

Jacksonville Church Receives Bequest

A bequest of $2,500 has been left to the Jacksonville First Presbyterian church by the late Carrie C. Beekman, early-day resident of Jacksonville who died in Portland July 12 at the age of 93.

She was the daughter of C. C. Beekman, founder of the historic Beekman bank at Jacksonville, and granddaughter of William Hoffman, one of the founders and first elders of the church.

She had resided in Portland the last 40 years.

The will also leaves over $100,000 to perpetuate teaching of Northwest history at the University of Oregon and about $75,000 to individuals.

Miss Beekman specified that the balance of the estate, after other bequests are paid, be used to establish the Beekman professorship of Northwest and Pacific history at the university in memory of her father and her brother, Benjamin B. Beekman.

Checks and Cash Stolen From Firm

Medford police are investigating the theft of some $2,508.55 in checks and cash Wednesday from Henry's Broiler restaurant, 1206 North Riverside ave.

Police said the loot, including about $900 in cash alone, was taken sometime before 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Both cash and checks were in a black cash box in a wooden file cabinet in the restaurant office, according to the report.

The burglary was reported by the owner, Henry Rudolph Byers, 1217 Leland st., who told police $20 was missing from the cash drawer a week ago as well. The office was entered Wednesday through an unlocked door, according to what Byers told police.
