

Let's Play Conkers!

Theodore J. Kleinhans

Boys in England play a game with horse chestnuts, which they call "conkers." It takes two to play. Collect a few chestnuts and borrow a large mending needle from your mother. Run the needle carefully through the chestnut (sometimes called "buckeye") and pull a strong string after it with a big knot to keep the nut from sliding off. Wrap the string around your hand till there are about six inches left above the chestnut. Your partner does the same and you stand facing each other. You take turns trying to hit the other's chestnut by swinging at it. Sooner or later you'll score a direct hit and one of the nuts will fly into a million pieces. The skill is in the timing, a good eye and a steady hand.

For these you can use small match boxes obtainable in stationery stores. With pinking shears, you can cut out a piece of felt to cover the top of the match box. You can cut out a tree from felt of a different color and stitch various colored sequins on it, stitching the tree to a piece of felt at the same time. Then you can attach it to the match box with rubber glue.

Card symbols can be made of colored felt and secured to a white background with rubber cement. Then attach the decorated felt to the box.

These are only a few ideas. You can make your own designs, using sequins and beads for decoration.

Secret Notes!

Soak a piece of paper in water. Then put a dry piece of paper over it. Now write a special message on the top sheet. Use a hard pencil that presses into the paper. Allow the wet one to dry. It becomes blank, but if you wet it again those pressure marks show what you wrote. A secret note!

Hay Fever Patients now open Nose-Sinus Zone with New 3-Layer Tablet

Clear, free breathing restored in minutes as congested nasal zone is decongested—stops sneezing, watery, itching eyes

Chicago, Ill. (Special) Observers here are hailing a remarkable new advance against the most unrelenting misery of hay fever—congestion in the nose-sinus zone.

A way has been found to decongest this congestion. This is the central fact which has aroused so much interest on the part of hay fever sufferers who have never found satisfactory relief from other medications.

Up to now, nose drops, eye drops, inhalers, sprays and antihistamines have given some measure of relief. But today you can expect much more complete comfort. This new compound reaches all the congested nasal areas from all sides, through the blood stream. It opens stuffed-up, blocked nasal passages. Free breathing is restored in minutes. Stops unpleasant sneezing; watery, itching eyes are cleared.

New Tablet Discovery

It took a new kind of tablet—made in three separate layers—to combine the special ingredients which make this formula so amazingly effective. Among them is a new decongestant substance so effective it has become the single ingredient most prescribed by doctors for relief of congestion in the nose-sinus area.

Available without Prescription

Now available without prescription—this new 3-layer tablet is called Dristan®. Its unique combination of ingredients—(1) opens up blocked breathing, (2) stops unpleasant sneezing, (3) clears red, watery, itching eyes. At the same time, Dristan helps the body meet the great demands put upon it by the stress and strain of hay fever, and bolsters the body's resistance to infection.

Hay fever sufferers who want faster, more complete relief than they have ever before obtained are advised to try Dristan Decongestant Tablets—satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.
