

Man Sentenced to Hard Labor on Seducing Charge

Montgomery, Ala. — A retired Air Force colonel has appealed a sentence of nearly 14 months at hard labor for seducing his 17-year-old Negro housemaid while his wife was gone.

Special Circuit Judge Herston Foster ignored jury recommendation that the defendant, Grady L. Smith, about 60, white, be fined for the offense and sentenced him to the jail term.

"This case involves every man, woman and child in Montgomery county," Prosecutor Maury D. Smith said in arguing for a stiff sentence. "In essence it involves our way of life."

Smith was freed under $1,000 bond following the sentence and his attorney immediately filed an appeal. Smith was convicted Tuesday by the all-white jury for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Accused of Relations
Smith, who lived in Jackson, Miss., for 18 years before he entered the Air Force and has been living in New York City recently, was accused of having sexual relations with the Prattville, Ala., Negro girl in his home here during the summer of 1958. The high school student testified she was intimate with the colonel one time while she served as his housemaid.

He was arrested when neighbors called police to complain he was living with the girl.

Judge Foster's sentence Wednesday included the maximum nine months term. The judge added 30 days in lieu of fine and 112 days in lieu of court costs for a total of 13 months, 22 days.

GRIVAS BALKS AT PACT
Athens — Gen. George Grivas, a leader of Cyprus' fight for independence, announced Wednesday he would actively oppose the present international agreements by which Cyprus is to attain nationhood. In so doing, the EOKA guerrilla chief openly broke with Archbishop Makarios who has given public support to the agreements reached earlier this year by Britain, Turkey and Greece.

Breadmakers
The Eagle Point Breadmakers held the final meeting of this 4-H year July 16, at the home of Susan Carroll.

Prior to the meeting Cathie Carroll, home economics major at Oregon State college, demonstrated the correct procedure of making white bread and of placing it in pans.

Francis Huffman conducted the business meeting and Norma Noble led the 4-H club pledge.

During the meeting a camping trip to Willow lake was decided upon. Each girl was asked to bring her own camping supplies and various foods.

July 19 the group arrived at the lake. The camp was immediately set up and the remainder of the trip, according to the girls, was spent in rising early, cooking over an open fire, washing dishes in cold water, swimming, hiking, and sun burning.

The campers were forced to return to the rush of the modern world on July 22, much to the dismay of all who attended.

Those who found time to spend living the rugged outdoor life were Susan Carroll, Norma Noble, Frances Huffman, Ellen Hay, Laura May Noble, Nancy Carroll, Cathie Carroll, and Mrs. J. E. Noble.

MYH Club
The MYH 4-H club held a special meeting recently at Susan Hall's. We discussed what we would have to go to catch up on our meetings. It was decided that we would have to have one meeting a week to catch up.

Another meeting was held at the Young home July 25. All members were present and there were two visitors. Georgia Mitchel and Susan Hall discussed some of the classes they had attended at summer school and how they benefit from them.

We discussed some of the steps of modeling and practiced for the style review. Our leader, Phyllis Mitchel, looked over our sewing projects and explained some of the things that could be improved.

Refreshments were served by Evelyn Young.

All Isn't Fair in Love, War, Chicago Girl Finds Out

Chicago — Jane Caroselli, 25, learned Wednesday that all is not necessarily fair in love and war.

Women's Court Judge George L. Quilici ordered the brunette to quit harassing Bernard Spena, 21, a handsome, happily married department store clerk.

The store, the Fair, hailed Miss Caroselli into court on charges she was impeding Spena's work by pestering him constantly for dates.

"I didn't mean it," Miss Caroselli protested. "I was just teasing him."

"I go out with a lot of fellows. I don't have to pick on a married fellow, if you know what I mean."

Teasing or no, cut it out, ordered the judge, who fined Miss Caroselli $2 for disorderly conduct but suspended the fine on her promise to keep out of Spena's hair.

The supreme court ban on school segregation affects the District of Columbia and 17 states where segregation was compulsory and four states where it was optional.

New York — R. E. Buchsbaum, analyst for W. E. Hutton and company, finds the stock market is having trouble with the resistance level that has developed in the present area in the Dow-Jones industrial average.

Inability to push through this area in the next week or two would be viewed unfavorably and with time running out on the summer rally, another reaction could occur purely for technical reasons, he holds.

The market's behavior in the next week could give the excellent clue on what to expect in August, he believes.

United Business Service finds the outlook for the oils more hopeful, meat outlook favorable, and rail shares may continue to lag.

Based on the historical trend, a sizable reaction could easily happen in late summer or a turn, says Moody's. However, it adds, it is too early to conclude that the market is close to its final bull market top.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel and company, says the technical pattern of the market continues to give buy signals and excellent profit figures being released also warrant maintenance of a constructive attitude toward stocks generally.

Cane Fruit Sprays Listed in Leaflet

Latest spray recommendations for Oregon cane fruits are set forth in a new leaflet published by Oregon State college extension service.

Brief, easy-to-follow spray and dust programs for summer, fall, winter, and spring are included in the pocket-size leaflet.

Oregon residents may obtain free copies of the leaflet, "Spray Schedule for Diseases and Insects of Cane Fruits," from local county extension offices or the OSC bulletin clerk, Corvallis.
