsch of Jackson County Federal Savings and Loan association and others expressed interest in the sinking fund proposal, Hall moved that it be established. He was seconded by Fred Robinson, Ward I.

Warns of Veto
 Mayor Snider warned he would veto the proposal. The tally against it was 4-3, with "Yes" votes from Councilmen Hall, Robinson and Baccus and "Nos" cast by Councilmen Robert Van Sickle, Ward III, Al Bradford, Ward II, and Stan Dunlevy, Ward IV and James Stark, Ward IV. Councilman Don Hansen, Ward II, was absent.

Hall declined after that to initiate a vote on his proposal to reduce meter rates and hours. But as a matter of conscience, he asserted, "Money shouldn't be collected for one purpose and used for another."

Mayor Snider then appointed Hall and two others to the three-man committee to meet with downtown merchants and try anew to develop a municipal parking program.

FTC Study Moves To West Coast

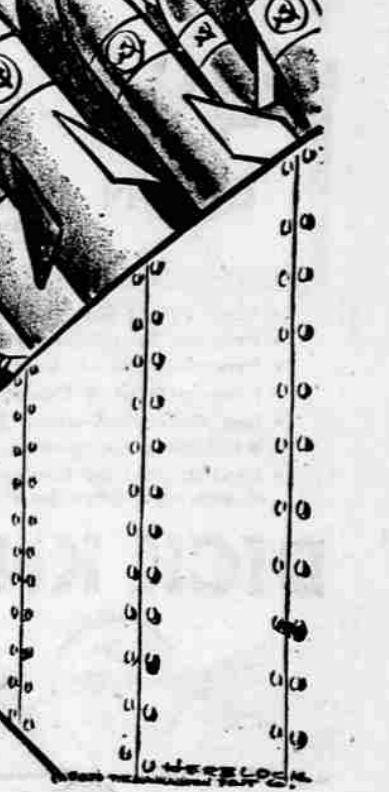

The Federal Trade Commission's investigation of shoe labeling has shifted to the West Coast, Wilbur L. Gardner said today.

Gardner is the Medford shoe repairman at whose recommendation Rep. Charles Porter introduced a bill in Congress requiring shoe manufacturers to label the shoe components.

The commission's investigations have thus far been confined to the East and Midwest, but Gardner said they have now moved to Seattle. A representative of the commission flew down for a three-hour talk with him yesterday.

According to Gardner, the bill has little chance of passing during this session of Congress, but he expects it to be carried over until next year. He has been working on this project for 2½ years.

"What Are You Trying To Do, Blow Up The Place?"

Washington—(UPI)—Robert F. Buck was sworn in today as a deputy Small Business Administrator. His salary is $18,500 a year.

WEATHER

FORECAST: Chance of afternoon and evening thunderstorms over Siskiyou and Cascade; otherwise fair and hot through Saturday. Low tonight 65. High Saturday 95.

Highest Yesterday	Temp. 96
Lowest this Morning	59

Our Skies Tonight

Sunset today	7:52 p.m.
Sunrise tomorrow	4:34 a.m.
Moonrise today	6:41 p.m.
Full Moon	June 20

A search of the sky near Venus with a telescope tonight would reveal the planet, Uranus. Uranus is now about 1,800,000,000 miles away and is in the constellation, Cancer, where it has been since 1955.