

Quips and Quotes

The elderly lady paused to admonish the little boy who was rolling an ash can down the street. "Why, that's no way to play," she told the youngster. The boy looked downward, shamefaced. "Well, my sister likes it." "I don't even see your sister," the lady replied. "No," explained the boy, "she's inside the can."

Clothes and the Man

*When week-end callers leave the house,
I chance to notice that my spouse
Is out-at-elbow—almost through
At more strategic places, too.*

*I keep my comments within reason,
Just saying tartly Summer's a season
When one may dress in decent taste
And still not be a panty-waist.*

*Next morning my remarks have sunk in.
He sallies forth to fetch some junk in,
To prune or mow or delve with dowsers—
Chic in his so-called Sunday trousers!*

—Anne Lincoln

The new librarian was a breathtaking blonde who attracted a lot of neighborhood men to reading for the first time since school. One day a hard-faced lady marched in and demanded an obscure 19th-century novel. No, the librarian purred, the library didn't have that item on its shelves.

"Ha," exclaimed the lady triumphantly, "I knew my husband was wrong telling people you had everything!"

The Shear Truth

*The scissored ends of human hair,
So thick around the barber's chair,
Annoy me. This is why they do:
In cutting mine, he'll add so few.*

—Hal Chadwick

A person never realizes how deeply indebted he is to the medical profession until he receives the doctor's bill. —O. A. Battista

Are You Sure—Ree-ally Sure?

Listerine stops bad breath 4 times better than tooth paste!

Tooth paste is for your teeth—Listerine is for your breath. Germs in the mouth cause most bad breath, and you need an antiseptic to kill germs.

Always reach for Listerine after you brush your teeth. No tooth paste is antiseptic, so no tooth paste kills germs the way Listerine Antiseptic does . . . on contact, by millions.

Listerine stops bad breath four times better than toothpaste—nothing stops bad breath as effectively as the Listerine way.
