

260 Complaints Received by Sheriff's Office

More complaints were received by the Jackson county sheriff's office in July than in any previous month, the department's monthly compilation of reports, released this week, shows.

Two hundred and sixty felony, misdemeanor and miscellaneous complaints were received, an increase of more than 50 per cent over July of last year, and 63 more than the previous high month, August, 1956.

In July, 40 felony complaints were received, 71 misdemeanor complaints and 149 miscellaneous complaints. Of the felony complaints 12 involved grand larceny, 10 involved burglary and 9 involved fictitious checks.

The number of civil papers served by the sheriff's office also reached an all-time high last month. Four hundred and forty-one were served, which is an increase of almost 100 over the previous high month.

There were 82 persons lodged in county jail last month—58 males, 4 females and 20 juveniles.

There were 20 reports of petty larceny, which comprised the largest single offense in the misdemeanor complaints, and 9 complaints of indiscriminate shooting.

Local Hospital Tumor Registry Report Submitted

The first annual report of the Sacred Heart hospital tumor registry has been submitted by the hospital's committee on cancer. It was presented to the hospital staff "according to the directive and as a prerequisite for acceptance by the American College of Surgeons."

All patients admitted to Sacred Heart between June 1, 1957 and May 21, 1959, with a diagnosis of cancer are included in the report.

Of the total of 233 cases, 226 were confirmed histologically, giving a microscopic confirmation percentage of 97 per cent. At the end of a two-year period, 78.9 per cent of the total cases survive.

Thirty-nine cases were presented in eleven staff conferences attended by an average of 20 physicians, according to the report.

Of the total cases, reported the past two years, 75 affected the breast and genital organs; 51, digestive organs; 23, urinary organs; 10 each, lymphatic and hemopoietic tissues and respiratory system; and 68 other sites.

The registry was described as "one of the most important projects undertaken locally by the American Cancer society."

Survey of Vice Conditions In Nation's Communities Is Part of Group's Duties

Confidential "undercover" surveys of vice conditions in communities across the nation—including Medford—are one service of the American Social Hygiene association, a spokesman said here Monday.

The spokesman, Donald A. Clarke, appeared at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce weekly roundtable luncheon to discuss the association's efforts to combat vice, crime, juvenile delinquency, social disease and the breakdown of family life.

The association was aided last year by a $108 outlay from the United Medford Crusade. A $165 quota for the ASHA has been set for the Crusade's fund drive this fall, according to Howard B. Cook, Crusade executive secretary who appeared with Clarke at the luncheon.

Confidential Surveys
The confidential surveys, Clarke said, are directed from a New York office to which the investigators reply directly.

The survey results, he continued, are forwarded for information and corrective action to mayors, city managers, chiefs of police, state attorneys general and boards of health.

Clarke said after the luncheon that a survey of Medford had been made in the last two or three years, he was not sure exactly when.

Medford is now a "clean" city, he said. But he warned that it could become vice-ridden again if officials and citizens relaxed their vigilance. He said there used to be a huge vice ring operating throughout Oregon and the west coast.

Survey Results
Asked if the results of the recent survey he referred to might be available locally, Clarke said he thought the report would probably be found at the state level. Several city and county officials Tuesday said they were not familiar with any such report.

"I can state categorically," Clarke told the small group at the roundtable, "that you do not have commercial vice without graft. Somebody is

Bartholomew to Talk In San Francisco

San Francisco—(UPI)—Frank H. Bartholomew, president and general manager of United Press International, will speak before the Commonwealth Club of California Friday on "Geneva, East Berlin and Moscow."

Bartholomew visited all three cities on a recent trip to Europe.

The address will be his fifth before the club. In 1943, he spoke on the New Guinea campaigns of Gen. Douglas MacArthur; in 1946, he gave an eyewitness account of the Bikini A-bomb tests; in 1949, he discussed the Communist takeover of mainland China; and in 1951 he spoke on the Korean War and subsequent truce negotiations.

importance of family life, Clarke stated.

And, he added, it renders direct community service through talking with community leaders and officials about how to clean up vice conditions.

Bees Swarm Around Klamath Falls Cars

Klamath Falls—(UPI)—Two besieged automobiles collided here Tuesday, and one of the drivers got stuck in more than one way.

Robert E. Maloney, 60, and his passenger Robert Andersch, 17, both of Klamath Falls, were driving down a Klamath Falls street about 3:30 Tuesday afternoon. A car driven by Mrs. Inez E. Jordan of Doris, Calif., was following Maloney.

Without warning a swarm of bees clouded the road. Maloney stopped his pickup suddenly as he and his passenger swatted at the insects. Mrs. Jordan had her three children along, and as she tried to bat buzzing bees out of the car, the two vehicles collided.

Her car was slightly damaged. All six occupants of both vehicles suffered stings—the only injuries.

Maloney got the final sting, however, when he was cited by police for failure to have a driver's license in his possession.

Local Businesses Change Ownerships

Two local businesses have undergone recent changes in ownership, according to documents filed at the county recorder's office. The new proprietors of the ABC Cleaners at 65 North Main st., Ashland, are Zelma O. Lane and Marie A. Critten, who took over on Aug. 1 from Georgia N. Autry.

Siskiyou Hardware, 275 West Main st., Medford, is now owned by Harley M. Finney, who recently bought out his partner in the enterprise, C. B. Francis, it was reported.
