Nude Body of College Student Found by Police

Los Angeles—(UPI)—The nude body of an attractive University of Southern California music student was found stabbed three times late Sunday night at the foot of stairs leading to her fiance's apartment.

The fiance, G. Robert Kinzie, 27, a graduate art student at USC, was questioned by police but was not considered a suspect, according to Inspector Thomas Reddin.

"Matter of fact, we don't have an idea in the world who could have done this—friend or stranger," said Reddin. "We're just routining our way through now."

Heard Woman Screaming

Linda Edna Martin, 21, was found by two police officers called to the scene about 10 p.m. by neighbors who complained of hearing a woman screaming. Officers said they found Kinzie's apartment door open. They said they walked through and found Miss Martin's body on the back stairs.

Miss Martin was still alive but incoherent when discovered. She died several minutes later without being able to tell who attacked her.

All her clothing was found neatly hung up in Kinzie's apartment, said Redding. He said blood in the apartment indicated she was killed there, although there was no sign of a struggle.

It was undetermined whether she had been raped. Police said Miss Martin had been stabbed twice in the chest and once in the abdomen.
