

White Sox, Orioles Battle 18 Innings to 1-1 Deadlock

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
Feast or famine—take your pick.
Sometimes a team can't beg, borrow or steal a run as was the case with the White Sox and Orioles, who battled to an 18-inning 1-1 tie in the longest game of the year Thursday night.

And there are other times when the poor guy running the scoreboard could use an adding machine as was the case when the Pirates came up with 10 runs in the ninth inning to swamp the Cardinals, 18-2.

Southpaw Bill Pierce and knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm were the standouts in the four-hour-an-eight-minute Chicago-Baltimore marathon. Pierce pitched 16 innings.

Pierce, once thought to be "too frail" during the early part of his career, pitched the first 16 innings for the White Sox before giving way to Turk Lown.

The 35-year-old Wilhelm took over for starter Billy O'Dell in the ninth and pitched no-hit ball for 8 2/3 innings before Billy Goodman singled with two out in the 17th.

Chicago scored the first run in the third inning on a walk and John Romano's triple off the left field barrier which just missed being a homer by inches. Baltimore scored its runs in the eighth on Chico Carrasquel's single, a sacrifice and another single by Willie Tasby.

The two teams finally halted by a midnight curfew, had played 17-inning games on June 4th and July 25th of this season with Chicago winning both games.

15 Bucs Bat in 9th
In Pittsburgh's slaughter of St. Louis, the Pirates sent 15 men to bat in the ninth. Smoky Burgess paced a 25-hit assault on five Cardinal pitchers, driving in six runs with five hits, including a homer and two doubles. Bill Virdon drove in five runs. The winner was left-hander Harvey Haddix, who hurled a seven-hitter and breezed to his eighth victory. The same Haddix would have done anything for a couple of those runs when he lost a 13-inning one-hit 1-0 decision to the Braves last May 26th.

San Francisco stretched its National League lead to a full game with a 7-1 decision over Milwaukee and Chicago over Milwaukee and Chicago over Philadelphia 4-2. Los Angeles and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

In the American League, Cleveland climbed to within 1 1/2 games of the top with a 5-2 victory over Washington; Detroit banked New York, 4-0, and Boston nipped Kansas City, 4-3.

Sam Jones of the Giants scored his 15th victory of the season with an eight-hitter over the Braves.

The Cubs snapped a seven-game losing streak when Ernie Banks' double touched off a two-run rally in the eighth against the Phillies.

Rocky Colavito's 32nd homer with one on highlighted a three-run rally that carried the Indians to their victory over the Senators.

Paul Foytack of the Tigers stopped the Yankees on three hits en route to his 10th victory.

Boston won its game from Kansas City with four unearned runs in the fourth inning.

Padres, Mounties Nab PCL Contests

United Press International
Dick Stigman of the San Diego Padres scattered seven hits here Thursday night and batted in two runs as the Padres downed Portland 6-1 in a Pacific Coast league contest.

In the only other PCL game Vancouver downed Sacramento 4-3.

The victory was the sixth of the season for Stigman, who has suffered 13 defeats this season. Loser was Portland starter Art Houteman, who dropped his sixth game in 11 decisions.

San Diego scored three times in the top of the second inning to overcome a 1-0 Portland lead. Ken Kraynak started the Padre uprising with a triple and scored when Billy Hunter singled. Steve Jankowski followed with a single and Stigman belted a triple scoring two more runs to put the Padres into the lead at 3-1.

Only Score
The Beavers scored their only run when Clem Moore singled, stole second and came across on a single by Dave Melton.

The winners added insurance ance by scoring single tallies in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

Dillard hit his sixth home run of the season in the seventh stanza with nobody on for the winners.

The win enabled the Padres to even the four-game series with the Beavers at two games apiece.

Spokane and Phoenix won exhibition games Thursday night and Salt Lake City and Seattle were idle.

Chuck Estrada was the winning pitcher for Vancouver. Causey Homers

In the Sacramento-Vancouver fray, Wayne Causey's first home run of the year, a two-run shot in the third inning, was the game's big blow. Causey later scored what proved to be the winning run when Joe Frazier singled him home in the sixth.

The victory was Estrada's 10th against four losses.

In San Diego's win, Dick Stigman scattered seven hits in going the route. He aided his cause with a two-run triple that highlighted San Diego's three-run second inning.

The pitching win was his sixth of the year against 13 losses.

Don Dillard belted his sixth home run of the campaign for the Padres in the seventh with none on.

Spokane, playing at home before an exhibition crowd of 11,158, nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 3-2. Frank Howard singled home the winning run in the bottom of the ninth. Howard homered earlier in the contest.

Phoenix took a 4-1 exhibition win over the Eugene Emeralds of the Northwest league at Eugene, with Andre Rodgers driving in three runs in two hits.

