

BOB TAYLOR SAYS

IF YOU ASK ME
WHEN
IS A GOOD TIME TO TRADE

I would suggest that any time is a good time to trade if the car you are now driving is costing you more to maintain than its market value merits. If on the other hand, you feel that your present car is safe for your family and is not costing too much to operate, then the time for you to trade is when the automobile market is slow and prices are down. Such a period exists right now. In another month the Fall buying spree will be on and prices are likely to rise. If you plan to trade within the next six months, the next thirty days will be the most favorable time for you to trade. Listed below are some of the many clean cars we now have in stock. Come in and see them today and SAVE.
