Area Wild Flowers In Fair Exhibits

An "Oregon native wild flower Garden," designed and planted by Marcel LePiniec, owner of the Garden Center nursery, will be among exhibits of the Kiwanis county fair which opens Thursday at the Medford armory. A well-known author and lecturer on native plants, LePiniec is winner of 20 gold medals at the various international flower shows held in New York City. He designed the gold medal winning wild flower garden for the Garden Club of America at the New York World's Fair in 1932.

An unusual part of the display will be one of Oregon's most unusual wild flowers, the Darlingtonia, also known as the Cobra plant, an insect eating plant. Also featured will be a collection of native ferns and evergreens, as well as some of the rarest shrubs.

Fair officials report the many different features have been planned to please the varied interests of residents in the area. They expressed hope that it would serve to stimulate greater interest in creating outstanding exhibits for the Kiwanis-sponsored annual fair.

A contest to list the proper name of all the varieties of Oregon plants on exhibit will be conducted during the four-day show. Fifty dollars worth of shrubs from the Garden Center nursery will be presented to the individual correctly naming the most varieties.

Another display at the Kiwanis event will feature dwarf bonzais and an extensive display of planted rocks.

Shaggy Dog to Host Children's Events

A shaggy dog will be the official host for children's events Thursday evening at the Kiwanis county fair. Officials stated that the dog, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Barnum Sr., "has agreed to the Thursday appearance, but could not guarantee other appearances during the four-day show."

COW AND CALF - Marilyn Watson, 17, and a calf at the annual Jackson county member of a Central Point area livestock 4-H and FFA fair this week. It will be one of the several livestock exhibits.

NOVEL/AIRES-Appearing at the Kiwanis County Fair will be the Novel/aires, a versatile musical trio who have provided entertainment to cities across the nation. They are scheduled for three shows each on Saturday and Sunday. The Kiwanis fair will be held at the Armory from Thursday and Sunday. The Kiwanis fair will be held at the Armory from Thursday through Sunday. Other entertainers to appear will be the Borden family, the Shadows, and Miss Coddie Clark.

Entertainment Set At Kiwanis Fair Here This Week End

The Novel/aires a marimba trio who have appeared in Reno, Las Vegas and Mexico City and who have a guest spot with Ed Sullivan lined up for December, will be at the Kiwanis County Fair for a scheduled six appearances on Saturday and Sunday.

Other entertainers are scheduled to make appearances on all four days of the fair, to be held Thursday through Sunday at the Armory, and it is hoped that all groups will present "bonus" shows, in addition to those scheduled.

Also on tap for the fair are this year's "Mrs. Oregon," Mrs. Dorothy Jean Chase of Eugene, who is due to arrive Saturday morning, and the galloping grandmother of Gallipolis, Ohio, Mrs. Emma Gatewood, who is expected on Friday night.

Novel Aires Group
The Novel-aires, a versatile marimba-piano-guitar group, consist of Don Raymond, who has appeared as a single, and Aurelia Jean and Aurora Lou Routt. Jeannie Routt is choreographer.

Purebred Ewe Sale Slated at Rickreall

Dallas - The second annual Oregon Purebred Bred Ewe and Ewe Lamb sale will be held Saturday, Nov. 14 at the Polk county fairgrounds at Rickreall, according to Don Kessi of Harlan, chairman of the sale committee.

More than 200 head of purebred ewes are expected for this sale. Consignments will come from top sheep breeders from Oregon. The sale will provide an opportunity for those wishing to start in the purebred sheep business or make additions to their flocks to select top-quality ewes for this purpose.

Members of 4-H and FFA members find the sale an excellent opportunity to select breeding stock for their projects.

N. John Hansen, Polk county extension agent at Dallas, said the entries will close the end of the month. Any additional consignments by purebred breeders should be made by that time.

Ewe sale catalogs will be available in early October. Anyone wishing a catalog may send their name to the secretary, box 348, Dallas, and a catalog will be sent to them when they are released from the printers.

STUDIES TREE - Wally Skyrman, 13, member of the Central Point 4-H Forestry club, takes notes on a knob cone pine tree growing in his front yard. This is one of several varieties of trees Wally and his family have planted in their front yard to study the different kinds of trees for his 4-H project. A large forestry exhibit is on display at the Jackson county 4-H and FFA fair this week.
