Social, Scientific Intelligence Must Equal, Speaker Says

Ashland - Dr. C. Easton Rothwell, president of Mills college, Oakland, spoke Wednesday morning during the Southern Oregon college summer session assembly hour. His subject was "The Role of Education in This Age of Technological Miracles." Comparing the first arrow shot into the air by a primitive hunter, to the complex guided missiles in orbit today, Dr. Rothwell pointed out that all such inventions had, at their inception, actually changed the history of the world.

Dangerous Developments
He stated that a number of newer, perhaps even more dangerous developments were threatening the very existence of the world as we now know it. He cited the increasing knowledge of nuclear power among, not only the large nations, but among the smaller ones as well; the startling specter of the technological growth of the sprawling Chinese nation; and the American mistake of adopting an attitude of omnipotence in all things industrial and governmental - and the resulting danger in such complacency.

Outlining the role of education in combating these dangers, the speaker defined it as the vital process which must inculcate and develop the necessary awareness, knowledge and skills to combat these menaces and surmount them in order to achieve a lasting world peace. He said that the American superficial knowledge of people and nations must also give way to an actual knowledge if America is to continue its leadership in world affairs.

Also appearing during the assembly were members of the Siskiyou Band camp under the direction of Clarence Sawhill, director of bands at the University of California. The band also appeared in an outdoor concert in the Lithia park bandshell last evening.

Travel in County Continued to Increase in June

Traffic over Jackson county highways continued to increase during June, according to volume data from automatic traffic recorders of the state highway department. An eight per cent increase was noted in the month's traffic on Highway 62 near Shady Cove. Average daily traffic totaled 2,375 vehicles compared with 2,199 in June, 1958. Traffic at that spot showed an 11.5 per cent increase during the past six months.

Emergency Crews Repair Elizabeth For Sailing Today

New York-Portland-Emergency crews early today completed repairs to the Queen Elizabeth's collision damage so the Cunard liner could sail again on her interrupted voyage to Europe.

The Elizabeth, dented in a brush with the United States Lines freighter American Hunter off the harbor entrance Wednesday, was first scheduled to sail at 6 a.m. today. But fog, which caused the collision, closed in on the harbor a few hours before that time. With contrary tides due at 7, the line rescheduled the sailing, hopefully, for 2:30 p.m.

The American Hunter, inbound from Europe with six passengers, had its bow caved in by its brush with the liner eight times its size. It anchored in the bay for the night and planned to dock at 6 a.m. No one aboard either vessel was injured.

Music Workshops Scheduled at SOC

Ashland - Two workshops in music and audio-visual aids will be offered during the Southern Oregon college post session Aug. 10-21. Elementary school music will be featured in the workshop conducted by Miss Helene Robinson and either graduate or undergraduate credit may be granted. The class will include sessions in the musical activities of the elementary school with several units of study, such as Hawaiian, American Indian, Latin American, and Calypso music, with each student to choose a topic of value to his own musical growth.

Three term hours of credit in either Ed 410 (g) methods and research materials in music, or Mus 383, music education in the grades, may be acquired. Audio-visual aids, taught by Chester C. Squire, assistant professor of education, will include the use of classroom films, slides, radio, electrical transcriptions, and other teaching aids. Sources and appraisal of materials and their practical application in teaching will be stressed. Details concerning either workshop may be obtained from Mrs. Mabel W. Winston, registrar.