Bellingham Painter Dies from Fall Injuries
Bellingham—UPI—Ray Pauley, 32, Bellingham painter, died Thursday of injuries suffered earlier in the day when he and another painter plunged five stories to the ground as a rope on a swing-stage broke.

Jim Wilson, 34, remained in serious condition with a crushed chest and numerous other injuries.

Senate Resolution Calls on President To Set Strike End

New York—UPI—Thirty Democrats were reported signed today as co-sponsors of a Senate resolution calling on President Eisenhower to set a deadline for a voluntary steel strike settlement and to set up a fact-finding board if it is not met.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), author of the proposal, said it would remain open for further sponsoring signatures today and be submitted tonight to the Senate Committee on Labor and public welfare.

Meanwhile Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan said union and industry negotiators are "getting down to brass tacks" although still not taking "hard cash" as they go into their fifth consecutive day of bargaining talks since the strike began 24 days ago.

Restate Positions
Despite the apparent improvement in contract talks, Finnegan declined to characterize it as definite progress—both sides restated their so far unyielding positions in display newspaper advertisements today, a technique deplored earlier this week by the mediator.

The steel industry advertisement said "thanks for your letters!" to "thousands of you" who replied to an earlier request for comment "by a 20 to 1 margin... supported our stand against inflation."

"You have already told us how you feel," the advertisement said. "Why not tell Mr. David J. McDonald, president, United Steelworkers of America."

The union's full-page advertisement, under the headline "Now America... steel profits are exposed for you!", listed figures from the 12 steel companies represented by the industry bargaining committee. It restated the union's claim that the industry can afford to pay a wage increase without increasing prices.

The union said that a ton of steel produced in 1957 with 13 production-hours was produced in May, 1959, with 10.9 production-hours, and that the total payroll cost of that ton is now $3 less than in 1957.

The advertisement said steel industry executives have had the opportunity to make millions of dollars in profits on stock options in recent months whereas "steelworkers regular wages have increased but 1 penny in the last 13 months."

ASK WAITERS ON PAIR
Westminster, Md.—UPI—The Baltimore Colts Thursday asked waiters on Harold Bullard, a Lenoir Rhyne full-back, and John (Big Thunder) Lewis, an end from Michigan State.

The newspaper said Britain is unwilling to ready the rockets for quick action until the bases from which they would fly in case of trouble have formally been declared operational and H-bomb warheads have been permanently fitted to the missiles.

The U. S. magazine Missiles and Rockets reported recently that at least one of Britain's Thor bases is already operational.

The News Chronicle and the Laborite Daily Herald reported that Britain has protested to the U. S. against the magazine's publication of secret missile data.

The government declined comment on the report.

Giants Win 7-1, Capture Series From Milwaukee

By DON THACKREY

San Francisco—UPI—Attendance at the Giant home game will pass the million mark tonight, but that's not what all the shouting is about.

Those yells you hear from the Giant fans who still have voices are for the job San Francisco did on the proud Milwaukee Braves. After booting away the opening game of the three-game series, and losing their National league lead, the Giants came roaring back to take the final two games of the set and repossess their spot at the top.

Wednesday, it was 7-1 for the Giants—and they did it off Lew Burdette, a longtime jinx.

Giant Killer Killed
Burdette, who still owns a 22-9 record against the Giants, was greeted harshly. Three straight singles added up to one San Francisco run driven in by rookie sensation Willie McCovey—and a sacrifice fly brought home another in the first inning.

That would have been enough for Sam Jones, the toothpick industry's best customer. Jones allowed the league champions only eight hits and did not give them a run until the sixth inning when he had a healthy 6-0 lead. He fanned six and walked only two en route to his 18th victory of the season.

The 15 wins establish a personal league high for the Giant righthander, who has twice won 15 in a season.

The big inning for the Giants was the fourth. Two singles and a fielder's choice produced one run and then Eddie Bressoud made it four for the frame with a blast into the left field pavilion. It was homer number six for the shortstop.

The other San Francisco tally came in the seventh on Willie Mays' 18th home run of the year.

Only in the sixth could the Braves dent the plate against Jones. Then a single by Wes Covington, a double by Frank Torre and Bill Bruton's infield out put them on the scoreboard.

Jones Scores Crowd
For a few minutes the crowd of 22,923—third sell-out in a row for the series—thought Jones might not finish the game. That was in the Milwaukee fifth when Hank Aaron lofted a two-out fly to left that came down where Bressoud, left fielder Orlando Cepeda and third baseman Jim Davenport converged.

Aaron was already on second and he headed for the unprotected base at third. Jones met him there, took a throw from Davenport, tagged Aaron and did not get up.

He was jarred groggy by Aaron's knee and suffered a five-inch slash above the right knee. After going to the pit for repairs while the Giants batted, Jones returned to the hill to finish the game.
