

Registrations Taken for Course

Registration for the two-week Red Cross water safety instructors course will continue through 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Hawthorne pool. The course is open to all persons 18 years of age or older who hold senior life saving certificates, Robert Haworth, city parks and recreation director, said.

The classes will be held daily, 9 a.m. to noon, from June 22 to July 3. Those completing the work successfully will be certified as Red Cross water safety instructors.

All life guards and instructors at the city pool will take the course, Haworth said, and it is hoped that others who plan to teach in the Medford area will take advantage of the instruction.

The first week will be devoted to the perfection of swimming and life saving skills and the second to instruction techniques and practice teaching.

In-service training for Hawthorne pool employees will be given by Ed Knapp, director of the Hawthorne pool. Mrs. Helen Tweedy will be in charge of the swimming and life saving.

Ed Stocking, Red Cross area representative from Eugene, will direct the second week on teaching.

Eagle Point Drive Is Progressing

Eagle Point—The fund raising drive in Eagle Point for a new Scout Community Center building is progressing better than anticipated, according to Harry Hanscom, chairman.

Through the efforts of many residents, about one-eighth of the funds have been realized. The building committee met June 17 to discuss plans and report on what has been done. Hanscom stated that anyone who has not been contacted or wishes to contribute to the fund may call him at Hillcrest 6-3852 or write to box 393, Eagle Point.

Included in the discussion was the point that any organization that wishes to assist in the creation of the new park may also contact Hanscom.

Julie Tummers will entertain the company at the Mon Desir Dining Inn, Central Point, in the annual "Twelfth Night Revel," which occurs 12 nights after the company meets for the first time. The Revel has been held for the past three years.

Production work on "The Masque of the New World" began early last week. The special production, written for the festival company as a salute to Oregon's Centennial, involves the major portion of the theater group. Directed by Jerry Turner, it will prologue each performance of "Twelfth Night" during the festival season.

The 40-night season opens July 28.

Woman Only Saying Hello To Husband

San Francisco—Police converged on Nancy Bell, 28, of Mill Valley, Thursday when she was spotted acting suspiciously near the north tower of the Golden Gate Bridge.

She explained she had no plans to commit suicide, but was merely signaling "hello, darling" in Morse code to her merchant marine husband who was returning from a six month voyage to the Far East.

News About Books From the Library

Summertime is "light-reading" time, according to Mrs. Jane Baker, Medford librarian. In the summer a good many Jackson county readers turn from their winter studies to the reading of fiction or less serious non-fiction.

In addition to the usual heavy demand for mysteries, westerns, and science fiction at the Medford Public Library, there are increasing requests for books on outdoor sports, travel, and especially best-selling novels.

"How to keep within the library's book budget and yet buy most of the novels that library patrons will want is one of the big problems of a librarian, Mrs. Baker said.

Since it is not possible for the librarians to read all of the books before they are purchased, the library subscribes to various book reviewing services, which print in advance a synopsis of the plot and comment on its literary merit and probable success. The following books have been added to the Jackson County library's adult collection this month:

Serious fiction: Mrs. Panopoulis, Golden; Love and Money, Clad; The Chains of Love, Oldenbourg; The Sweetbread, Maurois; The Little Disturbances of Man, Paley.

Historical romance: The Light Infantry Ball, Basso; Celia Garth, Bristow; The Young Titan, Mason; Taos, Blacker; Born of the Sun, Culp.

Adventure stories: The Stars Are Too High, Bahnsen; Pack of Sunset, Cleary; Adventure's End, Harris; The Man From Sonora, London.

Romance: The Hill is Level, Marshall; A Tigress in the Village, Swinnerton; FBI Girl, Marlowe; The Yellow House, Shepard.

Mysteries: Prelude to Murder, Gilbert; A Red Rose for Maria, Downes; The 87th Precinct, McBain; Malice Matrimonial, Fleming.

Sports: Famous Guns From the Winchester Collection, Bowman; The Experts' Book of Boating, Brindze; It Takes Heart, Allen.

House and garden: Kiplinger's Family Buying Guide, Changing Times; Designs for Outdoor Living, Brimer; Tree Fruit Production, Shoemaker; Ornamental Trees, Maino; How You Can Grow Beautiful Roses, Flower Grower; Indoor Gardening, Flower Grower.

Travel and adventure: Wonders of the World, Cottrell; How To Travel Without Being Rich, Strong; Mount Hope, Howe; Tahiti Nui, De Bisschop.

History and biography: The Long Road to Humanity, Colbenz; The Hidden Face, Gorres; Kangaroo in the Kitchen, D'Essen; Last of the Great Outlaws, Croy; Memoirs of a Dutiful Daughter, De Beauvoir; My God and My All, Goudge.

Social subjects: Drinking and Intoxication, McCarthy; Escape to Utopia, Webber; The Independent Federal Regulatory Agencies, Salomon; Who Live in Shadow, Murtagh; Cross-Currents, Forster.

Other non-fiction: On the Track of Unknown Animals, Heuvelmans; Why I Am an Episcopalian, Krumm; Practical Electronics, Hertzberg; Mechanix Illustrated Small Car Guide, Philips; Things That Go Bump in the Night, Jones.

Teen-age: Carol of Long Chance Mine, Reynolds; Perilous Pilgrimage, Treese; Elaine Forrest, Visiting Nurse, Hobart; Bonus Kid, Archibald; Crow Killer, Thorp.

Stone Reviews Plan for Parks

Washington, D.C.—Recreational development in the vicinity of the Oregon Caves has been outlined to Congressman Charles O. Porter (D-Ore) by Forest Service Regional Forester, J. Herbert Stone of Portland.

The regional forester said the entire Sucker creek area "will receive early examination in our National Forest Outdoor Recreation Review program."

"This year the forest service plans to complete the rehabilitation work started in the present Grayback camp ground. It also will maintain the site until inundation by the proposed Sucker creek reclamation project "forces its abandonment." Stone said future site planning will involve areas above the proposed pool. He said the Powder House site is one of those which will receive immediate attention.

Porter said he was pleased with the announcement and the fact that the forest service recognized the recreational potential of the area. The regional forester told Porter the existing facilities at the Grayback camp ground and the development of the Powder House site "should accommodate the recreation use until the Sucker Creek dam is constructed."

The regional forester said the forest service estimates that inaccessibility of the upper Sucker Creek and Bigelow lakes area will mean "as much as six to ten years before the potential recreation sites" of the two areas can be developed.

Earlier this year, Stone told the congressman that should use of the Oregon Caves area demand immediate relief, a four-acre site is available just across the Caves highway for a temporary camp ground.

Porter had contacted the forest service to learn what sort of recreational development was planned for the Oregon Caves National Monument area.
