

Bridge Tournament Held As Benefit for Roseburg

Twenty tables of duplicate bridge players turned out for a charity tournament yesterday at Girls Community club which raised money for relief work in Roseburg made necessary by the recent explosion and fire. One table of players was from the Roseburg club.

Members of the Grants Pass, Camp White, Medford and Riverside Bridge clubs all joined efforts for the event. Section A, north-south winners were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Coope, Wilderville, Ore., first, 132½; Mrs. Sam Richardson and Mrs. Frank Baker, third, 112½; Mrs. John Fisher and Mrs. L. C. McClintock, Roseburg, fourth, 112½.

Garden Club To Hold Luncheon

Medford Garden club will open the fall season Thursday, September 3, with an herb luncheon to be held at the Tally Ho dining room on Pacific Highway south near Talent. Members and guests who are desirous of transportation are asked to meet at 12 o'clock at the Jackson county courthouse. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Visitor Speaks At Club Session

Ed Cofer, North Bend, was a guest at last week's meeting of Medford Townsend club. Mr. Cofer spoke on attendance at future district council meetings, saying they are important to all Townsend clubs. D. A. Wilson, Central Point, read an article, "How to Abolish Poverty," published in the Washington, D.C. Flash.

A photo of 20 Oregon Townsend club delegates attending the national convention in Portland was displayed. Luke Stennet, Ashland, who is in his nineties, read a poem he composed over 50 years ago using the names of the 66 books of the Bible in rhyme.

Two members, Mrs. C. E. Naffziger and Ray Ahart, were honored with a birthday cake. The meeting closed with a penny march and readings; music and dancing followed.

Winners Announced In Contest

Twenty-six Medford area girls took part in the annual style show and the Singer young stylemaker contest held Friday night at the Singer company's shop, 318 East Main street. Judy Chastain, 704 North Holly street, the "teen" division for girls 14 to 17 years of age. Miss Chastain modeled a grey orlon plaid skirt, white blouse and grey weskit, and Miss Batzer's entry was a mint green skirt with white and green over-blowse. Each received a fitted sewing case.

Judges were Mrs. Helen Groves of Rath's store, Mrs. Betty Skinner, Medford dressmaker, and Mrs. William Townes, former county home extension agent. A capacity audience of relatives and friends attended.

Other girls entered in the contest were the Misses Patti Adair, Gay Howe, Kathleen Engberg, Claudia Edson, Michael Dube, Cheryl Bramhall, Katie Cook, Karen Engberg, Sarah Madden, Barbara Hampel, Darla Rehmer, Janet Gifford, Deane Medcalf, Donna Budge, Linda Nash, Nancy Van Valzah, Camille Eri, Bonnie Lowry, Joyce Hurst, Linda Hayes, Kerry O'Hara, Loretta Ayres, Karen Steinmetz and Barbara Lewis.

Commentator for the show was Mrs. Geneva Neill, sewing instructor for the company. The winning garments will now be sent away for judging in the area contest; area winners are sent to New York for the national contest.

Area winners received new model Singer sewing machines and the national teen and tween winners receive cash prizes plus trips to points of historical interest.

Play Run Ended By Footlighters; Cast Party Held

The Footlighters' production of "On the Bridge at Midnight" closed to a good crowd Saturday night after a two-week run that met with only mediocre box-office success. The amateur acting group, presenting a Centennial-style "mellow-drama," faced the competition of the county fair during its first-week performances, but attendance was reported to have increased gradually.

A cast party at the theater followed the final curtain and later moved to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Dix. Mrs. Dix appeared in the play. The Footlighters have not yet announced plans for their next play. A meeting of the group has been scheduled for this week.

In the middle of the melodrama's run, Miss Ruth Kilbourn took over the part of Mrs. Marie Pierce, who was called out of town because of her mother's illness. Robert Ford was the director of the play.

Chapter Changes Meeting Place

The meeting of Chapter BE, PEO sisterhood, originally scheduled for the home of Mrs. R. J. Keeney will be held instead at the home of Mrs. W. A. Thompson, 500 South Oakdale avenue. It is set for Tuesday, September 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Pythian Sisters To Hold Meeting

Pythian Sisters will meet Tuesday, September 1, at 8:30 p.m. for a covered dish dinner at the Pythian building. This will be the first meeting since the annual summer recess.

Bread Pudding

There's something about bread pudding that makes one think of checkered tablecloths and heavy, old-fashioned dishes. Bread pudding tastes just as good today as it ever did, but how often do we think to prepare it? For a warming winter dessert, prepare "Apricot Bread Pudding." Substitute apricot whole fruit nectar for part of the milk in the custard, for a really scrumptious bread pudding. A little grated orange rind is a fine addition, too.

Coats go to the campus straight from the horse's back. The coats are bright plaids inspired by horse blankets. They come in ponchos, short jackets, and full, belted and straight styles.

