

All-Stars Return For Ladies' State Softball Tourney

Most of 1958's all-stars will appear in action in the women's tournament of the Oregon State Softball association Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 13, 14, 15 and 16 at Memorial stadium, Camp White.

Heading the list will be two players who collected last year's top individual awards, Pat Barron, Rogue Valley Dairy Maids, and Linda McKay, Eugene McCulloch Chain Saw. Miss Barron was chosen outstanding pitcher and Miss McKay, a catcher, outstanding player other than pitcher.

Rogue Valley, the defending champ in the tourney, could have the most all-stars returning. Diane Wall, third base, Ellen Callaghan, outfielder, and Doris Hickson, first base, were named to the tournament all-star team here last season. Miss Hickson has been in Hawaii and may not make it to the tourney.

Three Past Champs

Sharon Knight, shortstop, and Wanda Conner, infielder, were other Eugene all-stars. Hillsboro placed Virginia Hannen, pitcher, and Jean Delplanche, second base, and Klamath Falls Basinetts had Bev Lloyd, outfielder.

Klamath and Forest Grove, along with the Maids, are past champions. Forest Grove's Meadowlarks won in 1957 and Klamath Falls was state victor in 1954.

This is the fifth year of the tournament under the wing of the Oregon State Softball association. Previously the tourney was held under supervision of the City of Portland recreation department.

The 1958 tournament field includes the Salem Capital City Shamrocks along with Rogue Valley, Eugene, Forest Grove, Klamath Falls and Hillsboro.

Forest Grove and Klamath Falls open the double elimination meet at 7:15 p.m. Thursday. Rogue Valley and Hillsboro play in the second game.

MAID ALL-STAR—Ellen Callaghan, above, will be among 1958 all-tourney players appearing in the women's tournament of the Oregon State Softball association Aug. 13-16, at Memorial stadium, Camp White. The Rogue Valley Dairy Maid player was named an all-tourney star as an outfielder in 1956 as well as last year. She has done most of the Maids' pitching this summer.

SCORE TRACK WINS—Skoevie, Sweden—Ray Norton of San Jose State and Jim Graham of Tulsa, Okla., scored victories for the U. S. here Monday in an international track meet. Norton won the 100-meter dash in 10.4 seconds and Graham the pole vault by clearing 13 feet, 7 1/4 inches.

SPORTS PARADE OSCAR FRALEY

Sport Writer United Press

New York—UPI—Time, tide and the tortures of making weight Wednesday night well could spell the end of a career for Archie Moore's seven-year reign as light heavyweight champion of the world.

The muscular marvel from San Diego won fighter of the year and fight of the decade honors last year when he came off the deck four times to stop Yvon Durelle. It was one of the ring's greatest displays of gameness.

George Brunet, Portland southpaw, was the winner although he had to have relief help from Glenn McMinn in the seventh.

But it just may go the other way at Montreal Wednesday night despite the 3 to 1 odds favoring old Arch in this rematch.

It isn't so much, according to veteran fight men, that Archie is 43 going on 49 or that Durelle, the fistic fisherman from Canada, is riding a rising tide. They see Moore's eclipse in the fact that once again he has been forced to pare his 200 pounds plus down to the 175-pound limit.

Reducing Takes Toll
"He can hand out all the bunk he wants to about having learned a reducing method from an Australian aborigine," explained one canny fight manager. "But after a while, even if the process is seemingly effortless, that constant reducing has to take its toll."

The feeling is that, even in a body which has been hardened muscularly, such reducing must leave a quickly tiring shell.

"Archie is ready to be taken," asserted another. "The time comes for everybody, sooner or later, and Moore is no exception. You've got to remember that Durelle, while he may not be the best boxer in the world, or anywhere close to it, is a lot younger at 29 and is as strong as a gorilla."

Must Move Up Weight
Making weight has ruined many a good fighter who insisted on going through the ordeal. Most others, tiring of the struggle, simply move up into a heavier weight class. Ray Robinson for years struggled to stay in the welterweight division where he had a lock on the competition. But after repeated doctor's orders that weight making could be severely injurious to his health, he moved up into the middleweight bracket.

Ageless Archie can't be rapped too readily on the basis of his age, which remains a deeper mystery than the names of the fighters controlled by Frankie Carbo. He claims he was born in 1916, which would make him "only" 43. His mother set the date as 1913, which would make him 46. Others contend that even this date is about three years short of the actual mark.

Nobody can contest the fact, however, that he has been boxing as a recognized professional since 1936—a mere matter of 23 years. How many years he laced on gloves before that in unrecognized bootleg bouts is once again anybody's guess.

