Three Local High School Students Attend Institute

Eugene - Three Medford High school students left here early Saturday after attending the 1959 Western High School Press institute, Aug. 17 to 21, on the University of Oregon campus.

Representing their high school publication, the Medford Hi-Times, were Diane Mohr, co-editor; Margaret Medlin, business manager; and Jim Frake, co-news editor.

The institute offered instruction in various phases of journalism, particularly those used on the secondary school level. Classes covered staffing, planning, writing, editing, photography, advertising, business management, and mechanical production.

Instructors for the courses were college and university faculty members, primarily from the U of O, and Oregon high school journalism teachers.

Robert Frazier, associate editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, was principal speaker at the annual WHSPI banquet Friday evening.

The conference drew over 211 high school students from the entire Western United States including Alaska and Texas.

WHSPI was produced for the third year by the Eric W. Allen School of Journalism under the direction of Dean Charles T. Duncan.

Winner of Oil Heat Contest Announced

Mrs. Mary C. McCullough, 523 1/2 Austin st., Medford, won first prize in the sixth week of the oil heat-orama limerick contest, sponsored by the Jackson County fuel oil dealers in conjunction with the Oil Heat institute of Oregon.

Mrs. Marie E. Dizney, 6 Corning court, Medford, won honorable mention. The 10-week contest ends Sept. 25.

New Armory Rates Listed by Board

The Medford Armory board recently reduced rental rates for use of the Armory, First Lt. Richard A. Greer, board recorder, has announced.

The main auditorium will be rented for $50 per day plus 5 per cent of the net proceeds, he said. Non-profit organizations may rent the auditorium for $50 per day with the additional percentage. Classrooms will rent for $5 per day, and rental of kitchen facilities will be $50.

The new rates became effective Aug. 1, the recorder said.

Board members said engineers have studied the sound problem and sent recommendations to the adjutant general's office. The board indicated that sound proofing would be completed in the near future.

Board members include First Lt. Donald M. Ivie, County Commissioner Ralph James, City Councilman Robert Van Sickle, Lt. Paul Blair, custodian, Lt. Greer, and Lt. Lyle Brown. Persons interested in securing the army may contact one of the board members.

Bicyclists Return From Caves Trip

Curtis Saltmarsh and Jerry Smith of the Medford YMCA and seven other bicyclists returned Friday from a four-day pedal-pushing trip to the Oregon Caves.

Equipped with sleeping bags, saddle bags, wrenches and tire pumps, the boys left Medford on Tuesday and proceeded via Jacksonville and the Applegate river road.

They arrived at the caves Wednesday afternoon and began the return trip Thursday. They said that they met with "wonderful" hospitality along the way.

The trip was one in a series planned by the YMCA for older boys.

Many Parents in Area Eligible for Benefits

"There are still many aged parents in this county who are eligible for social security benefits but who have failed to apply for them," Edward B. Jacobson, manager of the Medford district office of the Social Security administration, said Saturday.

"We are interested in assisting these people in filing their claims," he said.

Jacobson pointed out that recent changes in the law make it possible for dependent parents to qualify even if the deceased worker left a widow or child surviving. Parents whose claims were turned down because of this limitation may now re-apply and become entitled to monthly benefits.

Must File Proof
To be eligible, parents must, as a rule, file proof of dependency within two years of the worker's death. However, parents whose claims were denied because a wife or child survived the deceased worker, have until September, 1960, to establish their dependency. This change in the law may qualify dependents of workers who died as early as January, 1940. A parent who has established dependency may draw benefits at retirement age, 62 for women, age 65 for men. The Social Security administration urged dependent parents to contact the office immediately. The Medford social security office is located at 1005 East Main st., telephone SP 3-7348.

FOR FALL — MAKE A DRAMATIC ENTRANCE IN A GOTHE COSTUME

Through the doors of Gothe glide some of the most beautiful sheaths in the world — shaped but really shaped to do ultra-alluring things for the figure. For fall, Gothe's designers partner their sheaths with brief boleros to cover the day-to-evening whirl smartly. See how dramatically the neckline zigzags to reveal a glamorous décolletage. See how the double-breasted effect is beautifully balanced on a reed-slim skirt. Banding emphasizes the natural waist in back and rises to a flat, curved bow in front — a line that's a real waist-whittler. We suggest silk crepe, faille, satin, wool jersey, or sheer broadcloth for Printed Pattern M425 — a costume that will win you many second glances wherever you travel this fall.

Printed Pattern M425 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 dress requires three yards 39-inch fabric; bolero requires one yard.