Snider's Quality DAIRY FOODS

The world famed soprano voice of Licia Albanese will be heard twice with the San Francisco Opera Co. during its Oregon Centennial season in Portland September 3-7. She will sing Mimi in "La Boheme" Sept. 4 and Cio-Cio San in "Madama Butterfly" Sept. 7.

Centennial Show Planned By Shady Cove Garden Club

Shady Cove - Shady Cove Garden club will present a Centennial Indian summer flower show and fair September 4 from 1 to 8 p.m. in the Shady Cove school gymnasium. Admission is free.

This will be a standard flower show, and the general public, as well as garden club members, are invited to enter any or all horticultural classes, and any artistic class in which they may qualify.

Entries will be accepted between 7 and 10 a.m. Any entries after these hours will be non-competitive. All horticultural entries must have been grown by the exhibitor, or have been in his possession at least three months. The garden club will furnish the containers for the horticultural entries; exhibitors must furnish container for collections.

The division for artistic arrangements will include several sections. A garden club division, junior section and an educational exhibit are included.

Many interesting entries of antiques and hobby exhibits have been promised according to Mrs. T. M. Littlefield, chairman of this feature of the show, and more are welcome. Exhibitors must furnish their own tables.

Mrs. Edwin S. Stother, general chairman of the show, is assisted by the club president, Mrs. William Shepherd. A silver tea will be served under the direction of Mrs. Delbert Spain and a committee.

Mrs. Frank Flink is entries chairman, and Mrs. Lloyd Harris is in charge of staging. Other chairmen are placement, Mrs. Shepherd; schedule, Mrs. Floyd K. Kelley; hospitality, Mrs. Scott E. Brill, juniors, Mrs. Cecil Kee; conservation and education, Mrs. O. L. Williams; judges and awards, Mrs. Edward Houston.

Flowers and foliage in artistic classes need not be Eggs and Wine

Serve hard-cooked eggs in a luscious sautee-flavored mushroom sauce on crisp toast or over baking powder biscuits. Use a little sautee along with the mayonnaise when deviling eggs for salads or relish trays. Combine quartered hard-cooked eggs with cubes of ham or turkey in a spicy burgundy-flavored tomato sauce to spoon over hot rice.

grown by exhibitor, but must be home grown. Fruits and vegetables may be purchased. The arrangement must be made by the exhibitor.

FISHING, ANYONE?

These tailored osanburg shorts and print shirt were made from cotton sacks in McCall's Pattern 4822. New wardrobes of colorful bag fashions like this one are now available to clubs for style show use from the National Cotton Council, Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tenn.

HITS THE SPOTS?

San Francisco (UPI) - A vaccine against measles in a dode from the virus that causes distemper in dogs apparently has protected most of a group of children for three years. Dr. John M. Adams, in a report to the American Academy of Pediatrics, said that in one experiment, 165 children in a California State Mental Hospital were vaccinated. When an epidemic of measles broke out, only three of the vaccinated children developed measles.

Instead of a salad for dinner, vary the menu pattern with fruit kebabs. Skewer thick banana slices, canned cling peach halves drained and cut in two, and thick orange slices. Sprinkle with lemon juice and sugar, broil about 5 minutes. Serve hot to accompany meats.

Use floor cleaning wax on youngsters' white or colored kid or calf shoes before adding more polish. The wax cleans them and eliminates powdery remains of white polish.

Grand Opera To Be Finale For Centennial

Portland - Grand finale of the 100-day Oregon Centennial anniversary celebration will be six performances of grand opera in Portland, Sept. 3-7, featuring the world-renowned, San Francisco Opera company.

Special renovations are being made to the Paramount theater for the gala birthday party. Red carpets, specially-designed floral decorations and other festive trappings, synonymous with opera in San Francisco and New York, will form the background for opera in Portland.

Dress, however, will be optional, decreed Dr. James S. Hart, chairman of the Centennial Fine Arts committee. While only days remain before the opening night curtain goes up on Dorothy Kirsten and Giorgio Tozzi in "L'Amore dei Tre Re," good seats for all performances are still available in all price ranges.

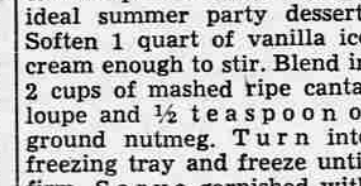

Mail reservations may be made by ordering from "San Francisco Opera company, Box 500, Portland," or from the J. K. Gill box office in Portland. First floor and dress circle seats are $8. The balcony range is $2, $4, $6.

The San Francisco Opera's Portland repertoire includes: "L'Amore dei Tre Re," September 3; Licia Albanese and Mary Costa in "La Boheme," September 4; Robert Weede and Lucine Amara in "Pagliacci" and a companion opera, "Carmina Burana" with Miss Costa and Frank Guarrera, September 5; Blanche Thebom and Miss Amara in "Orfeo ed Euridice," Sept. 6; Miss Kirsten and Tozzi in "La Boheme" for the Labor Day matinee, September 7; Miss Albanese in "Madama Butterfly," September 7 evening performance.

