

Breakfast Held By Roxy Court; Couple Honored

Ninety members and guests attended the annual outdoor breakfast of Roxy Ann court, Order of Amaranth, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoppe on Lozier lane. Guests were from Portland, Beaverton, Roseburg and Ashland as well as from Medford and nearby districts.

Mrs. Jimmy Kane, member of the court now living in Honolulu, was among the guests. Mrs. Kane and her two children, Nola Sue Robbins and Stanley Robbins, are spending the summer in Medford with Mrs. Kane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harwood.

Oregon Mother WCTU Speaker

The July meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was a patio picnic at the home of Dr. and Mrs. B. R. Elliott. A brief business session was held before the luncheon hour with the president, Mrs. G. O. Sanden, presiding.

Among the guests introduced was Mrs. William Jeffries, poet and contributor to various magazines, including "The Upper Room." Mrs. Rose Virginia Frost, who is presently visiting her sister, Mrs. Karl Knutson, chatted with small groups following luncheon and told of her experiences as she traveled in many places, including the Holy Lands. Mrs. Frost shows slides and lectures for churches and other groups.

Speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Harlan P. Bosworth Jr. who told of the meeting in New York of Mothers of the year from the many states of the Union. Mrs. Bosworth, Mother of the Year for Oregon, explained the manner in which the final selection is made for the state honor and also for the national honor. She stated that the choice of the Honorable Jennie Barron, as national mother, was well made since she lives a well rounded life of service and in her capacity as a judge has done much for the youth who need guidance.

Mrs. Bosworth told her listeners that she had greatly enjoyed being with this outstanding group of mothers and also the many courtesies extended to them during their stay in New York. The exchange of ideas among the mothers was also of outstanding importance, she stated.

Dr. and Mrs. Elliott showed colored slides taken abroad following the program. Flapping small rugs to rid them of dust is likely to break the yarns in the backing.

Churches Honor Couple; Second Event Tonight

Dr. and Mrs. A. Erin Merkel were guests of honor at a farewell gathering given by members of the Ashland, Eagle Point, Medford and Valley View Seventh-day Adventist churches in the Rogue River Academy park Saturday night, July 18.

Dr. Merkel held the position he has held as Jackson County Health officer for the past 21 years to accept an assignment with the San Diego Health department, and he and Mrs. Merkel will be leaving Medford in early August.

The Merkels have been members of the Medford Seventh-day Adventist church since their arrival in the valley in 1937, and have been actively engaged in its work throughout their stay here.

Dr. Merkel held the position of deacon for a number of years and is at present the church's medical secretary, and a member of the building committee for the new church building being erected at the corner of Ellendale and Crestbrook roads.

Before coming to Medford, Mrs. Merkel taught school for 14 years, and has always been interested in the children's departments in church work. Though she states the youngsters she has taught here are still too young to be actively launched in their lifetime careers, she can recall former pupils who are engaged in mission service in China, India, Africa and South America, as well in denominational work in the United States.

Lee, Grants Pass, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Beyer, 80 Ross court. While in Oregon they have also visited the Centennial exposition in Portland.

Captain Skow, who has been in France since May, spent a year in Illinois prior to leaving for overseas duty and before that was assigned to ROTC duty at Oregon State college.

Mrs. Skow and the children will travel by way of Portland, Chicago, Philadelphia and will fly from McGuire field in New Jersey. They expect to be in France for three years.

Experiment With Salads For Summer

Have you taken a rating of the salads you've served your family lately? Have they been crisp, attractive and varied with ingredients and dressings so that the diners await each one with eager anticipation? That's the way your salads should be, and that's the way salads can be with a bit of planning and imagination.

It's easy to prepare the same old salad with the same old dressing day after day, but it's just as easy to use novel salad combinations and try new dressings for flavorful salad surprises. The tossed salad is always popular and with western-grown lettuce so plentiful, you will want to serve this type of salad often. But vary it . . . use other greens for color contrast, tuck in slices of avocado when they are a "best buy," or add a few slivers of cheese or leftover cooked ham, turkey or salami. Then take advantage of all the many dressings on the market or experiment with some of your own ideas, such as sour cream mixed with lemon juice, chopped green onions, salt, pepper and sugar.

Remember, too, the many tempting gelatin salads you can prepare. When making your salads try a variety of molds, such as the large ring, individual or perhaps those especially shaped, as a tuna soufflé salad in a fish mold. Unmold your salads on crisp iceberg lettuce leaves and garnish with fresh vegetable curls, olives, nuts, etc., fresh fruit slices for greater appetite appeal.

