Young Farmers From Abroad to Visit Oregon

Two visitors from distant countries will compare family life here and abroad as they live with Oregon families for the next few weeks. Two young farmers, Friedrich-Karl Schmitz-Winnenthal, 23, Germany, and Herminio Diaz C., 25, Mexico, will arrive at Oregon State college in early August for assignment to host families.

Schmitz-Winnenthal will stay with the Bernard Bohna family at Wallowa, the Bruce Hoofnagle family at Alicel, the Robert Westfalls at Eddyville and Rognar Anderson family at Colton Valley. Diaz C. will live with the Arthur Robinsons at Spray and Jack Sather family in Ontario.

Both youths are living with farm families as exchanges under the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program. In the nine years Oregon has participated in the program, a total of 160 families in every county have "hosted" foreign visitors, according to Mrs. Ruth Brasher, state 4-H extension agent and supervisor of the state program.

Miss Brasher also encourages families who would like an exchange to visit their home to write her or county extension agents for application forms. Six to eight youths visit Oregon each year under the IFYE program.

Robert Nicholas, Harrisburg, and Myra McBride, Lebanon, are overseas now on the same program. Nicholas is in Nicaragua and Miss McBride is in Japan.

Narcotics Officers Raid Opium Den

Portland — (UPI) — Portland city narcotics officers and federal agents Tuesday night raided an opium den in Portland's Chinatown and confiscated what they said they believed was all of the remaining opium in Portland.

Smoking paraphernalia was also confiscated. No arrests were made. Officers said evidence was that two men had been smoking opium in the den, but managed to escape by climbing through a window to a narrow ledge and crossing a steel catwalk to an adjacent building. Then they slipped down to a garage roof and finally to the street.

Suit Asks Damages Of Ashland Firm

A complaint asking $30,000 damages, plus hospital and medical costs, was filed this week against Rogue Transportation, Inc., Ashland, by Ira Glen Allen. Allen is represented by a Portland law firm.

The complaint charges the corporation with negligent driving in connection with an accident involving two trucks on Highway 99 north of Williams, Calif., in April, 1959.

Allen claims that in the collision, between a truck driven by him and one operated by the corporation, he suffered a skull fracture and multiple bruises.

Train Ride Will Become Shorter

Little Valley, Utah (UPI) — A train ride between San Francisco and Ogden, Utah, usually more than 700 miles, is about to become 43 miles shorter.

The short cut, a 12.6-mile earth and rock causeway across the Great Salt Lake, will begin carrying Southern Pacific rail traffic in July. The new causeway divides the lake from Promontory Point on the east shore to Lakeside on the west and replaces a 56-year-old wooden trestle that helped link Ogden with Lucin, Utah, a 102-mile distance of which 31.5 miles went across the lake.

The new trestle, built on a bed of solid rock, cost $49 million and required four years of construction work. The top of the trestle is about 18 feet above the lake and 38 feet wide.

To conquer the quicksand-like bottom of the Great Salt Lake and reach a solid base, more than 16 million cubic yards of material was dredged. This created a trench 175 to 480 feet wide and 20 to 35 feet deep.

Thirteen barges, some as long as a football field, were used to fill the trench with rock and gravel. The earth fill is covered by rock loosened in a series of dynamite explosions, including a 1,069-ton blast in August, 1957, that is considered the nation's largest non-atomic explosion.

Reserve Officer Is First, Last at Base

Niagara Falls, N.Y. — (UPI) — Ten years ago, Lt. Cmdr. Willis J. Neth Jr. was the first reserve officer to take a physical examination at the Niagara Falls Naval Air Station when the reserve program was initiated at the base.

He also turned out to be the last man to take a physical at the station, before it was closed down under the Navy's economy program.
