

New University Group Starts Wednesday Under Hamilton

San Francisco—UPI—The new Athletic Association of Western Universities goes into business officially Wednesday with none other than Rear Adm. (Ret.) Tom Hamilton in command of the ship.

Hamilton, former Naval Academy football coach and athletic director at University of Pittsburgh for the past decade, accepted the new post Monday on a five-year contract.

He will come West today to meet officials in San Francisco and Los Angeles, then return to Pittsburgh until Aug. 1. He takes over his new duties on Sept. 1, with headquarters in San Francisco.

As "executive officer" of the AAUW, Hamilton will direct the athletic activities of Southern California, Washington, California and UCLA in the new conference, which succeeds the old Pacific Coast Conference.

"I took the post because of the fine opportunity," said Hamilton, "I have been working for a great university. Now I can work for four great universities."

More Schools Expected

It is probable that before Hamilton is settled in his new office very long there will be more than four schools in the conference. Stanford has been asked to join and President Dr. Wallace Sterling is looking into the feasibility of becoming the fifth member. It is possible that Oregon, Oregon State and Washington State also may be asked to join.

Most of these schools already are on each other's football schedules for at least the next five or six years. They also compete against each other in basketball, track and field, golf, swimming, wrestling, boxing, baseball, etc.

Hamilton has been contacted to take the job more than a month ago. He was one of several who were considered for the post.

SF Presidio Beats Camp White 12-10

Memorial Stadium, Camp White—Road weary, slow starting and down six runs after four innings, San Francisco Presidio reduced its deficit in the middle innings then piled up five runs in the ninth panel to overcome the Camp White semi-pro baseball team 12 to 10 in a loose contest here last night.

Camp White led 6 to 0 after four innings. The Army nine had the White edge cut to 8 to 7 after seven cantos but the home club looked safe after two runs in the eighth stanza made it 10 to 7.

Then, Gary Hueners, second Camp White relief pitcher in the game, walked the first three batters he faced in the ninth inning. Jack Turk was summoned to the hill from center field and gave up a two-base hit to Jack Huckabay. To this was added a safety by Ralph White, a bad hop single by Jim Penny and two errors for more than enough runs for the Army. Camp White couldn't get a

"We are extremely pleased we were able to attract Hamilton," said Dr. Frank Kidner, faculty athletic representative at University of California and chairman of the organizing committee for the association. "He is a national figure who commands respect among his colleagues in intercollegiate athletics."

Man on base in the ninth

Errors and walks hurt Camp White but Presidio helped itself with 12 hits as White socked four for six and Huckabay three for five. The White's had their punch at the plate, too, with 11 hits. Jack Brown tripled and singled twice in four official batting turns while Bill Weddle tripled and doubled in five turns. Wayne Allen and Don Wendt connected two for four.

Huckabay, White and Brown each had three runs batted in and Allen drove home two. The White's manufactured a first inning tally on a base on balls, a groundout by Bob Smith and a single by Brown. Three more were added in the second frame, singles by Don Sanford and Allen, a walk, an error and a sacrifice fly by Smith. The two in the fourth were on safe swats by Vern Parent and Allen and two miscues.

Three Army Swats

Army chalked up its first two runs in the fifth session on an error, consecutive hits by Huckabay, White and Jake DeSousa, a wild pitch and a stolen base. Camp White picked up a single score in the same inning on a hit by Wendt, an error and a wild pitch for 7 to 2.

Each team tabulated in the sixth canto, Presidio in an error, walk and Joe Chiamparino's safety and the hosts on Weddle's three-master and Brown's sacrifice flyout.

CW's first relief man Jim Eggers, issued three bases on balls to the Toreros in the seventh inning along with a hit to Larry Bain. Eggers was lifted for Hueners who allowed a hit by Huckabay before retiring the side. The walks, hits and one error accounted for the four runs which narrowed the game to 8 to 7.