The fact is that, in the ring, he still moves like a young sprout and it is an admitted fact that he last thing a boxer loses is his punch. If Yvon's chin gets in the way, you can expect Durelle to go.

Portland Wins Over Phoenix To Stay Ahead In PCL Race

United Press International The Portland Beavers were a full game and a half out in front today in the race for the Pacific Coast league pennant.

Portland's hopes to bring home the title in the state's Centennial year were brightened Monday night as the Beavers edged Phoenix 4-3.

Vancouver took over second place with a 5-1 win over Salt Lake City; Spokane clobbered San Diego 9-3 and Seattle downed Sacramento 6-5 in 10 innings.

Fifth Loss
It was the fifth straight loss for Sacramento which led the league for a large part of the season. Sacramento is at Portland for a series opener tonight.

Portland got its runs early against Phoenix Monday night, scoring twice in the second and once each in the third and fourth. Phoenix scored in the fifth on Owen Friend's 15th homer and twice in the seventh on three hits including a triple by Sal Taromina.

George Brunet, Portland southpaw, was the winner although he had to have relief help from Glenn McMinn in the seventh.

Yakima leads the second-half league race by a game and a half over Eugene and Lewiston. Tri-City, in the basement, is only 4 1/2 games from the top.

High Court Gets Chavez Appeal

Washington—UPI—An appeal of a California Supreme Court decision which approved transfer of ground in the Chavez Ravine area from the city of Los Angeles to the Los Angeles Dodgers baseball team has been filed with the U. S. Supreme Court.

The appeal was filed Monday by attorney Phil Silver on behalf of Louis Kirshbaum of Los Angeles. However, the Supreme Court currently is in its summer recess and no action will be taken on the appeal until the fall.

Silver filed a brief earlier this year with the court, but had been directed by Justice Hugo L. Black to submit additional material.

Principal Issue
In the supplementary brief, Silver declared that federal questions involved in the case are "substantial." He said a principal issue was whether the contract between the city and the ball club was for "a public purpose" or a "private purpose."

Silver said that approval of the transfer of 315 acres to the Dodgers for a new stadium site would, if allowed to stand by the courts, "open wide the way to raids on public treasuries in all the states, cities, towns, and counties of the country."

Howard, who has been with the Indians for the past month and a half after a stint at Victoria in the Texas league and a cup of coffee with the Dodgers, is hitting around .315 and has 10 homers in 44 games. Davis is leading the league in hitting with a .338 mark and he has 14 homers.

George Bamberger was in command all the way as he pitched Vancouver to its win over Salt Lake. The veteran righthander scattered 10 hits and was aided by sound defensive support.

Lou Skizas homered in the top of the tenth to give the red-hot Seattle Rainiers a sweep of their five game series with Sacramento.

Jack Sharkey Named As Third Man In Moore-Durelle Bout

By JOHN POWER
Montreal—UPI—Former heavyweight champion Jack Sharkey again will referee the light heavyweight title fight between champion Archie Moore and Canadian Yvon Durelle Wednesday night in the Montreal Forum.

Leopold Pigeon, chairman of the Montreal Athletic Commission, announced today that Sharkey had been picked to referee Wednesday's return 15-rounder because the commission thought he had done "an excellent job" in the first Moore-Durelle bout last Dec. 10.

Pigeon said the three judges will not be announced until five minutes before the fight starts at 7 p.m. (p.d.t.) in Montreal, three judges instead of two preside and only they can vote on the decision. The referee has no vote.

Durelle, who balked Monday at signing a return bout pact, was expected to sign the pact today.

The fighting fisherman from Baie Ste. Ann, N.B., said at first he wouldn't accept the offered return bout terms in the event he beats Moore—of 30 per cent of the net receipts for each fighter. He said he wanted "at least $100,000 for defending against Moore."

But Truman Gibson, president of National Boxing Enterprises, arrived by plane from Paris and went into an immediate huddle with Durelle and his manager, Chris Shaban. He emerged with word that Durelle would sign today—and for the originally offered 30-30 split.

Durelle, 29, claims to be more confident of victory this time than he was last December. His new-found source of strength is trainer Charlie Goldman, the man who groomed Rocky Marciano on the Brockton blockbuster's march to the heavyweight championship.

"Charlie has given me a good left hand to go with my right," said Durelle. "He has stopped me from hitting with a loose left arm."

Although ancient Archie has in the past drilled right down to the day of the fight, he knocked off stiff training

Shriners Work Out

Portland—UPI—Rival coaches were vying today for the underdog role in the 12th annual Shriners' hospital all-star football game Saturday night in Multnomah stadium.

"Where do they get that 'even stuff'?" asked Coach Fred Spiegelberg of the State all-stars.

