

News About Books From the Library

Vacations usually come "but once a year" and this seems to be that time for many Jackson County residents.

According to Mrs. Jane Baker, Jackson County Librarian, the library's travel books are the most popular non-fiction category at present. "Even those who can't afford European travel seem to enjoy reading about it," she said.

Some new travel titles are listed below along with other new books added in July. These are available through the branches, on request, as well as from the main library in Medford.

Travel and adventure: Tales of Ancient India, Buitenen; Everyday Life in Egypt in the Days of Rameses the Great, Montet; A Short Walk, Newby; The Golden Coast, Kane; Rice Roots, Goodfriend; Endurance, Lansing.

Fine arts: The Changing Face of Beauty, Garland; Praeger Picture Encyclopedia of Art; A Dictionary of American Antiques, Dreppard; The Complete Guide to Orchestral Music, Bager; Sculpture, Ellis; The Poetical Works of Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Browning.

With the regular school year at an end, Jackson County children have turned to the public library for their reading material.

According to Mrs. Jane Baker, Medford Librarian, the circulation of children's books from the main library has nearly doubled since June, and the same rush for juvenile books may be seen throughout the county. "We hope the children will bear with us if they cannot immediately find their favorite Dr. Seuss or Landmark Book on the shelf," Mrs. Barker stated. "Many new titles are being added to the junior collection each week in an effort to meet the sudden heavy demand."

New children's books added in July are:

Non-Fiction: The Sea Around Us, Carson; The Golden Book of Nature Crafts, Saunders; The Wonderful World of Life, Huxley; Wings at Sea, Coombs; Folk Plays for Puppets You Can Make, Tichenor; Indian, Tunis; Billy Yank and Johnny Reb, Miers.