Hueners walked a man in the eighth inning and a sacrifice put the runner on second. But, the twirler struck out two batters and the situation brightened for Camp White. It even looked better when a double by Weddle, a single by Brown, plus two bases on balls, manufactured the two runs in the eighth for the home club.

Bubble Bursts
Then the bubble burst completely in the ninth. The Toreros got four of their runs off Eggers, three each off Sanford and Hueners and two off Turk. Sanford was tagged for the most hits, seven, but pitched effectively until tiring in the fifth inning. Hueners permitted four bases on balls and Sanford and Eggers each three.

Camp White found Ted Remington for six of its hits, DeSousa for three and Gene Lippold for two. Runs charged to each of the Presidio pitchers matched his number of hits. Army tossers allowed a total of six bases on balls.

LINE SCORE:
Presidio 12, Camp White 10. 10-11-6 Remington, DeSousa (4), Lippold (7) and Willingham; Sanford, Eggers (6), Hueners (7), Turk (9) and Weddle.

SCORING STAR DIES
Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—UPI—Joseph D. Korshalla, who scored 71 points and gained 504 yards in a single game for West Liberty State Teachers college, W. Va., in 1932, died Monday at the age of 51. Korshalla was employed as a tree surgeon at the time of his death.

INDIANS BUY VALO
Cleveland, Ohio—UPI—The Cleveland Indians have announced the purchase of veteran outfielder Elmer Valo from Seattle of the Pacific Coast league and option of outfielder Carroll Hardy to the same club.

COLEY CHOSEN DUCK ASSISTANT
University of Oregon, Eugene—Max Coley, San Jose State college assistant football coach since 1955, has been appointed assistant football coach at the University of Oregon, it was announced here Saturday by athletic director Leo Harris.

Coley, who will report here in two or three weeks to begin his new assignment, replaces Johnny McKay on Coach Len Casanova's staff. McKay, a nine-year veteran of the Duck coaching staff, resigned three months ago.

Eliminator Laurels Won By Lou Wolff

Lou Wolff, Ashland's roadster-turned-dragster skipper, eliminated all comers Sunday in the Southern Oregon Timing association drag races in west Camp White.

With Wolff at the wheel the sleek little Ford flathead-engined entry won most of its elimination races by getting a good take off from the starting line against its competitors. The driver owed due credit for the victory to Wayne Wiley, his partner and co-builder of the machine.

The 111.11 miles per hour recorded did not indicate a fast top speed attained at the end of the one-fourth mile timing trap. However, Wolff's elapsed time for the distance, 12.34 seconds, was indicative of his fast start and ability to get over the finish line before his rivals could catch him.

Black Time Best
During the top eliminations run-offs, he raced past top cycle driver Bert Beck, Rogue River, and then returned to defeat Noel Black, Medford, for the top-eliminator trophy.

Black did win the top time trophy with a mark of 116.58 mph. He was plagued with the same type of ignition trouble that caused him to lose the top eliminator race at Redding last Sunday.

Ken Allison, Brookings, again copped the little eliminator award as he gunned his 1958 Plymouth running in "B" gas class past all other entrants for this trophy. Allison's best time of the day was 91.74.

Over 90 entrants from Oregon and California were on hand to provide plenty of action for the good-sized spectator crowd that turned out to view the races.

The next drag races, sponsored by Southern Oregon Timing association are scheduled for Sunday, July 12, at the Camp White strip.

Following are the results of yesterday's races showing class, top time, elapsed time, entrant, and type of car in that order:

Giants Tounce Ashland 16-9
Medford Giants defeated Ashland 16 to 9 here during intermediate class play yesterday.

The Giants got only two hits in the first inning, but a series of errors and balls gave them the 11 run margin and a lead which they held through the final inning. The big blow of the game and first inning was made by Steve Ettels who hit into a homer with two men on. Steve Isaacs scored a single for the other hit of the inning.