"They've got everything," moaned Coach Tom DeSylvia of the Metros. "They (State) should be the favorites."

Sideline observers continued to insist, however, that the game stacks even.

Bot 27-man squads worked hard Monday morning and afternoon following their Sunday holiday, and double workouts were scheduled for again Tuesday.

The Metros concentrated on their passing attack again, with Quarterback Terry Baker of Jefferson in the key throwing role. Baker hailed as the best prep passer to come out of Oregon since George Shaw, connected consistently on long and short tosses.

here two days ago—an indication that he thinks he is at his peak form. The champion had a one-hour light workout Monday, finishing just in time to greet his wife who arrived from California.

Bow Hunters Shoot For Championships

Oregon Bow Hunters members will compete for both free style and instinctive championships when they vie in their annual broadhead tournament on Saturday and Sunday, August 15 and 16, at Mill Creek campground near Union Creek.

Entrants will shoot at 100 cardboard animal target set up on a roving course. First 50 target round on the course will start at 1 p.m. Saturday and the second 50 at 9 a.m. Sunday.

Contestants will shoot only one arrow at each of the targets. One point will be scored for a hit on any part of a target and an additional one-half point will be awarded for a heart shot.

Flight Event
Registration for the event will be from 7 a.m. to noon on Saturday. A broadhead arrow flight event is set for 9 a.m. and a running deer rivalry from 10 a.m. until noon.

Possibly 200 shooters from all parts of Oregon are expected for the tournament and many of them will camp at the Mill Creek site. The campground is about six miles from Union Creek and two miles off Crater Lake highway.

Rogue Archers of Medford are hosts for the tourney and have been busy in recent weeks preparing the area for the competition. They were last sponsors for the broadhead meet in 1953.

Stutz Sports Car Manufacturer Dies

Miami, Fla.—UPI—Charles E. Stutz, who helped design and manufacture the famed Stutz Bearcat sports car, died here Monday at the age of 76.

Stutz was one of the earliest advocates of the sports car. He helped popularize the fad in the 1920s by driving his Bearcat in races.

What Rambler's Success Means To Every Motorist

"It'll be the most imitated car in America next year!"

I've built this business over the last 10 years. My company has hauled all kinds of cars from the factories to dealers. I've had a ringside seat on the auto business.

When I read news reports about the new smaller cars others plan to bring out, I say to myself—"Rambler already has what the others are merely talking about."

I see where the rest of the industry is going to copy Rambler's way of building cars when they rush out their smaller models.

RAMBLER SIZE IMITATED
Reports out of Detroit say that the new crop of smaller cars will be about the same wheelbase as Rambler, but what I want to know is—will the others be able to match Rambler's inside space? Ease of entry? If the others can't beat Rambler's room and comfort with their oversized cars, how are they going to do it with smaller ones?

ALL OUT FOR GASOLINE ECONOMY
Everyone knows that Rambler is the economy leader. And economy is what most motorists want today. So, it's only natural that the others would try to imitate Rambler economy. But can they match Rambler's performance?

At least one of the small cars is planning to put the engine in the rear. Through the years, I've hauled a lot of the American Motors experimental cars from the factory to the Proving Grounds . . . watched them tested . . . talked to the engineers. So I know Rambler has weighed the pros and cons of all types of engines . . . liquid and air-cooled . . . all types of cylinder combinations. And, Rambler decided the engine belongs in front. The greater safety and better handling of the front-engine design is what convinced them.

CAN'T IMITATE BASIC EXCELLENCE
There's one thing the others can't even begin to imitate . . . Rambler's basic excellence. That's the all-round "balance" of quality, economy, maneuverability, room, comfort and performance that Rambler has.

It's this balance—the proper combination of everything motorists want—that is the secret of Rambler's basic excellence. And it's something no quick imitation can duplicate.

No wonder I'm hauling more than twice as many Ramblers from the factory this year. Fact is, in June, Rambler was 3rd in sales in the U.S.A.

Sure, Rambler will be the most imitated car in America next year. But who wants an imitation when you can get the original?

AMERICAN MOTORS CORPORATION

RAMBLER CALLS IT SINGLE UNIT CONSTRUCTION*—body and frame welded into one strong unit, like airplanes. Stronger, safer . . . more room with less bulk. No body bolt rattles. It's the only way a real Compact* Car should be built. Up until recently, the others have done it the old oxcart way—bolting together separate body and frame.

Sure, Rambler has pointed the way for the others. But there's one big thing that can't be copied, and that's weighed the pros and cons of all types of engines . . . liquid and air-cooled . . . all types of cylinder combinations. And, Rambler decided the engine belongs in front. The greater safety and better handling of the front-engine design is what convinced them.
