Woman Editor Sounds Call For Return to Femininity

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
New York (UPI)—Okay girls. Let's start being all woman again and return the pants to their rightful owners—the men.

Women don't look like women, talk like women or act like women once they don't trousers. The feminine demureness, the softness of voice disappears. The mannish stance and masculine sprawl take over.

Pants, to put it bluntly, rob us of our sex appeal. I bring up this subject after long brooding, because we seem to be sacrificing femininity for comfort. We have adopted Bermuda shorts, short shorts, slacks, treader trousers and jeans as our costume from sunup to sundown—for the supermarket, for the trip to the station, for shopping downtown.

We're forgetting to be girly-type girls.

Wrong Sort of Whistles
Doubt my conclusion? All right, check for yourselves on the tune of the whistle from the men standing on the corner. The whistle—if there is one—at the girl in Bermudas is usually derisive.

Any man who gives an appreciative reaction to this sexless apparel is a candidate for psychiatry.

Now, before the wrath of the shorts, slacks, pedal pusher, Capri pants and jeans manufacturers pours in on me wholesale, let me say this: Pants do have a place in our wardrobes. But for leisure and for work. Who would argue against them for the tennis court, the family boat, the picnic grounds? Or, what is more practical when you're washing the dog, scrubbing the bath, painting the bedroom or pruning the roses?

Although come to think of it, my mother did every household chore, including painting, in dress and apron. We children remember her as an always feminine person who permitted her daughters

no nonsense with shorts. Never For Street Wear

We wore them for sunning in the backyard or for active sports. Never for street wear. We would have been blistered if caught even at the corner drugstore in jeans.

After this column, I may be labelled a fuddy-duddy but if you're a trousers advocate, could be you haven't taken an honest look at yourself in a three-way mirror.

The bulge the skirt disguises, the slack discloses. One man in our office commented that "not one woman in a thousand looks good in slacks, especially viewed in departure."

"That," said another, "is giving the girls a break on percentage."

Fresh dates make summer salads exciting. Serve a fruited slaw made by tossing generous slices of fresh California dates, finely shredded cabbage and a sprinkling of celery seeds with tangy mustard flavored dressing. Serve spiced fresh dates with fruit or chicken salad. Marinate a few dates in tart French dressing to serve with shrimp, crab or tuna salad.

Good Buys Pork, Eggs

New York (UPI)—Good buys on fresh and cured pork products, tom turkeys, fryers and eggs await this week's thrifty housewife at food marts across the nation. She'll also find large supplies of fresh fruit and vegetables.

A 20 per cent increase in the supply of gobblers over a year ago has made tom turkey an exceptionally good buy for this time of year. Fryer marketings continue heavy too and consequently prices this week should average about two cents below a week earlier.

The big spring pig crop has been putting protein-rich pork on meat counters at steadily lower prices in recent weeks. Center cut chops can be found as much as a dime a pound cheaper this week than last.

Other meat supplies around the country this week end include leg of lamb, fresh ground beef, rib end roasts, smoked picnics.

Egg prices resumed their decline in many sections of the country over the past week after a two-week advance. They should be available this week end about three to four cents a dozen cheaper than at the start of the month.

In fruit bins, generous supplies of cantaloupe, watermelons, bananas, seedless grapes, apples, Bing cherries, peaches, plums and nectarines are available in most sections.

Vegetable values on the plentiful list include beans, corn, yellow onions, cabbage, potatoes and squash. For the summer season salad lover, lettuce, celery, peppers, cucumbers, escarole, endive and tomatoes are all in large supply.
