Portland Beavers Tip Phoenix 2-1

United Press International
Milt Graff's double in the bottom of the seventh inning gave the Portland Beavers a 2-1 victory over Phoenix in the last game of a PCL series in Multnomah Stadium Friday night.

Portland's Mary Kutyna hurled a three-hitter to give the Beavers their second straight win over Phoenix to take the series 2-1. Kutyna now has a 6-4 record while absorbed his seventh loss in eight decisions.

Early Lead

The Beavers jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Charlie Secret drew a base on balls, advanced to second on Russ Snyder's single and scored as George Freese singled over the third baseman's head.

Phoenix tied the score in the sixth inning when Hyman tripled and scored on Jose Pagan's single.

Graff's double in the bottom of the seventh drove Jim Westlake, who had doubled, across with the winning tally.

It was a heartbreaking loss for Hyman, who had limited the Beavers to two hits before the fateful seventh inning.

The Sacramento Solons, in the midst of a grueling endurance test, open a battle for Pacific Coast league supremacy with Vancouver tonight.

The Sacs will be playing their third doubleheader in as many nights.

Bob Elliott's league leaders picked up revenge for their double loss to last place Seattle Wednesday night, by twice beating the Rainiers by identical 2-1 scores.

Vancouver dropped back a half game to two games out as it had to come from behind for the second straight night to edge Salt Lake, 10-9, in 11 innings.

Third place San Diego split a pair with Spokane, winning the first contest 8-1, then dropping the second, 4-3. Portland moved into fourth place by again defeating Phoenix.

A pair of second line pitchers were responsible for keeping the Solons in the top spot. Roger Osenbaugh and Bob Bowman, both of whom have seen only limited action so far this year, tossed sterling ball for the Sacs.

Bowman pitched a five hitter in the seven inning opener and Osenbaugh held the Rainiers to one run over 10 innings despite 11 Seattle hits. Clay Dalrymple batted in both runs in the first game with a fourth inning single.

Pinch Hit Wins

Eddie Kazak lined a pinch hit single to center in the 10th inning of the second game to score Milt Smith who had opened the frame with a double to win that contest.

Vancouver's Charley Metro used up all his available pitching as he masterminded the 10-9 win over Salt Lake. Erv Palica, the sixth Mountie pitcher, got credit for the win.

An infield hit by Brooks Robinson in the 11th drove in the winning run.

R. C. Stevens, who had four hits in six trips, paced the Bees to an early 3-3 lead. But the Mounties came back in what is becoming regular fashion. Robinson had three clutch hits and Ron Hansen put the game into overtime with a key single.

Spokane built up a 4-1 lead in the first four innings in the second game and then held on to outlast the Padres. San Diego got 12 hits to seven by Spokane.

Ben Wade, who came in after rookie Larry Miller had thrown only six pitches, was given the win, his first of the year. Steve Bilko hit a two run homer for the Indians in the third and Allan Jones hit a solo shot for the Padres in the seventh.

Oklahomans Capture NCAA Baseball Title

Omaha, Neb. - (UP) - Oklahoma State's rough-riding Cowboys rule college baseball today.

The Cowpokes upended Arizona, 5-3, Thursday night in the finals of the NCAA college world series.

Ben Bancroft whacked a homer and Bruce Andrew tripled in the winning run in the seventh inning to give Oklahoma State the crown. A squeeze bunt by Connie McIlvay added an insurance run.

That outburst spoiled a fine pitching performance by Arizona's junior righthander, Dave Baldwin. He had given up five hits and a pair of runs through six innings and was enjoying a 3-2 lead.

Toby Bensinger, who had been a relief specialist throughout the season, started for the Cowpokes, but needed help in the fourth from Dick Soergel. Soergel, Oklahoma State's first six-letter man in 13 years, went five and one-third innings, giving up two runs and three hits.

It was the second final-round disappointment for Arizona fans. In 1956, the Cats lost, 12-1, to Minnesota. Both Arizona and Oklahoma State had made four unsuccessful trips to the national tourney.

Woods, Water, Wildlife

By Hank DeVoss

While on my way to Ashland today I saw a young buck with his antlers still in the velvet and he looked like he might be a forked horn. Seeing him reminded me of the nearness of fall and another hunting season. He also reminded me of his brothers who didn't make it through the poaching season.

POACHER'S LAMENT

I used to have a neighbor who told me that the good old days were the best and that he quit fishing when they passed all those carnal laws so that a fellow couldn't have any fun any more. His idea of fun was to go to the river with a few sticks of dynamite, a friend and a wagon; find a spot where the salmon were jumping; throw in a stick or two and then reap the harvest of stunned fish. These were then taken to Grants Pass and sold.

Those were the good old days when lots of sports would salt down a lick, bait it with tin can alarms, tie an old rocking chair in the nearby tree and spend a quiet evening with flashlight and gun waiting for the wary blacktail. This was an easy way to get winter meat and those sightseers who are interested can still find some of these old sets near abandoned mining claims.

LIVING IN THE PAST

Our present difficulty with game law violators is that many of them are still living in the past when there was plenty for the taking, instead of now when hunters are hunted and some fishermen get hooked. It has been said that the game law violator is a thief and that he is stealing from all of us. With so many people turning to the enjoyments of hunting and fishing, there certainly is a need for rules in order to prevent the destruction of our wildlife populations.

