Foreign Baby Adoption Law Extension Seen

Washington - (UP) - Observers predicted today Congress will extend the foreign baby adoption law for another year after overhauling it to include safeguards for the adopted children.

The House already has approved the legislation which is now pending in the Senate. The law permitting free entry to this country for an adopted foreign orphan by an American citizen expired June 30.

The legislation as passed by the House calls for a petition to be filed with the attorney general giving these assurances: The foreign-born child to be adopted will be properly cared for; the new parents are of "good" moral character, and the adoption conforms to the laws of the state in which the parents live.

The law was enacted in September, 1957. Figures on such adoptions since that time are as yet unavailable but, through June 30, 1958, there were 2,949 children admitted under the law. Of this number, 915 were born in Korea, 369 in Japan, 282 in Greece and 171 in Italy.

The remaining children came from 20 other countries in Europe and Asia.

Mrs. Kathryn B. Oettinger, chief of the Children's Bureau, said the new law is designed to get around the "hazards" in such proxy adoptions. She pointed out that more than half of the youngsters from abroad never saw their new parents until the transaction was signed, sealed and delivered.

"In far too many cases," Mrs. Oettinger said, "there have been 'terrific consequences for the children.'"

Living Costs Jump To Record Figure

Washington - (UP) - Living costs jumped four-tenths of 1 per cent in June to hit a new all-time peak, the government reported today.

Prices of fresh fruits and vegetables led the advance in the Labor Department's consumer price index. It was the biggest monthly increase in 15 months.

The index moved to 124.5 per cent of average 1947-49 prices. This was six tenths of 1 per cent higher than a year ago.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, called it a "seasonal increase."

"This is not a sign that the consumer price index is about to take off," he said.

Wage Increases Due
Clague estimated that about 600,000 workers will receive wage increases because of the rise in costs. About 200,000 trucking employees and 100,000 aircraft workers whose pay is geared to changes in the index will receive two cents an hour increase.

Another 230,000 electrical workers will receive an average one-cent hourly pay boost. Higher food prices accounted for most of the increase, although prices of all major groups of goods and services except apparel were fractionally higher.

Potato Prices Jump
Fresh fruits and vegetables cost 10.9 per cent more in June and potato prices jumped 42 per cent. Prices of celery, lettuce, carrots, apples, oranges, grapefruit and watermelon also increased. Clague said the normal upward creep of fruit and vegetable prices were delayed this year because of rains. This concentrated the rise in one month, he said.

Some prices were lower. Eggs, coffee, dairy goods, cereals and bakery products decreased.

Clague predicted the index would not change much in July and would decline in August.

JUST IN CASE

New York - (UP) - An ambulance stood by the stage entrance throughout Tuesday night's concert at Lewisohn stadium. But the singing star, Graciela Rivera, for whom it was waiting, just in case, made it through the concert and home in her maternity dress.

Homicide Capt. Weldon
Waycott said the four implicated another Negro youth in the murder of William Bodenheimer III, whose nude body was found Tuesday crumpled inside the closed icebox in an old abandoned shack.

All five of the youths were in custody early today. One of them, a 13-year-old, said they pulled "a white boy off his bicycle" late Monday and forced him into the shack. He said he stood guard outside the shack "while there was an awful rumpus inside."

Attack Revealed
An autopsy revealed that young Bodenheimer was sexually attacked in an unnatural manner following a struggle. The 13-year-old Negro boy said Bodenheimer may have been alive when he was put in the icebox.

His nude body was found by his uncle Tuesday morning stuffed into an icebox in an abandoned sheet metal shed.

The pathologist called the death "homicide associated with sodomy," and said there was "evidence that the boy had been struggling."

Clothes on Floor
Police juvenile Capt. Joe Horton said the child was still alive when he was put in the icebox. His bathing suit and blue jeans were found on the floor in front of the box. Captain Horton warned late Tuesday that "parents must keep track of their children, know where they are and who they are with at all times."

Alexander Winton, of Cleveland, Ohio, is credited with making the first automobile sale in the U.S. on March 24, 1898.

4 Negro Boys Admit Locking Youth in Icebox

Houston, Tex. - (UP) - Four Negro boys ranging in ages from 13 to 17 confessed today that they sexually abused a 12-year-old white boy and locked him in an old icebox to suffocate.

Homicide Capt. Weldon Waycott said the four implicated another Negro youth in the murder of William Bodenheimer III, whose nude body was found Tuesday crumpled inside the closed icebox in an old abandoned shack.

All five of the youths were in custody early today. One of them, a 13-year-old, said they pulled "a white boy off his bicycle" late Monday and forced him into the shack. He said he stood guard outside the shack "while there was an awful rumpus inside."

