

EXPLORER—This deer came down out of the Santa Monica mountains to see what civilization was like, got all mixed up on the beach and finally was captured, exhausted, by Los Angeles police. After a short rest at the police station, cops took the deer back to the mountains and released it.

JACKSONVILLE Early-Day Resident Dies

By BETTE HOSKINS
Jacksonville — Mrs. Anna Rumley reported this week that her aunt, Mrs. Susan Lovana Fielder, died in Grants Pass last Wednesday evening at the age of 98 years.

Services were held in Grants Pass at the Catholic church, with interment in the Jacksonville cemetery in the family plot. Mrs. Fielder's parents were Johnson Britton and Deliah Eaton Britton. She was born Oct. 7, 1860, in Sacramento, Calif. Mrs. Fielder, one brother and two sisters, were all educated in the Catholic convent (St. Marys Academy) in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Fielder, with her family, moved to Canyonville, Ore., when she was three years old. When she was six they moved to Jacksonville. The journey from Sacramento to Canyonville and then later to Jacksonville, was all made by wagon and team. Mrs. Fielder was married to Stephen L. Fielder at the age of 22. Six children were born to them, four boys and two girls. All the children have died except one daughter, Mrs. Bessie Peterson, of Prospect, Ore.

Between 1904 and 1923 the Fielders lived in various places in California and Oregon, finally settling in Grants Pass in 1923, where Stephen Fielder died in 1945, and where Mrs. Fielder resided until her death.

Mrs. Jean Hewlett reminds residents that water bills are payable at the Jacksonville fire hall on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 2 until 6 p.m. and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. until noon.

Mrs. May Brown of Detroit, Michigan arrived here by plane last week to visit her sister Mrs. Eiden and her brother, Ben Lynn, who she hadn't seen in 54 years. After a few days stay here, Mrs. Brown went on to visit a niece in Springfield and from there planned to fly to Regina, Canada, to visit other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boemer and five children of Sacramento called at the H. T. Purcell home this week to visit Mrs. Boemer's grandmother, Mrs. Ida Wright, who is also the great-grandmother of the Boemer children.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Henning visited in Sacramento last week at the home of Mrs. Henning's brothers, Elmer and Frank Bowman.

of Medford. Miss Sharon Newton of Eugene was also a weeks visitors at the home of the Walter Sutherlands.

Out of town visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hoskins this week were Hoskin's sister-in-law and brother Mr. and Mrs. James Hoskins and four children, Steven, Teresa, Jeffery and Gregory, all of Blackfoot, Idaho. They were enroute to Los Angeles to visit other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Keener of Rosemeade, Calif., were visitors at the home of Mrs. Keener's father, Daniel Serry, last week. After leaving here they plan to go on a trip to Alaska, accompanied by Serry. Mrs. Keener announced that her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee, have a new baby daughter born July 1. Mrs. Lee is the former Bertha Serry.

Mrs. Leonard McKee was hostess for a birthday party combining the birthdays of her two grandsons, Pat Smith son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and Gary Wolff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wolff. Pat became 4 and Gary became 9. The boy's birthdays are on the Fourth of July but the party was held July 3.

Guests present were Dona Jean and Mark Harris, Charles Legg, David and Ricky Neddham, Lorna Stevens and Melanie Wolff. Assisting Mrs. McKee were her two daughters Mrs. Bill Smith and Mrs. Clifford Wolff. Mrs. Wolff's birthday is also on July 4. Swimming, outdoor games and birthday refreshments were enjoyed by the boys and their friends.

The Family Council Use of BPA Power Endorsed

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Gerald K.—She's afraid of what others will think.

Mildred K.—He's trying to shock my mother.

Gerald K.—My brother Tom made a very bad marriage at the age of 19 and now, seven years and two children later, is separated and getting a divorce.

I invited him to come to live with us for a while because divorce laws are easier in our state and because his funds are very low. He has been with us two months and has been no trouble at all. Recently he asked whether we would mind having a certain young woman come to stay for a week. He explained that they are going to be married as soon as the divorce becomes final.

I see no harm in this. I would like to do it, but my wife objects—not because of herself but because of what others might think. To me this is just stupid.

Mildred K.—I am no Puritan and I don't live for public opinion in other things, but I find this downright embarrassing. I know that my brother-in-law expects to share his room with this woman. It isn't by business what he does, but I don't see why I should have to put up with his doing it in front of my family, friends, neighbors and children.

I am particularly upset because of my mother. She is very rigid in her standards. She doesn't believe in divorce at all. She nearly hit the roof when she heard about Tom and our taking him in. What will she think?

I feel that Gerald wants to do this just to get my mother's goat. He never liked her and always tries to shock her.

The Council: Tom definitely abuses this family's hospitality. Whatever he expects in the way of sleeping arrangements, the visit of the young woman will be open to interpretation by others and he has no right to put his brother's family in the position of appearing to foster his illicit relationships.

The most he would have a right to ask is that the young woman be invited for the day—as a friendly visit. He should make arrangements for her to stay over elsewhere if the length of the trip demands that she stay for more than one day.

We are rather surprised, however, that Mildred is more concerned with what her mother thinks than what her children think. The fact that this question doesn't seem to occur to Gerald either, suggests to us that Mildred may be right—that Gerald would enjoy offending Mildred's mother.

This brings up an entirely separate marital issue that undoubtedly is at the heart of other problems that arise between these two. Mildred appears to be childishly dominated by her mother to the point where she does not dare to have any standards of her own. She has every right to object to Tom's proposal because of her own beliefs and feelings. But we have a notion she is too mother-scared to know what her own opinions are.

Gerald, sensing that he only has half a wife as long as Mildred remains this way, tries to battle the "old lady." This will get him no place. Mildred must free herself, grow into her own mature standards. She will agree with her mother about many things and differ about others. But she won't be afraid.

There are 50 per cent more hospitals in the U.S. than in 1920 and the bed capacity has been more than tripled, according to medical surveys.

Redding, Calif. (UPI) — The Pacific Coast Power Coordinating Committee has endorsed a proposal to use surplus Bonneville Power Administration energy to run California's gigantic Feather River project.

The agency said, however, that Pacific Northwest states should get the power back if it is needed in Washington or Oregon.

Owen Hurd, managing director of the Washington Public Power Supply System of Kennewick, was reelected chairman and Larry Bauer, Newport, Ore., was reelected vice chairman. Redding Mayor George C. Fleharty was reelected secretary.

The group was formed last winter to study the possibility of tying the Central Valleys project in California with Bonneville Power.

Seaside Heights, N. J. — (UPI) — Police Chief Joseph McDevitt Tuesday urged an investigation of a new teen-age fad here — drinking patent medicines "for kicks." McDevitt said local druggists had told him that teenagers have been buying large quantities of cough medicines and other drugs containing codeine.
