Indian Hospital To Close Sept. 1

Washington–(UPI)–The Public Health Service announced Thursday that its Indian Hospital at Tacoma, Wash., will be closed by Sept. 1.

The hospital has been used as a tubercular sanitarium, primarily for Alaskan natives.

The service said there now is a surplus of beds for tuberculosis patients in Alaska and the Northwest. It said the decline in the patient load at the Tacoma hospital makes its continued operation impractical.

The service said that patients not ready to be discharged at the time of the closing would be moved to other hospitals nearer their homes.

The Family Council

Editor's note: The Family Council consists of a judge a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual report. The Family Council does not give advice; it merely reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Betty J.—Vivian won't help our mother.

Vivian S.—I can't do more than I'm doing.

• • •

Betty J.—Our problem concerns the support of our aged mother. We are three sisters—all married and moderately comfortable. Our mother has lived with me for the past four years and my sisters have contributed to her support.

Now we find it necessary to place mother in a nursing home. My sister Jean and I want to place her in the best home we can find. That will mean a larger contribution from each of us. My sister Vivian says she won't increase her contribution and pleads hardship.

Jean and I happen to know this is ridiculous. She is the best off of all of us and even bought a mink stole last year. She'll do things like that and then begrudge our mother decent conditions in her last years.

• • •

Vivian S.—Betty and Jean have always ganged up on me, believing I have more things in life than they have. The truth is that my husband makes no more than theirs, but it is important for his business that we socialize a great deal. For this, I have to have clothes and keep up my home.

When they visit my home my sisters eye each other as if to say, "She must be rolling in dough. Wow, are they living it up!" Then they go home and think up ideas like this thing of the most expensive nursing home they can find. They don't mind if they have to cut a little skin off their own backs as long as they get my hide.

Maybe I'm selfish, stingy and an ungrateful daughter, but it looks to me as though the cheaper homes are good enough.

• • •

The Council: It would be almost impossible for any outsider to judge the fairness or unfariness of the two sisters' accusations. Nobody can decide for anyone else how big a sacrifice actually is or how big it ought to be.

It is possible that Vivian's mink stole is important to the future of her family. Even if it were important only to her happiness, this factor is a valid consideration. Vivian is not being accused of total neglect of her mother. She has simply set limits to what she is willing to do.

On the other hand, there might be a vast difference between the cheaper and more expensive homes and Betty and Jean may feel that their conscience won't tolerate leaving their mother in the cheaper place. They should confront Vivian with certain actualities in the situation, showing how their mother will be considerably better off in the more expensive place. They should do this in a simple, objective manner, avoiding the appearance of pressuring Vivian to make a decision.

If Vivian still feels that her own requirements are more urgent than her mother's, the two sisters must simply face the fact that they'll have to do without Vivian's additional help. If their mother's comfort is more important to them than their resentment toward Vivian, they will manage to do the right thing without Vivian's help.

Cohen, Others Face Contempt Charges

Los Angeles – (UPI) – Ex-gambler Mickey Cohen and five other men face trial Sept. 14 on contempt charges brought when they refused to answer certain questions before a state legislative subcommittee investigating racketeering in Southern California.

Cohen and the five men pleaded innocent to the charges Wednesday, arguing the legislative committee failed to serve a legislative purpose and that committee promises of immunity were empty because the men still could face possible federal prosecution.

Those ordered to stand trial with Cohen were Louis Bragna, Alfred Sica, John Battaglia, Al Pizzichino and Harry Levitt. Four other men facing similar charges but given continuances until Wednesday to enter pleas were Harold (Happy) Meltzer, Walter McCowan, James Iannone and Nick Dicata.

Indian Gathering To Open Saturday

Pendleton–(UPI)–The National Indian Encampment that opens here Saturday will beckon visitors with smoke signals, but the old fire and blanket system has been ruled out.

Centennial officials said the smoke signals will be produced with World War II-type smoke grenades. The signals will begin Friday.

A Centennial spokesman said the grenades are less likely to touch off a forest fire. And they also make denser smoke–better seen from a greater distance.
