Dior Produces Gold Stockings

The silhouette for fall calls for a natural shape with lifted and rounded bustline, marked waistline, gently curved hips and thighs. The shaping is achieved by foundations that control with a light touch. Girdles have new bands reinforcing the fleshy areas of hips and thighs. Pantie girdles feature contoured back panels for a natural "uncorseted" look.

The belted tunic-length top is the newest fashion in summer clothes. About knuckle length, it has the look of a jacket with a slight flare in the peplum. It can be worn over a decollete sheath; for daytime wear, then taken off for evening.

The bikini may seem immodest on the beach, but it's turning up in the boudoir. Two-piece pajamas come in bikini style, with brief matching coats for lounge wear. The outfits are shown in cotton batiste or blends of nylon, dacron, and cotton.

A good fruit filling for a sandwich will assure you that your picnic is getting a good meal. Make it this way: Chop 1/4 cup each of dried prunes, dates, figs, and orange peel. Blend it well with 1/4 cup honey and one tablespoon candied ginger. Use between slices of buttered bread.

Mrs. Day, who opened her large and interesting home Wednesday afternoon for the annual picnic of Medford League of Women Voters, took time out from her hostess duties to pose with the animal, Mike, whose contented purring was loud enough to startle the photographer. Girl Scout at Roundup Says "Swapping" is Fun

Swapping of articles from all parts of the world has been an important activity of girls attending the world wide Girl Scout Roundup at Colorado Springs, Colo., July 3-12.

News from the camp, which houses about 10,000 Girl Scouts in 6,000 tents, has been received by friends and families of those attending from Medford.

Miss Carolyn Finch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Finch, 223 Bradford way and Miss Diane Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, 2133 East Jackson street, are two of the four senior Girl Scouts selected to attend from the Rogue Valley council.

Miss Ruth Kilbourn, executive director of the council, and Miss Marilyn Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Olson, 1430 Euclid avenue, are accompanying the girls.

Miss Kilbourn wrote that the roundup has had extremely hot and cold weather, wind hail and rain. forty tents were leveled when a twister hit the camp site, she reported.

The encampment is composed of six sections, including community services such as commissaries and recreation facilities as well as small tent living units accommodating two or three girls each.

Concerning the trip and early activities, Miss Lewis wrote: "Well, we've finally arrived and it is wonderful. The description "a mile high and a world wide" is very suitable. "We boarded the train at 9:30 p.m. Monday. The next day we toured the 23 car train and enjoyed the scenery."

Thursday was a busy day for us. We set up camp which took about three hours. After that we proceeded to acquaint ourselves with the rest of our troop. They are from Missouri, Indiana and New Jersey. They are all very nice.

"One of the most interesting places at the Roundup is the Indian village. There are Indians that do dances, describe their clothing and jewelry and also there is a very interesting exhibit tent. The large arena which surrounds the village is always busy with demonstrations of all sorts - trick with bull whips, skits, dances and talks.

"Monday evening our patrol attended a square dance. There were about 2,000 girls present. We had a lot of fun. "Thursday our section will go on its tour. We are looking forward to it.

"One of the main events of the Roundup thus far has been 'swapping.' Most of us have some very interesting items from all over the world."

Paintings of Past Years To Be Featured in Show

Paintings by the late Laura May Phipps and Mrs. Atlanta Naffziger will be among those on exhibit at the Greenwich Village Show in the library park Saturday, July 18, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The annual show is sponsored by the Southern Oregon Society of Artists. In recognition of the state's Centennial, paintings done in years past will be featured at the show.

Miss Phipps, aunt of Dolph Phipps of Medford and sister of the late Dr. I. D. Phipps, did most of her painting in the early 1930's. Her parents were pioneers in Rogue valley, having settled here in 1868.

Miss Phipps was born and lived all of her life in the valley. She graduated from the Normal school in Ashland in 1897 and taught in the Washington school for several years. She lived at 923 East Main street from 1912 until her death in 1944.

She had no formal training in art. She painted for her own enjoyment, in oils and pastels, and no attempt was ever made to show or sell her works.

Mrs. Naffziger, a graduate of the Hopkins Institute of Art in San Francisco, was the daughter of Judge Parker of Jacksonville.

She was the first woman to drive a car around the rim road of Crater Lake and was employed by the state geographic department to tint and paint pictures for advertising.

Among the more than 50 expected to exhibit their works is a new member of the artists' society, Mrs. Jean Engleson. Mrs. Engleson arrived in the Rogue valley a year ago and she will show both oils and water colors.

Her husband, David, is a Medford dentist and they have three sons and a two-month-old daughter. Mrs. Engleson is a graduate of St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn. Works of Mrs. Ruby Twedell will also be on exhibit. Mrs. Twedell, a member of the society, studied pastels under the direction of Mrs. Naffziger, who taught art for many years in the valley.
