Two Plan Test of Colorado Rapids

Indianapolis, Ind. – (UPI) – Two adventure-minded Indianapolis men plan to take on a task which has proven fatal to some of the most daring – shooting the treacherous rapids of the Colorado river.

John Morgan, 23, and Kenneth Stroud, 24, will battle the swirling waters in a small rubber raft.

They figured it would take them about 12 days, barring trouble, to complete the 300-mile voyage through Marble canyon and Grand canyon.

The Colorado river, cutting through the deep canyons, has killed several persons within the last two years.

Morgan is no newcomer to rapids-shooting. Last year he and a friend made a trip down the Salmon river in Idaho, known as "the River of No Return."

SALADS POPULAR–Picture-pretty salads are tremendously popular and this eye-catching well-seasoned tomato aspic ring is a top favorite. We filled it with a seafood potpourri for eight generous servings.

Feeding the Family

By ZOLA VINCENT
Food Editor

Fishburgers

Fast and delicious main dish is ready quickly when you bake fish sticks, put them in hot buttered rolls and serve them with tartar sauce. Six servings.

12 Fish sticks
6 buttered rolls
Tartar Sauce

Place the fish sticks in a single layer in a baking pan. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes or until heated through and crisp. Place two fish sticks on a toasted buttered roll and serve with tartar sauce.

Tartar Sauce. Combine one-half cup mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing, one tablespoon chopped onion, one tablespoon chopped pickle, one tablespoon chopped parsley and one tablespoon chopped pimiento-stuffed olives.

Broil Meat, Fruit And Vegetables, Too

Beef and lamb cuts are fine for broiling; so are hamburgers and hot dogs. Fresh pork and veal should never be broiled. Veal and pork steaks and chops should be braised which means browned then cooked in a covered skillet with or without added liquid.

Because of their lack of fat, such meats as liver, kidney and sweetbreads should be brushed with melted butter or margarine before broiling.

Broil Vegetables. Halves of tomatoes, cooked carrots, onion slices or mushrooms may be brushed with butter or margarine and plced on the broiling rack with meat for the last 6 to 10 minutes of the broiling period. Try heating cooked peas, green beans, lima beans, corn, hominy, carrots and caulifloweret under the drip rack of the broiler to receive the tasty meat drippings while heating.

Broil Fruit. Fruit such as split bananas, pineapple slices, peach and pear halves may be brushed with melted butter and put on the rack to broil with the meat the last 7 to 10 minutes of the broiling period.

Sour Cream Peach Pie; Dessert Treat

Make the very most of plentiful peaches. Don't waste a single luscious bite. Capture some of their goodness in the pie that's made with dairy sour cream and brown sugar with quick-cooking tapioca.

7 or 8 freestone peaches
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup sour cream
½ cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca

Wash, remove skin and halve peaches. Combine four, granulated sugar and tapioca. Spread on bottom and sides of an unbaked pie shell using favored recipe or a pie crust mix in an eight or nine inch pan.

Combine sour cream and brown sugar and dip each peach section in this mixture and arrange in pie shell. When pie shell is filled, pour remaining sour cream mixture over peach sections and place in a pre-heated oven at 400 degrees. After 15 minutes, reduce temperature to 250 degrees and continue baking for one hour.

Milk Memo to Parents

The period from 4 to 11 years in a child's life is one of steady growth. Milk and milk products are of special value to the child both for protein and for calcium.

Children given ample calcium in their diets tend to store this important mineral most heavily during the year or so before the period of rapid growth in height.

If a child gets enough protein and calcium during the growing years, he generally gets enough of two important B vitamins, thiamine and riboflavin.

Nutritionists agree that a growing child needs a quart of milk a day and that teenagers need more for optimum growth. This of course includes milk used in soups, cereals, and otherwise as well as a beverage.

Poultry, Pork, Peaches Continue in Good Supply

The "P's" have it. Poultry and pork are pouring into our markets vieing with each other price-wise for the consumer pennies. So smart shoppers will be feeding their families some chicken . . . and some pork. Andy many will be investing in turkeys because both hens and toms are plentiful; make such good second and third day eating in multiple ways in casseroles, salads and sandwiches.

