Arrive in Africa

Mrs. Louis Allen Conley and daughter, Jan, have arrived in Tripoli, North Africa, where they joined Mr. Conley, an airman first class, serving with the United States Air Force. The Conleys expect to be in Tripoli three years.

Airman Conley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Conley, 1101 Winchester avenue, and Mrs. Conley is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wicks, Route 1, Box 336, Central Point.

The Conleys arrived here shortly after the holidays and Airman Conley left for Tripoli in February. Mrs. Conley and their daughter remained here for several weeks and then made the trip abroad by air, going by way of Chicago and an Air Force base in South Carolina.

Marriage Slump

Matrimony slumped with the recent recession. The Metropolitan Life Insurance company reported that the number of marriages in the United States decreased about 4 per cent in 1958, the second straight year of decline.

There were 1,456 million weddings in 1958, compared with 1,518 million in 1957 and 1,585 million in 1956. The 1958 marriage rate - 8.4 weddings to 1,000 population included armed forces overseas - was the lowest recorded since 1932.

Metropolitan said apparently the decrease was related to the recession, because the sharpest drop was from September 1957 through March 1958. Spring arrives variously from March 19 to March 21.

Double-Ring Ceremony At Church Weds Couple

Miss Patricia Ann Miller became the bride of Darrel Wayne Lowe in a double-ring ceremony held at 3:30 o'clock on June 20 at the Congregational church.

The Rev. Thomas McCamant performed the rites, which were attended by about 50 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Maxine Miller of 1019 West Twelfth street, Medford, and Mr. Dola G. Miller of Everett, Wash. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arleta Lowe of 1327 Saling avenue, Medford.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white chiffon ballerina length dress with a white lace bolero and a finger-length veil held by a headpiece of pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded by pink and white carnations and white stephanotis.

Matron of honor and best man were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lowe of Medford. Mr. Lowe is the brother of the bridegroom and his wife is the sister of the bride.

The matron of honor wore a ballerina length pink princess dress with a matching bolero and carried carnations encircled by white stephanotis.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace dress with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue and white check suit with white accessories.

Bouquets of pink carnations, white chrysanthemums, and stock decorated the church.

Mrs. Verl O. Falling was organist.

Following the ceremony a reception at the Pilgrim House of the Congregational Church was given by the bride's family. Mrs. Z. A. Zimmerlee cut the cake, Mrs. Jean Williams served punch. Mrs. Gene Lowe was in charge of gifts, and the bridegroom's sister, Elaine Lowe, was in charge of the guest book.

The wedding cake was encircled by pink sweet peas, and pink daisies were used for decoration.

The bride wore a pink skirt and blouse with white accessories for the wedding trip to

Influence of Color

St. Paul, Minn. - Color in a room has more to it than meets the eye.

Some colors may induce fatigue, like a bright turquoise against bright red, while other color combinations may cut down working efficiency or cause adverse moods, warned home economist Gertrude Esteros. She said color selections for homes are too often based on fashion or personal whim, with no consideration for practical factors.

Hose down bamboo, reed, cane or wicker furniture occasionally to prevent it from drying and splitting.

Stinging Insects Prefer Light Colors

New York - Are you making yourself "attractive" to stinging insects?

White or light-colored clothing is less provocative to bees than dark colors. Experienced beekeepers consider clothing color most important.

Smooth, hard-finished khaki, drill, or nylon clothing is less attractive to black flies and mosquitoes than blue denim or serge. Suede or other leather materials are irritating to bees.

Hair oils and perfume also should be avoided. The floral odor apparently attracts bees. Once entangled in clothing or hair, bees are inclined to sting, even if it was not their original intention.

Biting insects are more inclined to attack a moving object than a stationary one.

"To flail wildly at an approaching bee is one of the worst things to do," warns Dr. R. A. Morse, of Cornell University.

"It usually is possible to retreat unharmed simply by using the hands with the fingers extended as a shield before the face and moving slowly from the vicinity," he said.

When stung, experts recommend looking for the stinger. It should be removed as quickly as possible with a fingernail in a scraping motion.

Eastern Star Chapters Hold Annual Ceremony

Officers for Reames chapter, Order of Eastern Star, were installed in a colorful ceremony at Medford Masonic temple June 27. Taking office as worthy matron was Mrs. Frank C. Roberts, who succeeds Mrs. Earl McKinney.

Mrs. Roberts introduced her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Price; her daughter and son, Teresa and Curt; her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Roberts; her niece, Pamela Roberts; and Mrs. Jewell Barney of Klamath Falls.

Mr. Oestreich introduced Mrs. Oestreich and his grandnephew, Henry Campbell, Grants Pass.

Mrs. Roberts was presented a gavel by worthy patron Carl Oestreich. The gavel was made by Morris Boughner, Reames chapter member and associate grand patron of Oregon. Flowers were presented to her by her daughter, Teresa.

Her son, Curt, made the presentation of a boutonniere to Mr. Oestreich.

Entertainment during the evening included an addendum by the new corps of officers, with gifts being presented to Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Oestreich and Mrs. Roy Nordwick and Mr. Randolph. Mrs. Don Waldron presented a gift to Mrs. Roberts from the courtesy ladies.

Mrs. A. W. Denney presented Mrs. McKinney with her past matron's jewel.

The program closed with the benediction given by Mr. Boughner, and reception followed.

Wears Organdy

Mrs. Roberts wore a gown of pale yellow organdy with alternate ruffles of white lace and organdy, and a white orchid corsage. The officers were gowned in mint green and carried arm bouquets of yellow roses. Courtesy ladies wore orchid nylon lace with yellow rose corsages.

Distinguished members seated in the East were Miss Carolita K. Wiseman, Grants Pass; past grand matron of Oregon and present grand lecturer, Mr. Boughner, associate grand patron of Oregon; Mrs. E. G. Randolph, grand representative of the District of Columbia; and Mrs. Wyles Berry,

Miss Ruby Rowan, who has been awarded two scholarships for college study, will attend the College of Emporia in Kansas in the fall. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rowan, 1117 West Eleventh street.

Student Winner Of Awards

Miss Ruby Rowan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rowan of 1117 West Eleventh street, Medford, has been awarded two scholarships and will attend the College of Emporia in Emporia, Kansas, this fall.

Miss Rowan is a 1959 graduate of Medford High school. During her senior year she competed for a $600 AFL-CIO labor scholarship and became one of the four students in Oregon to receive one.

The labor scholarship is awarded on the basis of an essay test and a personal interview.

Miss Rowan has also received a departmental scholarship from the College of Emporia. The $700 award is given over a period of four years.

Miss Rowan, preparing for career in medical technology, submitted to the college material concerning experimentation she did on her own initiative, regarding the effects of penicillin in solution on molds.

She attended Menaul High school in Albuquerque, N. Mex., during her junior year. She was a member of the Menaul Music Makers there.

Her activities at Medford High school included membership in the school annual staff, International Relations league, girls' Athletic association, Girls' League council, and the volunteer hospital workers corps. She was a cabinet member of the Westminister Fellowship and is interested in both instrumental and vocal music.

She will be enrolled in the science curriculum at the College of Emporia.