The Giants tapered off with three runs in the second inning, none in the third and fourth innings, one in the fifth and none in the sixth. Ashland also started heavy in the first inning, scoring four runs. The three hits in the first inning were all singles scored by Samuelson, Dickerson and Robinson for Ashland. Ashland also dropped off in the other frames with one run in the second, two in the third, none in the fourth, one in the fifth, none in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Batteries were Rhodes and Center for Ashland and Ettels, Teague pitcher in the sixth and Nuames as catcher.

GERMAN RIDER WINS
Aachen, Germany—UPI—Hermann Schridde of West Germany won the "Landrat Puetz Memorial Prix" jumping event on the third day of the Aachen International Horse show Monday, while Fran Chapot of Wallpack, N. Y., finished fourth. Schridde rode Fusgosa to victory in 1:12.9. Chapot's time on Tally-Ho was 1:17.5.

U. S. Net Stars Favored To Hit Semi-Final Mark

Wimbledon, England—UPI—Darlene Hard and Sally Moore, now left alone to carry on a brilliant American victory tradition, both were slight favorites today to advance to the semi-final round of women's singles in the Wimbledon tennis championship.

The coveted women's crown here has been won by an American 15 straight times in an amazing string that began after Britain's Dorothy Round won the title in 1937. But Britain's Angela Mortimer, seeded second and favored today over fifth-seeded Sandra Reynolds of South Africa, now is the title choice in this year's tournament. Already eliminated are top-seeded Christine Truman of England and third-seeded Beverly Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., who had been America's best hope.

The blonde Miss Hard, of Montebello, Calif., runner-up here in 1957, was matched today against eighth-seeded Ann Haydon of Britain while Miss Moore, of Bakersfield, Calif., was up against unseeded but dangerous HOLA Ramirez of Mexico.

In the other quarter-final, sixth-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil faced Edda Buding of Germany.

Also on today's program were various matches in the different divisions of doubles. U. S. Davis Cup stars Alex Olmedo and Barry MacKay scored hard-fought victories Monday to gain the semi-final round in men's singles. MacKay, of Dayton, Ohio, thus became the first American to advance that far since 1956.

Olmedo, Peruvian who has lived in Los Angeles for the past five years, beat Luis Ayala of Chile, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3, and thus became the first South American ever to reach the semi-finals here. MacKay, a third class airman in the U. S. Air Force who has had trouble rounding into shape, rallied brilliantly to upset Australian ace Neale Fraser, 5-7, 10-8, 0-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Semi-finals in men's singles are scheduled Wednesday and could easily be Davis Cup previews since they both will be U. S. vs. Australia affairs. Olmedo will meet eighth-seeded Aussie Roy Emerson and MacKay will play unseeded Rod

Medford, CP Hosts On Wednesday for Junior Legion Ball

Medford and Central Point Cheney Studs American Legion teams will be hosts Wednesday evening for southern division Area 4 baseball contests.

Klamath likely will have Blake Griggs on the mound. In addition to pitching the 25 to 0 win over Lakeview last Sunday, Griggs had six hits in seven times up. Coach John Kovenz's Medford choice may be either Bob Quinney or Jerry Anderson.

Bill Anhorn is the probable pitcher nomination of coach Bill Askwith for Central Point against Grants Pass. Mock is expected to have Bill Cole on the hill.

Central Point originally was billed to go to Grants Pass for a Wednesday twilight fracas but the field there is not available on that day.

A tie for first place will be the Medford aim while Central Point will fight to keep in contention for league honors. Only Medford loss has been to Klamath Falls, which is the lone unbeaten leader of the league. The teams have met just once this season.

Seeks Third Win
Cheney will be out for its third win over Grants Pass. The Studs have recorded wins in both league and non-league play with the Mock Ford club. Only setback in the circuit for Central Point has been at the hands of Medford.

A's RECALL PITCHER

Kansas City, Mo.—UPI—John Tsitouris, a right-handed pitcher with the Houston club in the American association, has been recalled by the Kansas City Athletics to take over the spot left vacant when veteran pitcher Russ Meyer was handed his unconditional release.
