

VERNON NELSON
Manager of Market

Food Fair Market
Sets Grand Opening

The new Food Fair market, Fourth and Front sts., managed by Vernon Nelson, is holding a grand opening today, Friday and Saturday.

The interior has been re-decorated and filled with a new, complete stock of foods, Nelson said. The former Luman's market was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson.

A new self service meat case has been installed in front of the regular service meat department so customers may select meats pre cut or have it cut to order. The fruit and vegetable department has been moved to the rear of the store and enlarged. A new frozen food department has been added, Nelson said. The new firm will feature well known name brand foods.

Nelson was formerly employed at the Groceteria and Quality market and he also operated the meat departments in the Triangle market, Phoenix and Matlack's market.

Adult Indian
Training Law
Changes Urged

Portland - (UP) - The Interior Department has recommended a change in the law under which adult Indians are given vocational training at federal expense.

The plan, as announced by the local Bureau of Indian Affairs office, would establish three priorities of eligibility.

Top priority would go to Indians residing on trust or restricted lands or federal lands under the Interior Department's jurisdiction. Second priority would go to Indians who within the preceding three years have moved to urban communities from residences on or near Indian reservations under the BIA relocation services program. Third priority would be given to Indians residing on or near reservations but not on trust, restricted or federal land.

In Report To Congress
The proposal to amend the 1956 Indian adult vocational training law is embodied in an Interior Department report to Congress on a Senate bill. In its present form the bill would require the program be made available to Indians who live on or near a reservation without regard to residence or trust property.

Assistant Secretary Roger Ernst said the effect would be to nullify a Department regulation which now makes the program available "primarily" to Indians in the top priority category proposed. He recommended the bill be enacted only if amended as proposed.

Cook's New Recipe
Uses Metal, Glass

Holden, Mass. - (UP) - In the cellar of her home, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall "cooks" plate - glass "sandwiches" with fillings of broken glass and metal turnings.

During a 70-hour kiln process, the plate glass softens like grilled cheese and fuses with the broken colored glass and metal. The result is a solid, slightly uneven block with a center core of riotous colors in 'free-form designs.

The fused glass can be used for many things such as window panes, room dividing screens, cigarette box lids, decorative garden walls and shower stall doors.

Fall Off Scaffold Kills Portland Man

Portland - (UP) - John Fellmeth, about 57, was killed Wednesday when he fell from a painting scaffold.
