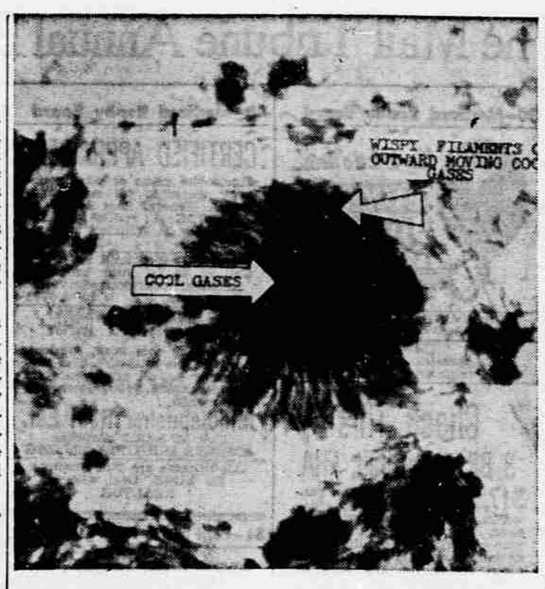
Alaska Senator Agrees To Hearing

Washington–(UPI)–Sen. E. L. Bartlett of Alaska has granted the request of Sen. Richard Neuberger (D-Ore.) that the Senate commerce fisheries subcommittee hold a hearing at Astoria this fall on issues relating to conservation of migratory salmon runs in the Pacific Northwest, Neuberger said today.

Hearings have already been scheduled at Lewiston, Idaho. Neuberger said that a bill he introduced is designed to restrain the Federal Power Commission from issuing licenses for hydroelectric development in areas where dams will impair fish and wildlife values.



SUN SPOT—This picture, presumably the sharpest ever taken of the sun, shows sun spot that produced a magnetic storm on earth Aug. 16. The photo, just released by the Office of Naval Research and the National Science Foundation, was made from a balloon 80,000-feet above the earth. Spots consist of a dark core of cool gases embedded in a strong magnetic field. The cores are surrounded by envelopes made of wispy filaments of outward moving warmer gases.

Alabama Campaign To Admit Negroes To Schools Opens

By United Press International

A Negro organization that won a much-publicized bus boycott at Montgomery, Ala., today opened a new drive to integrate classrooms.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Montgomery Improvement association, said this third year since the court victory over bus segregation in Montgomery has become the target year for class room integration.

The association, which attracted world attention to its fight for bus integration by boycotting the city buses for a year, sent out letters asking school board members to make a "reasonable start" this fall.

This made Alabama the fifth southern state to become the site of current integration drives as the fall school term openings neared. The other states were Virginia, North and South Carolina, and Florida.

Begin First Full Term

Virginia, where massive resistance to integration was the political watchword, begins its first full term of integrated classrooms Tuesday in five cities.

They are Norflok, Alexandria, Arlington, Charlottesville and Front Royal.

In North Carolina, 10-year-old Stanley Vickers plans to ask the Chapel Hill School Board tonight to reverse itself and admit him to a white school, making the college town the eighth in the state to lower its racial barriers.

South Carolina's Clarendon county, scene of a five-year-old desegregation suit, received requests of several Negroes for transfers to white schools.

A Miami school in a "changing neighborhood"–one whose population was becoming predominantly Negro for the first time – planned to admit Negroes for the first time. It was expected, however, that by opening day all white students would be transferred to other schools.

Tennessee's "stairstep" integration of schools at Nashville was being extended to the third grade.

Gov. John Patterson of Alabama said an integration attempt in his state would mean "chaos and violence."

Alabama schools are operated under a pupil placement law that has been upheld as "constitutional on its face" by the Supreme Court.

Patterson has asked the Legislature to grant him power to close any school that is integrated or threatened with integration.

Safe Driving Not Just Complying With Laws

"Safe driving is no longer a matter of merely complying with the law."

In explaining this statement Medford Chief of Police Charles P. Champlin pointed out that the volume of today's traffic demands that every driver keep in step with the traffic flow.

"The driver with the outmoded driving habits who isn't content to move at the same speed as the traffic around him is one menace to himself and all other drivers," Chief Champlin said.

The chief listed a few driving hints which hold down both accidents and blood pressure:

Be adaptable. Get the "feel" of changing traffic, road and weather conditions. Adjust your speed immediately, he advised.

Pace yourself by the traffic around you. This includes noting traffic behind through constant use of your rear-view mirrors. Don't race. Don't lag. Don't ride the bumper of the car ahead.

Take only your share of the road–in the proper place. Keep in the proper lane. Pass only when you have ample time and space to avoid cutting out and in too sharply. Signal all turns and lane changes.

"The volume of traffic is heavier than ever," Champlin concluded. "You can't beat it, so why not join it?"

A COOL GAME—It was too hot in Chicago for an indoor card game, so perspiring fathers shooed kids out of the backyard pool and took it over as unhappy youngsters watched. Annoyed children watching their dads are (left to right rear) Barry Bessert, Dawn Skittone, Beekey Bessert, Quincy Lowing and Janice Turner. Playing cards on the floating table are (left to right) Loren Lowing, Paul Skittone, Bert Bessert and Lee Turner.

Thieves Thwarted By Woman's Fist

Portland – (UPI) – Mrs. Camellia Yazzolino, 44, broke up an attempted till-tapping by two men at the store she and her husband operate by using a right to the jaw.

She told police she spotted one of two men in the store Sunday stuffing money from the cash register into the pocket while the other kept her busy at the candy counter. "She just grabbed his wrist with one hand, tock all the money from him, and let him have it with a couple of rights," her husband, Louie, said.

Police later picked up two suspects.

17 Rescued From Barge in Storm

McKinney, Tex.–(UPI)–Emergency units early today rescued 17 persons from a fishing barge set adrift on storm-tossed Lake Lavon after winds logged at 60 miles per hour ripped it loose from its moorings Sunday night.

The winds smashed up a walkway to which the barge was made fast with a cable, setting the air conditioned barge Holiday Hill adrift.

Police Officer B. L. Crumbley said the 17 fishermen aboard were marooned on the barge for more than an hour about 100 yards offshore.

Crumbley said the winds turned the barge completely around after ripping up the walkway which led to the bank at Lake Lavon. Emergency units from McKinney and Garland brought the marooned fishermen to safety in rescue boats.

Deadly Missile Sub Possible For Others

Washington–(UPI) – A scientific group has warned that many nations soon will be able to build nuclear submarines which could launch "a devasting missile attack against cities hundreds and even thousands of miles from the seacoast."

"The probability will become steadily greater in the future," the scientist said, "that an international mischief-maker will be able with immunity to initiate a nuclear holocaust."

Younger people are more often subject to headaches caused by maladjusted vision than older persons.

Restaurant Group President Succumbs

Airline Charged With Violations

Boise–(UPI)–The Federal Aviation Agency has filed charges against General Airways of Portland, Ore., in connection with the crash this year of a plane carrying Idaho Air National Guardsmen to a Texas school.

Rep. Hamer Budge (R-Idaho) said the FAA cited the non-scheduled air carrier with violating two regulations governing such flights.

He said FAA Administrator E. R. Quesada said General Airways' flight crew exceeded flight time limitations and the aircraft exceeded the takeoff weight limitations at Boise and at Pueblo.

Those killed in the plane crash were Robert Griffith, a guardsman from Ola, W. O. Epps, Portland, and Harvey Hitt, Oswego, Ore., members of the plane's crew. Epps was the pilot of the plane.
