Beauty Judging Starts Tuesday

Hollywood - (UPI) - Shapely Miss Universe contestants tour Columbia Studios today before getting down to business in the start of judging Tuesday at Long Beach.

The 79 foreign and U. S. entrants devoted the morning to rehearsing at Convention Hall in Long Beach where the beauty judging will take place.

The afternoon was reserved for touring the studio and watching stars perform before the cameras. The day will be capped by an American-style picnic at Columbia's ranch in Burbank.

U.S. BOOKS BANNED

Singapore (UPI) - The Singapore government Sunday ordered the removal of books donated to community centers here by the United States Information Service. The order came during an inspection tour by K. M. Byrne, minister of labor and law. "We will replace them with books of Malayan content," Byrne said.

Only Two Republicans Seriously Considered for Nomination in 1960

Editor's note: About a year from now, the Democrats and Republicans will be choosing their presidential nominees. It will be a year of intense political combat with each potential candidate maneuvering to gain a position of advantage when the 1960 national convention begins. This is the first of two dispatches in which a veteran Washington political reporter examines the possible nominees as they shape up today.

By RAYMOND LAHR
UPI Correspondent

Washington - (UPI) - The Republicans move into the final year of maneuver before their 1960 convention with only two men getting serious attention as candidates for the presidential nomination.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon now appears to have a long lead. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is standing by as a strong potential challenger. The 1960 convention will open at Chicago July 25.

As a fireman who has answered GOP alarms all over the country, Nixon stands high with the Republican professionals who play a dominant part at any national convention.

His partisans point to the many assignments Nixon has been given by President Eisenhower and describe him as the best-trained, most experienced candidate for President that the nation has ever had. The President, however, is expected to refrain from any endorsement of Nixon or any other candidate for the 1960 nomination.

No Encouragement

After his spectacular victory in the politically important state of New York last year, Rockefeller immediately attracted interest from some of the GOP liberals, foes of Nixon and those looking for a new face. However, he has given no encouragement to those who would paint him into the 1960 picture but, instead, has often repeated that all he wants is to be a good governor.

At the same time, Rockefeller has carefully refused to close the door. He has not said that he would turn down the nomination and he has declined to say whether he would withdraw his name if it should be entered in the presidential primaries in states where a candidate's consent is not required. Both Nixon and Rockefeller could be entered in the New Hampshire and Oregon primaries without their consent or sit back and wait to see if he polled an impressive vote without campaigning.

Nixon Has Strength

Unless Rockefeller eliminates himself in convincing terms, the GOP may face an encore of the 1952 contest between Eisenhower and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. Like Taft, Nixon has great strength in the party organization and in the conservative wing of the GOP but he also appears stronger than Taft among Republican liberals.

A recent Nixon biographer reports that he objects to the 1952 parallel on grounds that foreign policy was the issue between Taft and Eisenhower whereas no such issue divides him from Rockefeller.

A more apt parallel may be drawn between anti-Nixon delegates in 1960 and those in 1952 who felt that Taft could not win a national election. Throughout his political career, the vice president has been a controversial figure—as a candidate for the House, for the Senate, for Vice President and as a GOP campaigner in behalf of other candidates.

If an act of God should put Nixon in the White House before next July, there is little doubt that he would be nominated in his own right with no serious challenge.

Second Place Unlikely

More than a year before the convention, there has been scattered talk of the possibility of a Nixon-Rockefeller

Wind Fans Forest Fire in California

Sonora, Calif. - (UPI) - A wind-fanned forest fire roared over 750 acres in Stanislaus National forest late Saturday with no sign that firefighters could bring it under control.

Vaughn Hofeldt, information officer for the U. S. forest service in the area, said that 200 men were working to hack lines around the blaze and that 100 more were due this morning.

or Rockefeller-Nixon ticket. Unless there is irresistible pressure for such a lineup, however, it would be unlikely that either would be available for second place.

Nixon, 46, served four years in the House and two in the Senate before he was picked by Eisenhower's 1952 campaign managers for second place on the ticket. He has been a trusted adviser to the administration on political and congressional problems and has been tapped by the President for good-will diplomatic missions abroad.

Rockefeller, 52, is holding elective office for the first time. He formerly was a special assistant to President Eisenhower and was a Latin American expert for the Roosevelt administration.

Wall Street Chatter

New York (UPI) - Corporations are making greater use of stock dividends this year than ever before in history.

A study by Standard & Poor's shows that in the first half of 1959 a record 243 companies declared stock dividends. This compared with 177 companies in 1958 and 222 in 1957, the previous record year.

Standard's notes that many investors prefer stock dividends to cash disbursements because payments in stock are not income nor are they subject to taxes in the year paid. Whatever profit is derived later from the sale of the stock becomes subject to the capital gains tax, which is much lower than the income tax, it adds.

The statistical firm says another reason why investors like stock dividends is that companies usually maintain the same cash dividends on the increased stock, which results in a larger aggregate return to shareowners.

Cash dividends also increased in the first half of men's reports that corporations made cash disbursements of $6,009,100,000 in the first six months, up some 200 million from a year ago.

STADIUM ROOF PLANNED

Moscow (UPI) - Officials said today work on an $8 million glass roof to cover the 80,000 seats at Dynamo Stadium is scheduled to start next year. The roof will make it possible to hold track meets and stage soccer matches at the stadium during the winter.

Oil Statistics Co., Inc. in a review of Canadian oil securities, expressed the view that a good rally might be in the cards for these issues in the near future.

Doctor Arrested For Wife's Death

Las Vegas, Nev. - (UPI) - Dr. Bernard R. Finch, arrested in the $150 a month Las Vegas apartment of his former nurse, will be returned to the Los Angeles area today to face questioning in the slaying of his attractive wife.

Finch, 43, part owner of a West Covina, Calif., medical center, signed a waiver of extradition Sunday night but refused to make a statement to sheriff's deputies about the gunshot killing of his wife, Barbara, 38.

She was shot outside their $80,000 home in West Covina, a Los Angeles suburb, about midnight Saturday. The family maid said she saw Finch chase his wife out of the garage with a gun and then heard a shot.

Finch's nurse friend said she was there shortly before but left when Mrs. Finch pulled a gun.

Finch was arrested Sunday in the plush apartment of Carol Pappas, 22, his former nurse who for the past month has been working here as a cocktail waitress. She said he had been helping her pay for the apartment.

Booth-Kelly Closes Springfield Plant

Springfield, Ore. - (UPI) - The Booth-Kelly lumber mill here is closed until further notice, plant officials said Sunday. The mill employs 600 persons.

A spokesman said the closure was not connected with future plans for the mill's operation. Last week Georgia-Pacific Corporation said it had announced purchase of enough Booth-Kelly stock for a controlling interest.

The spokesman said the closure was not ordered by Georgia-Pacific

Khrushchev Arrives In Poznan, Poland

Poznan, Poland - (UPI) - Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived by train Saturday at this industrial city which was the scene of serious workers' riots in 1956.

The visiting Russian leader was accompanied by Polish Communist party chief Wladislaw Gomulka, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Khrushchev did not visit the Gegielski Locomotive Factory where the Poznan riots actually got started on June 27, 1956 but detoured to visit a collective farm.

Some of his entourage went to the factory where the uprising had forced the Polish government to adopt a more moderate line and had major repercussions throughout the Communist satellites.

It was the fifth day of Khrushchev's Polish visit. He arrived from the Baltic seaport of Zszezcin where he pledged Friday that Russia would continue its efforts to end western occupation rights in Berlin.
