It's Going To Be Increasingly Harder To Dodge Telephone

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

New York (UPI)—Here's an addition to a thing you can't dodge, such as death and taxes—the telephone.

You may think you've dodged Alexander Graham Bell when you're walking along 42nd st. but wasn't that your wrist phone that just rang?

You answer it and lie gently that it's a wrong number only to have the guy on the other end say:

"You can't fool me, Bill. You don't look a day older on my visual screen here. Let's talk over some business."

So here you are face to face with old Pete in Waikiki who wants to know what's happened to that order of googols you promised to deliver by the 16th. And Pete's talking from a street corner, too.

In Near Future

Take it from Frederick R. Kappel, president of American Telephone & Telegraph Company, there are just such things not far ahead in the telephone industry—street corner, Waikiki, telephone conversations, wrist watch phones, seeing the person you're talking to and being seen by him—to mention a few.

Kappel writes about communications to come in the current "Telephone Engineer & Management" magazine which is just celebrating its 50th birthday with a big fat edition that projects the future right straight into the 21st century.

Here is what Kappel sees in the future:

Automatic dialers, pushbutton calling, pushbutton selection of a particular telephone, smaller telephone instruments, hand-free instruments, concealed instruments using stereophones, using telephones from every corner, telephone from automobiles and other moving vehicles, and phoning from your vest pocket or wrist.

Transocean Dialing

Dialing across the ocean is imminent, says Kappel. Also there'll be data phoning, such things as tickets to the ball game or theater over the telephone.

You'll soon be able to talk to our manned satellites in space if the lines aren't busy.

"There is no doubt," says Kappel, "that a new communication art is in the making. This art will not only make our services more versatile, but should enable us to obtain much improved reliability."

Kappel projects the population ahead to get his predictions into perspective.

Population Increase

He estimates that by 1975, there'll be some 235 million persons in our nation. He expects the population increase to be heaviest on the coastal areas and in the west around the Great Lakes. There'll be many more telephone users and telephoneless homes will be cut sharply.

Kappel's company has a lot of expanding to do to keep up with telephones. He estimates there'll be 335 million people in the U.S. by the year 2,000.

And some time between now and then he looks for one telephone in 19 out of 20 homes.

Wagon Train Given Indian Travel Permit

Pendleton (UPI)—Indians voted to allow the Oregon Centennial wagon train to enter the state unmolested. They used the white man's telegraph to notify the modern pioneers of their decision.

Some 26 chiefs, representing Indians now gathered here for a nine-day encampment, sent a telegram to Wagonmaster Tex Serpa.

"We hereby resolve that your train may enter Oregon as planned, provided you abide by all Indian signs and agree to smoke the pipe of peace when you arrive in Pendleton," the telegram read.

Texas' natural gas reserves came to 113 trillion cubic feet at the end of 1957, or 46 per cent of the United States total.

ABSENT-MINDED PROF

Alfred, N. Y.—(UPI)—When Prof. Ray W. Wingate of Alfred University moved into a new office, two five-pound sacks of sugar were discovered in the top of a phonograph in his old office.

Wingate laughingly recalled that they were part of his World War II sugar ration and that he'd put them there 15 years ago "for safekeeping" while he was out of town.

GRANGE NEWS

Lake Creek
Mr. and Mrs. L. Mentzer, Medford, Oregon, were guests at the July meeting of Lake Creek Grange.

Mrs. Mentzer gave a short talk on a traveling bookmobile unit. She stated at the present Jackson county does not have such a unit. She is interested in knowing if there is anyone in this area that would be willing to have a small library located in their home.

Mentzer was the projectionist of a film that was of a bookmobile in the state of Washington. It showed the many services rendered to a community by a library. The rural peoples benefit greatly by the bookmobile unit.

Mr. Moore of the High Construction company gave us his estimates for different kinds of roofing materials. Our Grange hall must have a new roof before the winter season.

With the heavy work season and company many of the members were unable to attend. It is the hope of those that were present that more members will attend the Aug.

Marion Starts Salk Vaccination Program

Salem (UPI)—A two-week program urging Marion county residents to get anti-polio shots was under way today. The goal was a 30 per cent increase in shots received by both children and adults.

Washington—(UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency has proposed that storm-warning radar be installed on every airliner in the country.

14 meeting at 8:30 p.m. Discussion must be held on the roof question.
Ellyn Charley, Secretary.

IN MOTHER'S MEMORY

South Hadley, Mass.—(UPI)—A woman who never visited the campus of Mount Holyoke College or even attended the school left more than $100,000 to the school for scholarship. The donor, the late Mrs. Thorton Alexander of Boston, who died in 1955, made the bequest in honor of her mother, Elizabeth Cheesman Galloway, a graduate of the class of 1853.

NOSE FOR BOOZE
Montpelier, Vt.—(UPI)—A hunting dog being exercised by owner Robert Donald came across some 40 bottles of stolen liquor which police had been seeking for months.

Youth, 14, Rescued From Santiam River

Lebanon, Ore.—(UPI)—A 14-year-old boy was rescued from drowning in the South Santiam river near Waterloo, Ore., Sunday.

Robert Goergen submerged with a snorkel mask on his face and failed to come up. Three boys from Albany, R. M. Debus, 20; Larry Sandstrom, 15, and Mike Potter, 15, dived into the stream and pulled him out. Artificial respiration was applied by Scott MacMurdo of Corvallis and the boy revived before fire department equipment arrived.