SPICE THE MELON New York (UPI)-Spiced fresh cantaloupe ice cream is an ideal summer party dessert. Soften 1 quart of vanilla ice cream enough to stir. Blend in 2 cups of mashed ripe cantaloupe and 1/2 teaspoon of ground nutmeg. Turn into freezing tray and freeze until firm. Serve garnished with cantaloupe balls and fresh mint leaves. Serves 10 to 12.

Carrot-Coconut Salad Mix 2 cups grated raw carrots and 1/2 cup shredded coconut with enough mayonnaise to moisten. Serve on iceberg lettuce or mixed greens. Top with cubes of golden pineapple, 1/2 cup unpeeled apple or some canned whole jellied cranberries.

Evening Elegance - It's hard to believe that this glamorous evening gown is made from cotton flour sacks. The pattern, originally designed for the 1939 Miss America, is McCall's 4870. For information of cotton bag fashions for style show use, write the National Cotton Council, Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tenn.

Small cambric or muslin sacks are handy for sewing blouses, shirts, petticoats, and many other garments. Or use several dyed in luscious ice-cream shades of strawberry pink, lemon yellow, or mint green for children's dresses. It's simple to prepare a bag for sewing. Just turn it inside out and unravel the chain-stitched seam. Then soak it in warm, soapy water to remove the brand label. A 100-pound feed or flour sack will provide about a yard and a third of fabric.

Vividly illustrating the fashion possibilities of cotton bags are new loan wardrobes available to women's clubs and organizations for style show use. Each collection contains children's wear, play clothes, tailored outfits, and dressy frocks made from the latest McCall's patterns. Information on borrowing them may be obtained from the National Cotton Council, P.O. Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tennessee.

Feed, Flour Sacks Good For Dresses, Sportswear

You can have attractive apparel without a "sky-the-limit" bank account if you're lucky enough to live in an area where feed, flour and other commodities are sold in cotton bags. Using print containers as sewing fabric will enable you to make several outfits at little cost. And because manufacturers remember the woman who sews when they select designs and colors, your 1959-style "sack" dresses will be fashionable as well as economical.

This year's bag fabrics include brilliant, one-dimensional floral prints in lush, intense shades of coral, geranium, and turquoise, tailored stripes, crisp, fresh checks, impressionistic water-color prints, and many other striking patterns. From the array of designs available, you can stitch up anything from a smart shirtwaist dress to a sophisticated party frock. The possibilities are limited only by time, energy, and imagination.

Plain containers provide useful sewing fabric, too. Bags made from osanburg, a loosely-woven fabric that's first cousin to hopsacking, are especially appropriate for shorts, pedal pushers, and other sportswear. This material also is effective when combined with a harmonizing print-in a dress-and-redingote or shirt-and-shorts ensemble, for example. In some localities, feed is being packaged in gold, burgandy, and green-dyed osanburg as well as in the more widely-used beige tones.

William Holden Going To Europe

Hollywood (UPI)-Actor William Holden and his family will spend the next three years living in Europe where the film star has a full schedule of motion picture assignments waiting.

Holden, before leaving by jet for Switzerland Saturday with his wife, Brenda Marshall, and their sons, Wes, 15, and Scott, 13, denied their European residence had anything to do with avoiding U.S. income taxes.

"We are taking up residence in Switzerland because of my film commitments in Europe and not necessarily because of high income taxes," he said. He added he has four films planned in Europe for the next three years and that commuting between the U.S. and Europe would be impractical.

Holifield Attending National Academy

Robert W. Holifield, son of Mrs. Hazel Holifield, Old Stage rd., is attending the 64th session of the FBI National academy, which began Aug. 17 in Washington, D. C. Holifield, a 13-year resident of Alaska, has been with the territorial and state police since 1953. The last four years he has been stationed in Haines, Alaska. Prior to that he served in Anchorage.

Mrs. Holifield and family are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Huse McKinney, until November when she will leave for Washington to attend the graduation.

How the New Law Affects You

You are now protected by a new Oregon State Law against buying chicken of unknown origin. This law is beneficial to you because it requires all fryers, broilers, and fryer-roasters (packaged or unpackaged) sold or displayed to carry a printed label indicating where the chicken was grown.

When you see the label "this fryer grown in Oregon," you know it's the finest, freshest fryer grown. Oregon-Grown fryers are "miles fresher" when you buy "em - "days fresher" when you eat 'em. Ask for and get Home-Grown fryers in your shopping cart and you'll be putting better eating on the table. Look for the label "This Fryer Grown in Oregon" ... it's your guarantee of quality, freshness and flavor.