Cabbage slaws are another area where the cook too often is limited in serving ideas. Try adding fresh orange chunks, pineapple cubes, grapes, nuts, etc., experiment with a sesame seed dressing or perhaps you'd prefer a hot cabbage slaw, with a sweet-sour dressing. Don't neglect the many mouth-watering fruit salad combinations you can serve . . . a honey dressing or a sweet celery seed dressing shines in this department.

For Molded Vegetable Salad use 2 cups finely-shredded cabbage, 1 1/2 cups finely-chopped celery, 2 cups shredded carrots, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 cup wine vinegar, 2 tsp. gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 2 1/2 cups tomato juice, hot, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper, 1/2 tsp. dry mustard, 2 tsp. grated onion.

Method: Combine cabbage, celery, carrots and green pepper. Marinate in sugar and vinegar for 1 hour. Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in tomato juice. Add lemon juice, salt, pepper, mustard and onion. Drain raw vegetables and add to gelatin mixture. Pour into 1 quart ring mold and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce leaves and fill center with cottage cheese. Serve with mayonnaise. Serves 6 to 8.

Student in Finland Writes About Clothes, Communism and Church

Most of the Finnish people dislike Communists very much, according to a Medford high school student spending the summer in Kurikka, Finland under the American Field service program. Miss Carolyn Mencke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mencke, 2141 East Jackson boulevard, discussed the topic of Communism in Finland in a recent letter to her parents.

Miss Mencke also wrote of recent events planned by her host family for her entertainment. She wrote on July 6: "The Fourth of July was no different from any other day, except Marjo's father brought an American flag to me. I thought that was very nice of him."

The weather is real nice today is about 86 degrees. Now Telle, Marjo's girl friend, Marjo and I are at the sauna cottage for the night. I just love it. The river is just perfect for swimming, there are woods all around and a record player. We brought a lot of food and things, and will go home tomorrow night. Some movie people came and took movies of us swimming, sun bathing, etc. I felt a little ridiculous and am glad I won't be around when the film comes out.

Saturday we went to the den and it was surely different from ours. The kids all go on bicycles and never in couples. There is a different band each Saturday. The boys wear suits and ties, and the girls heels. The tango is their favorite dance, and when the band plays a tango, the boys rush over to the girl's side and the girls crowd to the front so that they'll be noticed. They never say a word while they're dancing, which is very lucky for me.

Sunday night Marjo, my boy friend, Telle and I went to the show. I can just imagine what a boy would think at home if two other girls "tagged along" on a date. Here no one thought anything of it.

Car Arrives
Today a new '59 Chevy was in the village. You'd have thought Men from Mars had landed from the crowd that gathered. You see very few cars.

In another letter July 13 she wrote: "Guess what? Tomorrow Marjo, her father and I are going to Helsinki, and then Marjo and I are flying to North Finland, or Lapland. I'm really excited. We're leaving early in the morning and will get to Helsinki shortly after noon. We'll have until 7 to shop, and then we fly to Rovaniemi, will stay all night there and then fly on to Pais Tunturi for two days. The sun never sets there this time of year—it goes down in the sky and then starts back up."

Friday we went to Vaasa, a city of about 42,000 people. Our clothes are more conservative than here. The trapeze is popular, and they wear huge flashy prints with rather odd color combinations. We

Pickle-Making Rules Given for Housewives

Chicago-WPI—Women across the country will can their own pickles and relishes this summer. Whether sour or sweet, mild or highly seasoned, certain rules apply to all. Choose a black spine cucumber. The cucumbers should be firm, small to medium in size, and used within 24 hours of picking.

Use enameled, glass, aluminum, stainless steel or stone-ware utensils. Brass, copper, iron and galvanized kettles cause unattractive color changes in pickles, or react with the acid or salt to produce unwholesome substances. Use pure dairy or pickling salt. If flake salt must be used, increase the measure by a scant one-half.

Use high-grade cider or white distilled vinegar of 40 to 60 per cent grain strength. Use whole spices, fresh and of the best quality, unless the recipe specifies they should be ground. Tie them in a cloth so they can be removed before the pickles are canned. If left in too long, spices make the pickles dark and strong. Seal the jars airtight while boiling hot, or process the jars in a waterbath canner long enough to destroy bacteria and molds.
