Yankees Reel Off 6th Straight Win

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
 Is the panic on?

Can the Yankees do it? Maybe that sounds like those sign-off teasers they use in soap operas but the fact is that some of those American league contenders are going to keep tuned in closely to learn how the Yanks wind up.

They certainly sounded like a happy, pennant-bound crew on the train that brought them back from Boston Tuesday night where they had just reeled off their sixth straight victory by beating the Red Sox, 8-5.

Some of the Yankee players even were talking about the "anniversary" commemorating the start of the Giants' 1951 miracle pennant drive.

It was just eight years ago today that the Giants, 13 games back, began a 16-game winning streak.

The Yankees cut the margin between themselves and the first-place White Sox to 10 games when they scored six runs in the fifth inning to beat Boston Tuesday.

Tigers Beat Chicago
 The Tigers routed the White Sox 8-1, and the Athletics ended a seven-game losing streak by defeating the Indians, 7-3, in the only other scheduled AL games.

The "Willies" did it again for the Giants, who widened their National league lead to three games with a 5-4 victory over the Cardinals in 10 innings. The Cubs beat the second-place Dodgers, 5-4, in 10 innings; the Braves split a two-night twin-bill with the Reds, losing the opener, 4-3, but winning the nightcap, 7-3, and the Phillies topped the Pirates, 6-4.

Jim Bunning of the Tigers stopped the White Sox on eight hits and struck out eight in winning his 10th game.

Attendance Record Set At Portland

By DON BECKER
United Press International
 Who said interest in minor league baseball is dying?

Up Portland way, the whole town seems to be gripped by a pennant fever as hot as the one that has hit San Francisco.

They set a Pacific Coast league attendance record Tuesday night when 24,109 jammed their way into Multnomah Stadium to cheer the league-leading Beavers to a 10-5 win over the Sacramento Solons.

The Portland crowd was mostly kids. They were admitted under a plan in which merchants purchased the tickets for 50 cents each and then gave them away.

The turnout shattered a mark that dates almost as far back as the last Portland pennant. That was set in 1946 when 23,603 showed up for a game in San Francisco. The Beavers won their last flag in 1945.
