Studying into the small hours is a snap in Robert Sloan's silk shirt, crushed belt and beautifully tapered velveteen slacks ($34).

goes to college by Allyn Rice

"little boy" jackets which complete school-day ensembles, and it adds luxurious elegance to tapered slacks that score high in the comfort test for home study. Since all work and no dates makes Jill a dull girl, there are lovely date dresses, also of velveteen, to round out a campus-oriented wardrobe for the college-bound gal.

The coed catching the most glances from the stag line will wear Mindy Ross' soft, chic velveteen dress ($18).

He rubbed his forehead with a tired hand.

"It's funny in our part of town. When there's a wedding, everybody expects an invitation. I expect we'll have close to 400 guests, not to mention renting the banquet room."

He sighed, but he was proud. She is a beautiful girl, his daughter. She will be a beautiful bride.

"Kids today think different than we did. I carried papers for five cents a week. Kids expect more now. You can't blame them. It's the way things are. It's not that kind of life any more. Who's to say it's better or worse?"

"There's a rich man in this town. He has more money than anybody else. He is an unhappy man, I pity him. Some day he will die and leave all that money behind him. What matter if I leave my daughter money when I die, or if I give it to her now for this wedding to make her happy?"

The father of the bride sat down among his ledgers and tugged at a strand of his gray hair.

"There's a friend of mine. He has children. And he is a wealthy man. He has given his children everything. But the children are sad children. And the parents are dissatisfied and restless.

"I guess they gave their kids all they had to give them. Except time.

"They had no time for their children." He smiled wistfully.

"No, I will never be able to give my daughter much perhaps except this wedding and all that goes with it and the memory of it for the rest of her life.

"But I love my child. And I have given her something else.

"The time to know it."

Hay Fever Patients now open Nose-Sinus Zone with New 3-Layer Tablet

Clear, free breathing restored in minutes as congested nasal zone is decongested—stops sneezing, watery, itching eyes

Chicago, Ill. (Special) Observers here are hailing a remarkable new advance against the most unrelenting misery of hay fever—congestion in the nose-sinus zone.

A way has been found to decongest this congestion. This is the central fact which has aroused so much interest on the part of hay fever sufferers who have never found satisfactory relief from other medications.

Up to now, nose drops, eye drops, inhalers, sprays and anti-histamines have given some measure of relief. But today you can expect much more complete comfort. This new compound reaches all the congested nasal areas from all sides, through the blood stream. It opens stuffed-up, blocked nasal passages. Free breathing is restored in minutes. Stops unpleasant sneezing; watery, itching eyes are cleared.

New Tablet Discovery

It took a new kind of tablet—made in three separate layers—

Listerine stops bad breath 4 times better than tooth paste!

Tooth paste is for your teeth—Listerine is for your breath. Germs in the mouth cause most bad breath, and you need an antiseptic to kill germs.

Always reach for Listerine after you brush your teeth. No tooth paste is antiseptic, so no tooth paste kills germs the way Listerine Antiseptic does... on contact, by millions.

Listerine stops bad breath four times better than toothpaste—nothing stops bad breath as effectively as the Listerine way.