Small families will find it more economical in the long run to buy turkey parts or halves. No food is a bargain if there's waste or only a portion used to best advantage.

Eggs have been bargains for so long that we're now noting every little advance as the situation trends toward normal. However eggs are so packed with good nutrition, so necessary in the daily diet that they're bargains at almost any price.

Peaches, Plums, Pears. Watch markets closely for best time to prescrve, jam, "can" and freeze the big three of summer fruitdom. Commercial interests are busy picking off prime peaches, too. Most plums are sold fresh and there's execptional variety right now. Bartlett pear season is just getting under way.

Other Fruit. There are Gravenstein apples, apricots, avocados, good variety in berries, figs with the odd name of "brown turkey". Fine supplies of grapes, grapefruit, lemons, nectarines, oranges and superb quality in cantaloupes, Cranshaws, honeydews. August is watermelon time and chilled is the way to eat them.

Vegetables. Beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers; fine, firm heads of lettuce and quality romaine. There are potatotes, tomatoes, soft squash, hard squash and peppers. Lots of radishes and green onions and corn, corn, corn.

Fish and Shellfish. Menu variety and good eating in fish sticks, flounder, halibut, rockfish, sablefish, salmon and shrimp; bargains in sardines and canned tuna.

Dairy Products. Plenty of snowy cottage cheese packaged locally for every day enjoyment. Good values in cheddar cheese in every degree of sharpness. Treat the family to ice cold buttermilk for a refreshing change; use it more often in cooking.

Telephone Company Holds Lake Picnic

Eagle Point – The Oregon Washington Telephone company, formerly Columbia Utilities company, held a picnic at Diamond lake for the Camp White, Oakridge, and Merril districts recently.

As a result of a sales contest among the districts, Merril and Oakridge furnished the picnic for Camp White, the winner. Seventy - five adults and several children attended.

Earl Dean, Hood River, president of the company was present. John W. Kirby Jr., Medford, vice president and general manager of the firm, presented the following employees from the Camp White area with pins: 20-year pin to Mrs. Josephine Overdick; 15-year pin to Fred Bruegger, Camp White manager; 10-year pins to Wayne Smith, Don Klingle, Dick Ackerman, Mrs. N. A. Dunford, Mrs. Eldon Jackson, Mrs. Helen Field; 5-year pins to Louie Baker, Leland Meyer, Jack Thorp, Homer Haynes, Mrs. Wayne Moore, Mrs. Earl Harnish; and 2-year pins to Laurence Ellis, Miss Anna Carlson, Miss Rose Whaley and Mrs. Yost.

Population Growth In Area Discussed

The "population explosion" that southwestern Oregon has experienced in the past decade was compared as "a lamb to the lion to come" by Robert V. Berger, district wholesale manager of the Richfield Oil corporation at the Rogue Valley Country club this week.

Medford's "nearly 50 per cent population increase since 1950" was cited by Berger as a lull before the storm of growth to come in the 1960's.

Berger was the main speaker at a Richfield sales "circus" at the country club. Nearly 100 service station operators, agents and company personnel attended from an area extending from Lakeview to Roseburg and Coos Bay.

E. R. Kennedy, Richfield's Medford agent, was one of the hosts. Taking part in the program were R. S. Weaver, Medford, and B. A. Whitner, both from Richfield's marketing department.

Portland Attorney Plans To Move Here

Portland–Gregory T. Hornecker got a surprise farewell party this week from employees at the federal courthouse here to send him on his way to private law practice in Medford.

Hornecker, law clerk for U. S. District Court Judge William G. East, is leaving that post to practice with the firm of Farrell and Blackhurst in Medford. He has a wife and an infant son.

More than 400 billion cigarettes are consumed in the U. S. each year, according to present volume, and the cost is $4 billion.

Of the entire cultivated area of the U. S., only about two-tenth of one per cent is used to grow sugar beets on a commercial basis.