We should realize that the rule breakers are the ones who force more rules upon us and we will help them unless we can convince ourselves of their thievery. No one would deny a starry, fine man food to feed himself, but how long are we going to allow people to make money from the sale of game birds and game animals; how long are we going to let hogs catch so many fish they rot in the freezers? Not too long, I hope.

POSSIBLE TROUT CLOSURE

The game commission is conducting a creel census of the middle section of the Rogue river in conjunction with future management plans of a possible closure of this part of the river. The creel census indicates that 90.3 per cent of the fish caught are immature steelhead heading for the ocean, 5.8 per cent are hatchery rainbows, 1.7 per cent are marked summer steelhead (planted fish) and the rest are salmon or cutthroat trout. There were two fish per angler and 0.707 fish caught per angling hour.

The commission believes that we can't fish for steelhead at both ends of the life cycle and since the large, mature fish provides the most sport, fishing for babies will have to go. Don't worry, the middle section is below Savage Rapids.

NO SALMON BELOW

Reports indicate there are very few salmon in evidence below Savage rapids and total run now stands at about 10,000 over Gold Ray dam. The water temperature there last week got to 63 degrees, which is usually reached in July. The man who probably knows best claims we might get 2,000 more if we're lucky. If this is true, I would like to see a closure by the first of July at the latest.

THE ANGLER'S LOG

The game commission planted 35,000 trout, some almost 12 inches long, in the Rogue and tributaries, starting up at the North fork down to Grants Pass. These fish have been giving the tourists and frustrated salmon anglers a hot time during this week. Let's hope they last awhile.

Lake of the Woods
Has been hotter than a firecracker. Lots of fish over 15 inches. Green flatfish and orange triple-teaser are doing the business.

Fish Lake
Has been pretty good with lots of limits. Still fishing with single eggs is the best bet. Fish are averaging 8 1/2 inches with one or two 10-inchers in every limit.

Klamath Lake
Has been picking up. Everybody is getting fish. Mrs. Charlene Stephenson of Medford made the big fish board at Harriman's with a 5 1/2 pounder. Caught on a Freak. Best lures are Andy Reekers, flatfish and Freaks. Fast trolling works best on all but the flatfish. Flyfishing at the mouth of Harriman's creek is good in the evening.

Willow Creek
Is slow during the day. Nice catches are made early and late on a trolled fly. The fish are active in the evening but seem to prefer a Royal coachman trolled straight.

Crescent Lake
Very good for Kokanee using Spin-n-glo or worms in front of a flasher.

Diamond Lake
Fishing is only fair. Still fishing with single eggs is doing best. Kamloops are nearing the end of their spawning activities.

THE OPTIMIST'S CORNER

The Army engineers are going to give us a look at their preliminary report on the Rogue river on June 25 at 8 p.m. in the Josephine county courthouse at Grants Pass. Let's hope their plans include plenty of water, plenty of flood control and little harm to the fishery.
GOOD LUCK!

All-Comers Track Meet on Saturday

Junior events at 10 a.m. Saturday open the summer track and field meet scheduled at the Medford Senior High school stadium. High school and open divisions of the meet are set for 5 p.m.

Saturday's activity will be the first of five such all-comers meets here. The competition is open to any boy or girl with AAU membership and is under sponsorship of the Olympic Development program of the Oregon AAU. Memberships in the amateur organization will be available at the registrar's table Saturday.

Field events will begin both the morning and evening sessions of the rivalry. First running contest for juniors will be at 10:15 a.m. Opening race for the older groups will be at 5:30 p.m.

Meets Have Aim
Junior events are for those in the age groups of 9-10, 11-12, 13-14 and 15-16 years. High school division is for 17 and 18-year-olds. Open division will include college age entrants and others.

If entries are sufficient there will be the regular full program of events for high school and open classes.

With the meets it is hoped to set up an annual plan, giving a well-organized yearly program geared to keep southern Oregon in the state's track and field scene. The contention here is pattered after all-comers competition which has been held in Portland and Eugene.

The meets conducted here by Don Spinas and Dean Benson will be flexible in nature with events staged according to interest and demand. Girls competition is currently outlined for the younger entries but it is hoped that interest among the older ones will arise. There may be rivalry for boys under nine years of age if sufficient entry is gained.

Contestants are advised to arrive at the stadium a half-hour to an hour ahead of the time of their first events in order to register and warm up properly.

Athletes have been informed that they cannot enter both the half-mile and mile. They must choose between the events.

Spinas said that the meet Saturday will be operated on a strict time schedule.

He made no announcement concerning "name" entries in the meet.

Seattle Attorney Takes Life in Hotel

Seattle - (UP) - Thomas E. DeWolfe, 57, prominent Seattle attorney, committed suicide here Thursday afternoon shortly after registering at the Morrison Hotel.

King County Coroner Leo Sowers said DeWolfe apparently died of self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

Sowers said DeWolfe, a retired naval commander, left a note to the coroner's office explaining his medical history and leaving instructions for his burial.

Illegally Fixing Prices Charged

Vancouver, B. C. - (UP) - The British Columbia fishing industry Thursday was accused of illegally fixing salmon and herring prices.

A report by a federal investigator named the United Fishermen's Union and three of its officials, four companies and two other organizations. The issue apparently was concerned with negotiations and agreements between the union and companies on prices the fishermen will get for their catches.