Cuba Cabinet Sets Revolution Course

Havana - (UP) - The Cuban cabinet worked into the early hours this morning charting the future course of the revolution under Cuba's new president, Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado.

Fidel Castro, the revolutionary leader of the county, did not attend the meeting. Since he forced the resignation of President Manuel Urrutia Friday night, the bearded Castro has kept pretty much out of sight, spending at least part of the time in seclusion on the Isle of Pines.

Might Return Sunday
There was some speculation Castro might delay his formal return to directing the affairs of state until Sunday when hundreds of thousands of Cuban peasants will celebrate the sixth anniversary of the start of his rebellion against Fulgencio Batista.

Thousands of peasants already were in the capital and more were arriving every hour by foot, horseback, bus and train.

The peasants aroused by Cuban newspaper denunciations of American newsmen, caused some bad moments for two American photographers, Andy Lopez of United Press International and Bob Blair of NBC-TV.

Lopez asked a Cuban selling straw hats to pose in front of the capitol hawking his wares. A bystander told two plainclothesmen Lopez had asked the hat salesman to pose with his left fist in the air in a Communist salute. Photographer Released.

Lopez was taken to the tourist police station. His film was developed and he was released when police found nothing out of order.

Blair was working about a block from the Presidential Palace when a group of peasants stopped him and took his camera. Several bearded rebels retrieved the camera, returned it to Blair and then escorted him to the palace. He then was permitted to leave.

Demo Committee Denies Deletion

Washington - (UP) - The Democratic National Committee has denied that it deleted praise for party congressional leaders from a statement made by California Gov. Edmund G. Brown when he accepted a seat on the Democratic Advisory Council last week.

A committee spokesman said Tuesday that the "full text" of Brown's statement was included in a news release circulated by the committee for July 16 newspapers.

Brown has been reported piqued, claiming that committee Chairman Paul Butler omitted portions of his statement in praise of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Butler has been feuding with congressional leaders over their approach to legislation. He has accused them of not pushing hard enough for bills to carry out pledges for the Democratic platform and of giving in too easily to veto threats from President Eisenhower.

Iowa City, Iowa - (UP) - Dr. Arthur Steindler, world famous orthopedic surgeon at the University Hospital, died of cancer at his home here Tuesday. He was 81.

BOY STABS FATHER

New York - (UP) - A 12-year-old boy stabbed his father to death Tuesday night when he found him choking the boy's mother. Police said Raymond Wierzbicki was playing in the street with his younger sister and brother when he heard screams from their apartment and ran inside. Finding his father and mother struggling, he grabbed a knife and plunged it in the back of his 34-year-old father.

Sisters Drown In Columbia River

Umatilla - (UP) - Two small sisters drowned in the Columbia river here Tuesday afternoon, one of them while trying to rescue the other.

The victims were Frances Campbell, 9, and Janie Campbell, 4, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Campbell of Umatilla.

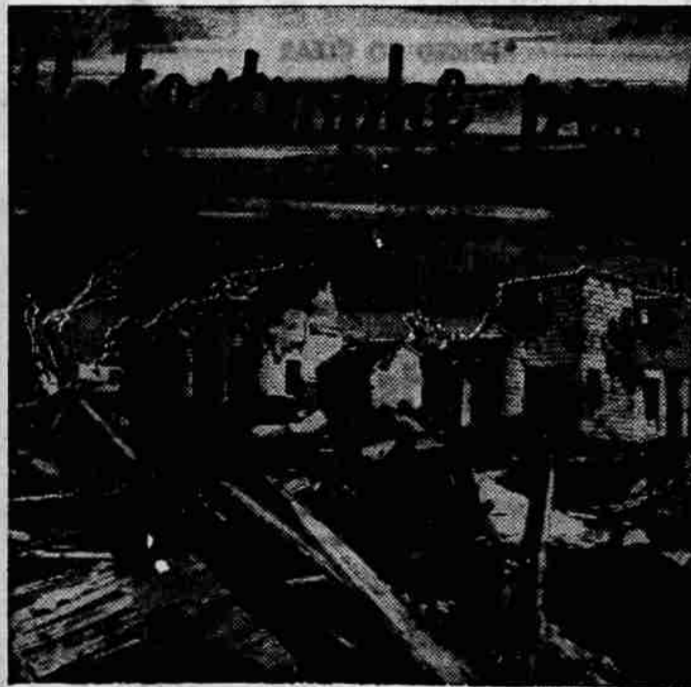

Sheriff's officers said the younger girl had waded out too far and that her sister tried to rescue her. Both were swept down the river by the swift current.

The body of Frances was recovered about 200 feet west of where the girls went into the water. Dragging operations continued for the body of the second girl. Another girl had witnessed the accident and ran for help.
